THIS VOLUME

IS,

WITH HIS LORDSHIP'S KIND PERMISSION,

MOST RESPECTFULLY INSCRIBED.

PREFACE.

PRIOR to the dissolution of monasteries, the town of Bury St. Edmund's being exempt from the jurisdiction of the Bishop of Norwich, within whose diocese it was locally situate, the wills of the burgesses were proved before the Sacrist of the monastery of St. Edmund; but, on the passing of the Act 31 Hen. VIII. c. 13, confirming the surrender of religious houses to the king, the town became subject directly to the Bishop. Remaining, however, exempt from the jurisdiction of the Archdeacon, the episcopal authority was deputed to a Commissary, in whose court the wills of persons deceasing in Bury were proved till the year 1844, when, by an Order in Council issued under the powers of the Act 6 and 7 Will. IV. c. 77, the town was declared to form part of the Archdeaconry of Sudbury, which, in 1837, by Order in Council, had been taken from the diocese of Norwich and made part of that of Ely.

The registers of the Commissary and of the Archdeacon are preserved in one and the same court at Bury St. Edmund's. The "Bury Wills," proved before the Sacrist, commencing with the year 1354 and ending with 1566, are preserved in seven books, entitled—

Osberne	1354—1442	Hood	1514—1530
Hawlee	1443—1482	Hollond	1530—1540
Pye	1491—1509	Sunday	1550—1566
Mason	1510—1513

Those known as "Country Wills," proved in the court of the Archdeacon, are contained in the following volumes (the first six of which have no indexes):—

Baldwyne	1439—1474	Buxton	1551—1553
Hervey	1473—1490	Woode	1552 & 1553
Fuller	1479—1525	Markes	1554 & 1555
Boner	1483—1517	More	1556
Newton	1517—1526	Dooe	1557
Johnson	1519—1528	Bell	1558
Kyrbycane	1500—1533	Sparrowe	1559
Brydon	1520—1527	Paynter	1560
Brett	1529—1538	Baker	1561
Longe *	1530—1540	Woode †	1562 & 1563
Poope	1537—1541	Arnolde	1564—1567
Colman	1541	Peade	1568 & 1569
Cole	1540—1550

In the following books the wills of residents in Bury are registered with those of the archdeaconry:—

Aldrich	1570	Everston	1611—1613
Hum	1570 & 1571	Steven	1614 & 1615
Large	1572 & 1573	Legate	1616 & 1617
Wroo	1574—1578	Gibson	1618 & 1619
Browne	1579—1582	Harrold	1620—1623
Frende	1583—1585	Pearle	1624—1626
Bright	1586 & 1587	Mason	1627—1629
Goddard	1588—1590	Corner	1630
Bacon	1591—1594	Colman	1631—1635
Blomfield	1595—1597	Gael	1636—1638
Whiting	1598—1601	Muriell	1639—1642
Coppinge	1600—1605	Meadows	1643—1647
Strutt	1606—1608	Ashton, pars I.	1648—1652
Roger	1609—1611

* This volume contains some Bury Wills.

† Wills of the years 1552 and 1553 are also registered in this book.

No entries are made between the years 1652 and 1660; which is thus accounted for in one of the indexes:—

“Cætera ab hoc anno desiderantur testamenta; cæpit jam Cromwelli vsurpatoris istius ambitio rabide sævire, cujus sub vexillo grassabantur vndiq; seditio, violentia, rebellio, sacrilegiū, Et (quod horrendum dictu est) Regicidium. Hinc sequuta sunt, confusio in ecclesia, in republica militum insolentia, in parochijs factio, in familijs Atheismus. Et plebs miserrima cum maximo suo damno et detrimento apud (nescio quæ tribunalia Londinensia) ad Cromwelli libitum, coacta est se sistere ad testamenta proband.”

The Restoration of Charles the Second and the resumption of the registrar’s duties is also entered.

“Tandem misertus est tribulaçõum nostrarū Deus, et illuxit auspiciatissim^o ille dies: vicesimus nonus Maij, anno incarnaçõis Christi 1660:

“Quo die serenissimus noster Rex Carolus Secundus defensor fidei, assertor libertatis, postliminio redijt, cujus fælucissimo adventu et ecclesia religionem et ordinem suum, respublica leges et libertatem suam recuperavit: Et nos denuo ad officiū ñrum registrale cum Deo revertimus; Vnde licitum est sine timore sequestratorū, proditorū, regicidarū, seditiosorumq; homicidarū qui tam nefariè in hoc regno nuper sæviebant, et in contemptū eorū omniū in modum sequen̄ subscribere.

No^{rius} Pub^{cus} } Reçrarius.”

To facilitate further researches into these registers it may be useful to give a list of the several towns and parishes within the archdeaconry of Sudbury:—

N.B. The two parishes in Bury St. Edmund's are peculiar to the Commissary of the said archdeaconry.

The selection of wills forming the present volume has been made more with a view to illustrate the peculiar customs and language of the period than the topology or genealogy of the district.

To the late and present Deputy Registrars of the Court—P. J. Case, Esq. John Greene, Esq. and Charles Wodehouse, Esq. the Camden Society is especially indebted for permitting the Editor to have the freest access to the registers under their care, and for allowing the transcripts to be made.

To Albert Way, Esq. and John Gough Nichols, Esq. the Editor is under the greatest obligations. Both gentlemen kindly revised the notes, freely offered their suggestions, and gave him the most valuable information.

Iſm eche colet, dekne, and subdekne, and parish or [ward ?] clerc, ij đ. a p̄sone and eche chyld that hath a surplys a j đ. Iŕm I wyll that Mais^r Thomas Harlowe sey the sermon at my interment, if he wochesaft, and he to have vj š. viij đ. to prey for me. And if he may not do it, be his avyce anothir to be chose at Cambridge to make the sermon and to have y^e seid nobill and alle here costez payd fore. Iŕ I will no comown dole haue, but on the evyn myn solempne dirige shalbe kept eche pore man and eche pore womã beyng there haue j đ. to prey for me, and ij. chyldren j đ., to be delyd after the discreõn of my executours, and the same day be forn noñ eche bedred man and womã that can be fowunde within [fol. 96] Bury haue ij đ. to prey for my soule. Iŕm I wille the presoneris in the Gayle haue o day brede, mete, and drynkke, and eche p̄sone j đ., and the keperes to haue ij đ. Iŕm I wille that eche laseer of man and womã or child within Bury haue ij đ. and a loof of brede and halpeny. Iŕm I wille haue at myn interment at my diryge and messe v. men clade in blak in wurshippe of J̄hus v. woundys and v. wommen clad in whith in wurshippe of oure ladyes fyve joyes, eche of them holdyng a torche of clene vexe, the ovenser of my place kepe y^e vex y^t lewynt for a stoke to fynde yerly ij. taperis lyght suyche tyme as folwith aftyr in wryting. Iŕm I wille eche pore man and pore womman clad in blak and white, holdyng y^e wex haue ij đ. and here mete. Iŕ I wele the ij bellemen haue ij. gownys and be ij. of y^e fyve to holde torches and ij đ. and here mete, and y^e Sexteyn of y^e chirche to haue brede and drynkke and xij đ. for his rynggyng and his mete. Iŕm I wele m̄y executours, my kynrede, my frendys, and my ſuaunt^e haue gownys of blak as many as ben expressyd be name in this my seid wille, and if m̄y executours wille adde any moo thereto I graunte hem fulle pover. Iŕ I wille y^t on the day of m̄y intirment be songge a messe of prikked song at Seynt Marie auter in wurshippe of oure lady at vij. of y^e klokke be the morve or sone aftir, y^t y^e messe of requiem may begynne forthwith whan y^t is doo, to spede the tyme for y^e sarmon, and y^t my kynrede and executours offre at y^e said messe of oure lady; the wiche messe of oure lady I wille the Seynt Marie preest kepe in a whith vestement wiche is redy made ageyn y^t tyme, bought and payd fore, with a remembraunce of my armys and my reson therto, Grace me gouverne, and I wele haue anothir vestement made of white busteyn and my clot of gold to go y^oto. For what day God fortune y^t I desese y^t day eche wyke in y^e year I wille Seynt Marie preest sey or do seye a messe of oure lady at Seynt Marie avter in y^e seyde vestement, and aft^r the gospel to stonde at y^e awter is ende and reherse Joĥn Baretys name opynly, seying De profundis for me, for my fader and my moð, and for alle crysten sowlys, and to haue mynde on vs and on Edmond Tabour in his memento, and aft^r the seid messe to sey a memorie of requiem for vs and for alle cristen sowlys, and y^e seid Seynt Marie preest yeerly to haue a revarde therefore; and if the office of Seynt Marie preest fayle, as God defende, than I wille the parishe preest haue as moche, and to do as y^e seid Seynt Marye preest shulde do accordyng to my wille as is expressid by wourdys y^t folwyn aftyr be wrytyng; wher vpon I wille y^e seid Seynt Marie preest be gynne on the day of my interment with a messe be note, seying De profundis aftir the gospell, rehersyng my name with a memorye of requiem, as is rehersid afore, and he to haue y^e same day vj s. viij ð. onward for y^t folwyng, y^t tyme twelve monyth another nobill, and so yeerly ij. noblys as folwith in wrytyng, and he to be chargyd with no mo messys be note but the day of m^y internement and a messe of oure lady eche wykke after withoute note, and to sey De profundis after the gospel with my name rehersid, as is seid be fore. Ifm I wille y^t eche man y^t synggit prykked songe on y^e day of my enterment at oure ladyes messe haue ij ð. and y^e pleyers at y^e orgenys ij ð. and eche child j ð. and y^t yei preyid to dyner the same day. If I wille the Alderman, Burgeys, gentilmen, and gentilwomm^e haue a [fol. 96^b] dyner the same day that I am enterid, with other folkes of wourshippe, preests, and good frendys, and also my tenawunts, to wiche I am moche be holde to do for hem alle, for they haue be to me ryght gentil and good at alle tymes, and therefore I wyl eche of hem alle haue iiij d. to drynкке whanne they pay her ferme. If such psonys as my executours wylle bydde to dyner be syde I fully cōmytte it vnto there discreçon. If for asmoche as I levyd wele euyñ I wyl they haue j now, and that they fayle noon at my dirige ne at mete. If I wille y^t there be wretyn on y^e fore part of iren abowte my graue soone aftyr my dissees these vers, Sis testis xp'e tumulus non hic manet iste Corpus vt ornetur sed sp'us ut memoretur. And in sum cōuenient place by, the day and the year of oure lord of my departyng frō this wourld and the pardon the wiche I purchased to be wreten therew^t. If the bulle and the busshoppees seelys the wiche I get be set in a loker of burde for brekyng of the seelys and curyd ovir aⁿ a loker on the syde ageyn the plombe of lede, y^t it may be redde and knowe to exorte the pepill rathere to prey for me. If I yeve and be qwethe x. marks to the peyntyng rerdoos and table at Seynt Marie avter of the story of Magnific^t, that in caas be y^e awter be seet aftir my entent, as is wretyn aftyr. And in the enner part of y^e lowkys w'jñne there be wreten the balladys I made therefore, and the pardon wretē there also, with other thinges wiche I graunte to Seynt Marye preest, his chargees and his rewardys expressyd as folwith aftyr in wrytyng, that here aftyr it may be knowe for an eyuence in the seid tabyll there to be fowunde in wrytyng. If I wil that the ymage of oure lady that Robert Pygot peynted be set vp ageyn the peleer next y^e pcloos of Seynt Marie awter with the baas redy therto and a hovel with pleyn sydes comyng down to the baas, and in the myddes of the baas my candylstykke of laten with a pyke to be set afore a tapir I haue assygned vnto y^e v. taperes longgyng to the natyvite gyldre wiche stant alofte be fore the aungelys, with chymes to be sette abowte our lady at the peler. If I wille y^t John Elys serche sewrly and owyr se the chymes at Seynt Marie aw^t, and the chymes in y^e stepyll, therto make a newe barell wiche is redy, and to make plvmbys of leed and newe lynes and ropys and alle thing sewr that longith therto, and substancyaly wrought to endure. And I require my executours to spare for no coste that this be doo, and that they reward so the seid John Elys for his labour that he be plesid and content. If I wille there be made a goodly newe crowne of metal gylyte, or ellys wel doo in tymbyr, for the ymage of oure lady in the housyng of y^e rerdoos of Seynt Marie awt, and iij. merours of glas to be sette in the myddys of y^e iij. woyte; above my grave, wiche be redy with my other glasys and dyuerse rolles with scripture, as Henry Peyntour can sette hem there they shalle stonde. If I wylle the welle werke afore my place be reparid neve with the drawth and the stoon werk be made sewr. If I wil y^t myn executours, be the avys of Thomas Ide, do make ovyr such a werke of tymbyr [fol. 97] with iiij. postys and a cros as is at Eye, or ellys bettyr, substancyally and wilkeverid to endure, and no grettere coste than nedith, and to considre other charges. If I wil y^t my newe hous with the iij. tūnys of chemeneyis with in the yeer aftir my disses be deseverid and ptyd froom the hefd place vndir this foorme folwyng: I wil the entre w^t the stoon wal be the strete syde longe to y^e neve hous as ferre as the chymeneys stretchith, and a deseuerance maad of stoon wal ovir the entre, to parte the lital botrie vndir the gresys, to longe to the plour wiche is redy maad; and also deseverid with a walle of tymbyr fro the hefd place be an entre maad out of the spynnyng hous. Ifm to close in a good walle y^e dore y^t is out of y^e plour into y^e spynnyng hous, wiche spynnyng hous I wille eue^r longe to my hefd place and the drawt chambyr above y^e spynnyng hous therto. If I wil that y^e newe prevy hous ovir the synkke be the dore in to the yeerd ward next the Facown wel closid and keverid to serve for the plour and chambir a lofte, and so the seid plour and chambyr a lofte with y^e prevy and the closet a lofte to go evere to gidre hool vndir this forme, as folwith in wryting: that is to seye, I wille my feffees and my attornees put Seynt Marie preest of Seynt Marie chirche in possession of my seid hous with the chemene of ij. tūnys next the facon with the apporten^ance longgyng therto, as is rehersid be fore, as soone after myn interment as may goodly be doo in reue-rence of God and oure lady, he to haue it to hym and his successours in the seid office for ever, if it can be made sewr be conseyl and with cost of my goods as my executours shal puyde the menys therfore; and as I declare a part onward in this my seid wille after my sympil conceyt; the seid Seynt Marie preest and his successours to haue the seid place with a pençon yeerly be syde, as is exp^ssyd in this wryting, so y^t he pforme and fulfille diūse thinges as is rehersid be fore and as folwith aftyr in wryting, he to prey for my soule at eu^y meel, mete, or sopeer, and yif he gynne gracys and sey De profundis, he to reherse my name, John Baret, opynly, that they y^t here it may sey, God haue mercy on his soule, wiche greetly may releve me with here devout preyours. If I wil that the seid Seynt Marie preest ne his successours shal not lete to ferme the seid place to no man nor womā, weddyd ne onweddyd, but he and his successours to logge there. Ifm and if Seynt Marie preest of Seynt James chirche wil sey a messe oonys in y^e wykke and af^l the gospeel to reherse my name opynly with De profundis for my soule, he to haue the plour benethe ffre to his awaylle, partyd a tresounce, and ellys the tothir to do there with as wel as he can, eue^r puydyng y^t he repare the seid place and kepe it drye alofte, and wysly to be ware of feer, that God and oure lady pserue saue it from alle man^o of hurt. If I wil y^t my neve hous with the appvrten^ance wiche I haue assigned to the Seynt Marie preest pay yeerly ij ſ. at my yeerday of rente to my hefd place and to the owneer therof, and no more rente [fol. 97^b] to no man as for that part. And the seid hefd place, or whoo that occupyeth it, to paye the hool rente as hath be payd be fore, and to a qwyte the said Seynt Marie preest of the taske Abbott's cope, and alle man^o charges gen^oally at ony [time] askyd by ony man^o of mene. And on a condiçon y^t he that owith my hefd place do this, and diligently and effectually take hede to the seid Seynt Marie preest and to his successours that my will be executyd and pformyd yeerly as I haue assignyd to be do, and also that dewly and yeerly he fynde ij. tapris of vax, oon right ovir my graue, anothis be fore the ymage of oure lady at the pelir, and bothe taprys to be light o day eche wyke in the yeer such tyme as the preest seyth messe of oure lady for me, and the same tapris to be light at dirige and messe eche yeer at my yeerday, at wich yeerday I wylle the owener of my place pay eche yeer viij d. to the resurreccion gilde that viij d. taperis may be light at the dirige and messe the same tyme. And this do, the owener of my place to haue my corneff hous in the Cookrowe, and vij s. of rente that y^e petauncere payeth me. Iſm I will y^t Jenete Whitwelle, my nece, haue hir dwellyng in a part of my hefd place terme of hire lyffe, that is to sey:--I will y^t she chese if sche will haue the chambyr y^t she hath loyn in, w^t the drawght chambyr therto, or ellys the chambyr abovyn the kechene, with the drawgth chambyr longyng therto, with the esement of the prevy longgyng thereto. And I will she haue hire liberte at alle leffull tymes to go in to the chapell to seye hire devocyons, in caas be y^t she chese the seid chambyr above the kechene, and if she chese that she to haue the storehous therto to lye in hire stuffe, and so alle y^t severell to hire self terme of hire liff, and she to leve the chambyr she hath loyn in, wich I will and this be doo remayne to y^t hefd place. It' I wille the seid Jenete terme of hire lyff haue hire liberte of fre owth goyng and in comyng at the gate be the strete syde, and as welle at y^e doore be the lane syde at alle lefull tymes, and esement of the kechene to make in hire mete, and esement of the welle in y^e yeerd, and esement of the prevy in the same yeerd. And she to haue a keye of the grete gardeyn gate, to go in whan she wille, and hire suaũth and what ffrende she wille calle to hire, and a place of the gardeyn assigned to hire for herbys and for woode to lye in. And anoon aftir my interment I wille my executours delyue hire certeyne stuffe of ostilment that I be qwethe hire; that is to seye, my grene hanggyd bedde steynynd with my armys ther in that hanggith in the chambyr ovir kechene, with the curtynez, the grene keveryng longyng therto; another cou^llyte, ij. blanketts, ij. peyre of good shetç, the trampsõn, the costerys of y^t chambyr, and of y^e drawgth chambyr next, tho that be of y^e same soort, a greet pilve and a smal pilve, the fethirbeed is hire owne y^t hire maistresse gaf hire at London, and a basyn and an ever of laten cownterfet therto, and more stuff I haue not occupyed of hirs. If I wille she haue a long narevh table of Esterych burde w^t ij. trestelys, j. pleyn boord-cloth, j. shorth washyng towayle, vj. napkyns. If my flat pece enchased [fol. 98] to make with a saltsaler of sylver, the grettere hol basyn of ij. smale basynes, ij. lowe candylstikke; of a sorth, and the rowndde table, terme of hire liff, and aftyr remayne to the owenner of my place. If a chayer, iij. footyd stoolys, iij. of the cushonys in the parlour, and iiij. of the olde grene kushownes that lyn in hire chambyr, withe the costerys old grene wonostede, withe the grene testir and grene keveryng therto, wiche been hire owne. And I yeve here the selo^r and the steynyd clooth of the Coronaçõn of oure lady, with the clothes of m^y that longe to y^e bedde that she hath loyen in, and the beddyng in the draugh chambyr for hire s^uauanth to lyn in; and a banker of grene and red lying in hire chambyr with the longe chayer; and a stondyng coffre and a long coffre in the drawth chambyr. And as for the prews coffre alwey I wille remayne to my hefd place and iij. of y^e fotyd stolys therto. If I wille that Jenette my nece haue ij. ale stondys, a greet erthin potte y^t was my moderis, vj. trenchowrs, a doseyn plateris, viij. dysshes, and viij. sawsers of old vessell, and a chargeour of the myldel syse. If a potel pot and a quart pot of pew^t, ij. smale spetez, oon of hem for birdes, a droppying panne, j. bras pot, a chetill, a panne, a litell chafour with a beyl and a lyd of laton, a mortar, a trewd, a gredyle, a peyre tongys, and a peyre belwys, a litil ladyll of laton, the boord clothes to the rownd table, ij. stondyng cuppys of erthe the toon keverid, a barell with wergoys, and a botel for wynne. Ifm I receyvyd xx. marke of Isabel Bussy's executours, wiche was the seid Jenette maystresse of London, and y^e seid executours charged me to putte it to noon othir vse, but oonly to hire maryage, of wiche xx. marke I haue payid to the seid Jenete v. marke, in p^sence of Thomais Drury delyu^oed to the seid Jenete; and so ther remeynyth x. li. wiche I wil she haue, and x. marke of m^y goods in mony therto such tyme as my executours may contente it with the siluir that they shal receyve for such goods of m^y as shalle be sold. Also I geve and be qwethe to Will^am Baret, sone onto Jeffrey Baret of Cratfeld, my neve, m^y hefd place, othir wyse callyd a mesuage, wiche I dwellyd in, with the gardynes, berne, and duffous that I purchasid therto, except the partys and dyuerse pcellys therof wiche I have assignyd as is expressid in this wrytyng, and xij s. of white rente wiche Robert Nunstedes place payid yeerly. I be qwethe to the owener of the seid place I dwellyd in the seid rente of xij s. If I wil my executours soone aft^r my decees, be good avys, delyu^oe or do delyu^oe v^{xx} acres and xij of lond, in the Westegatefeld a part, and sum in Mekilhornnyngiserd, Litolhornnyngiserd, and Westele, wiche v^{xx} and xij. acrys of lond I wil Will^am Baret haue with the hefd place and white rente above wretyn, to hym and to his eyris male lawfully be gotyn of his body, beryng yeerly dyuerse charges according to y^e seid wrytyng and vndir diu^ose condy^onyys that he stonde welle and cler in the kyngge; grace, and be gentyl to my executours, and in my wil fulfylling; and he be obstinat or froward I wil he haue noon of all, but that m^y executours set John his brothir, he to haue as Will^am shuld haue, to hym and to his eyr male, and though Will^am rewle h^y to haue it and his yssew male, for defawte of hem I wille y^e seid John meryte next; and for the defawte of eyr male of the seid John, than Robert his brother and his [fol. 98^b] eyrys male to haue it; and for defawte of eyr male of the seid Robert, than Tho^m Baret, brothir to y^e seid John and Robert, to haue it, to hym and to his eyris male; and for defawte of eyr male of the seid Thomas than wil I John the sone of Robert Baret my neve haue it, to hym and his eyrys male; and for defawte of issew male of the seid John, than to his oldest brother and his issew male; and so fro oon to anothis as longe as ony yssew male be comyn of the said Robert Baret, my neve.

And for defawte of yssew male of the seid Robert than I wil John Baret, sone of old Jeffrey Baret of Cratfield, dwellyng w^t the Abbot of Seynt Benyghtys, haue it, to hym and to his eyres male as longe as they laste. But I wil that in no wyse noon ydiot nor fool occupye the seid goods, but refuse hym and take anothis that is next, .[that] the seid name of Baret may contynwe goodly as longe as God wochesaffe. If I yeve and be qwethe to the seid Will^am Baret, and to alle tho that shul succede hym to be occupyers of my hefd place, my lowe chased pece of silvir, with a barnagge in the preente of the botme and with owtyn any cou^otil, myn ij. stondyng pecys of silvir chasid with a cou^otil oon of hem, a doseyn of my beste sponys, my ij. salt salers of silvir chased and oon of heem keverid. And my litel salt saler of silver Jenete my nece to haue it terme of hir lif, and aftir to remaigne to the occupere of my hefd place whoo so occupye for the tyme. If the seid Will^am and thei shal succede hym to have iij. candelstykkes of laton whervpon is wretyn Grace me governe, with the clothes in the halle, costers of chambrys, alle the steyned clothes w^t ymages, and othis consceytes longyng to the seid place, with tablys, tres-telys, cuppeburd bankers, kusshones, and alle the bankers, except tho I have assigned to othis, with al my napry, sillours, testers, curteynes, and keveryng of beddis, with fethirbedds, trampsownys, pilves, shetys, blankettys, potts of pew^ot, basynes, everys, potts of bras, pannys, pew^ot vessell, cofferys, and tubbes, wid alle othis ostilmentys gen^oally, except that I have assigned and put in the reule and assigment of my executours as thei aftir here discrecion wil revarde suych psonys as I remembre in this my seid wil be name, and if ony other be that thei thynke haue disservyd a reward wich comyth not to my mynde I grawunte hem ful power to do it as though I did my self; providyng alvey that who so eue^r occupye, be it Will^am Baret or ony that shal succede to haue my hefd place, londe, and rente as I have assigned, that thei make an oth and be sworn be fore the Sexteyn of Bury, and also fynde sufficient sewrte bownde be obligacion to my lord of Bury who so be for the tyme, to y^e Secristeyn, and to the Priour of Dusgylde, the aldirman to be callyd to, and sum thrifty [fol. 99] man of seynt Marie paryssh to be at the selyng, wich obligaçon must be maad at eu^y alyenaçon in a notable sūme that my wil of yeerly chargys as is rehersed in this wrytyng shall dewly and trewly be kept and pformyd. And for defawte of eyr male of the seid Baretty's I wille my seid hefd place, rente, and londe remaygne to the yssew male comyng of Thoñ Drury and Kateryne my nece, with an oth and a sufficient sewrte take be obligaçon as is rehersed afore that the charges shalbe born and payid be hem yeerly accordyng to this my seid wil. And if noon yssew male be neyther of Baretty's nor of Druryes, I wille thanne the Sexteyn of Bury and the Pⁱour of Dusgylde, w^t helpe and avys of the Aldirman with a nothir man of wourshepe of Seynt Marie parysh, make a sale of m^y seid hefd place with alle pcellys, howsyng, lond, and rente, to such a man as wille bey it to hym and to his eyres male, and no ferthere, he to be sworn and to fynde sufficient sewrte bownde be obligaçon to my lord Abbot of Bury, who so be for the tyme, that he shal yeerly paye or do paye all the pencyowns and borñ all the charges as it is wretyn in this my seid wil, paying therfore xx li. and no more; p^ydyed eue^r that he be bowunde to repaçon; and if he deye with owten yssew male, to be sold to anothir that wille take it vpon hym the same charges and paye xx li. and so fro oon to anothir. And for defawte of yssew male to be alienyd and sold w^t outen ende fre for the sūme of xx^{li} as ofte as it fallith, wiche xx li. I wil as ofte as it is payid be devyded on this ptys; o part to the repaçon of Seynt Marie awter, to the chymes at the same aw^t, and to the chymes in Seynt Marie stepill, and the secunde part to the repaçon of m^y hous Seynt Marie preest shal haue, and to the repaçon of the Cros be fore my place, and to the repaçon of the Risbigate, and to othir werkys that I haue assignyd to be maad in diu^se places. And if there nede ony more helpe to the seid werke; than take sūme of the thridde part of xx li. and ellys to be disposid in other almesse deeds as may be most to the pléser of Almighty God. Iſm I wil in alle maters rehersid before with other folwyng that m̄y executours comowñ w^t Will^am Jeney, if he vowchesauf, w^t a wys of Heydon, and to yonge Thomas Heigh^am, to wich psonys I haue spoke to in the seid matere. And if thei wil consente I wolde the londe, howsyng, and rente shulde reste in xij. or xvj. feffees handys, that if my wil be nat devly executyd in eche part, they to haue pover to distreyne, whervpon I wil my executours take here avys and be here counseyll and such other as they wil calle to hem to examyne alle the seid materis, vndirstonde and comowne alle the dowyngs and peyls therof, and be there awysem^t [fol. 99^b] and discreçõn to fynde remedyes and weyes as by there wittes may be fowunde moost sewr in the lawe ppetuelly to endure. And the seid Will^am Jeney, Heydon, and yong Thomas Heigh^am to be rewardid be m̄y executours in such wyse that they holde hem plesid. And so alle thinges to be ingrosed vp by ther avys that noon interrupçõn falle aftir to hurte any part of my seid wil. These been the charges that I, Will^am Baret, or John Baret, or ony that shal succede hem to occupye my hefd place with the pcellys therto, shal yeerly kepe my yeerday, and with avys of the parysh preest, p'our of Dusgyld, and Seynt Marie preest to purveye v othir preests to hem, so there be viij. preests in all, they to kepe a dirige be noote and a messe of Requiem be note, and aftyr the messe the parysh preest, p'our of Dusgyld, and Seynt Marie preest, eche of hem to haue vj ð. and eche of the tothir v preests iiij ð., and ech parish clerck ij ð. : this mony not to be delyuerid to noon of hem tyl the messe of Requiem be endyd. Iſm the seid preests to haue j ð. oð. to offre at the messe, and the occupyere of my hefd place to prey the aldyrman with a nothir wurshipfulman with other to offre j ð., and the aldirman dye of Candilmesse gyld oð., and the aldirman of Bury to haue a galon of wyn the same day yeerly for a remembraunce to se my wil executyd. If I wil that aftir the dirige yeerly ij s. be spent in breed and ale in my hefd place to do y^e pepil and preestys drynke.

Iſm I wil whan the messe is do on my yeerday as moche ferthyng white breed as comyth to iiij ſ. ij đ. be delyd to poore folke apart to hem that be redy to take it stondyng in the strete abowte my place, and a part to bedrefolke, and a part to the p̄sownerē and to the laserys at the Risbygate. Iſm I wil yeerly be payd viij đ. for viij. tapers stondyng at the grawe of resurrecōn gylde that they be lyght eche yeer at my dirige and messe. Iſm I wil that the belle meen haue iiij đ. to go yeerly abowte the town at my yeerday for my soule and for my faderis and my modrys. Iſm I wil that the Sexteyn of Seynt Marie chirche haue att my yeerday xij đ. so he ryngē wil and fynde breed and ale to his ffelashippe, and eche yeer what tyme my yeerday fallyth that at twelve of the clokke at noon next be forn my dirige he do the chymes smythe Requiem eternam, and so to contynwe sevene nyght aftir tyl the Vtas of my yeerday be passyd, and euē al lenton Requiem eternam, and in lykvyse such day as God disposith for me to passe I wil the seid chymes smyth forthwith Requiem eternam, and so day and nyth to cōtynwe with the same song tyl my xxx^{ti} day be past for me and for my freends that holpe therto with ony goods of here. Iſm I wil yeve and be qwethe yeerly to the Sexteyn of Seynt Marie chirche viij ſ. to kepe the clokke, take hede to the chymes, wynde vp the peys and the plummys as ofte as nede is, so that the seid chymes fayle not to goo thourgh the defawte of the seid sexteyn who so [fol. 100] be for the tyme, and yif he wil not take it vpon hym the owner of my hefd place, the parysh preest, and the Seynt Marie preest to chese oon of the parysh, such as wyl do it for the same money, tyl such a sexteyn be in the office that wil vndyrtake to do it and to cōtynwe, for I wolde the sexteyn hadde it be fore a nothir, for his wagys be but smale, so he wil vndirtake to do it and not fayle. Iſm I wil that the Seynt Marie preest haue yeerly x ſ., who so euer be for the tyme, he to sey or do seye a messe of oure lady o day in the wyke thourgh out the yeer on such a day as God disposith for me to dissese; and to sey De profundis for me, for my fadir and modir, with other thinges as is expressid be fore in wrytyng in what foorme it shalbe do. Ifm I wil the seid Seynt Marie preest and his successours haue yeerly iij s. iiij d. delyu^oyd to hym by the owener of my hefd place to the repa^ocon of the chymes as wel tho that been in Seynt Marie stepill as tho that been at Seynt Marie aw^o; and if there nede no repa^ocon to neyther of the seid chymes thanne the seid Marie preest to haue the seyde iij s. iiij d. to the avmenta^ocon of his lifloode, but as ofte as repa^ocon nedith to eyther of the seid chymes, I wil the seid iij s. iiij d. go therto, or part therof as the case requireth, and if grettere cost be doo the seid Seynt Marie preest paye more, and if grettere nede be, who so euere be occupyere of my hefd place to be contributarye therto what so eue^r it coste, for my wil is that the chymes shal neuer fayle for defawte of helpe, though certeyn lond of m^y be bowunde or assigned outh therefore be my executours bothe for y^t and the sexteynⁿ vagys be the syde the bonde of them that shall be occupyers of myn lond and my place to fulfille my wil, as is be fore wretyn. And I wil that the berere of the paxbrede longyng to Seynt Marye aw^o, who so be for the tyme, haue yeerly viij d. so he take hede to kepe my grave clene, the chymes, and Seynt Marie awter, to wynde vp the plvme of led as ofte as nedith and to do the chymes goo at y^e sacry of the messe of Jhū, at the sacry of Seynt Marie messe on the Sunday, and in lik wyse at the sacry of oure ladyes messe y^t Seynt Marie preest seye or do seye for me and for my fadir and modir o day in the wyke, as is rehersid afore to be doo, and the seid chymes to goo also at the avees, at the complynⁿ eche Satirday, Sunday, and hooly day thourgh out the yeer; and if the seid Seynt Marie preest or berere of the paxbrede be not p^rsent, or do not the chymes goo hem self, thanne they to make attorne and to speke to sūme psone to do it for the tyme for hem. And Seynt Marie preest to haue a keye of my cost of the vys dore goyng vp to the candilbem, the same keye to be leyd in an almarge with other longyng to the chymes as many keyes as pteyne to the seid werke, that the berere of the paxbrede may come therto with a keye assignyd and delyu^yd hym of the almerye where the seid keyes [fol. 100^b] shal lyn in. I^ſm I wil the seid Will^am Baret and alle tho that shal succede hym paye yeerly to the sexteyn of the monasterye of Bury, who so be for the tyme, iij ſ. iiij đ. for a sangrede, that my soule, my fadrys and modrys sowlys, and my frendys, may be preyd fore in the pulpet on the Sunday, and the parysh preest to do as moche as a sangrede requerith. I^ſm I wille my lord abbot of Bury, who so be for the tyme, haue yeerly at my yeerday, or ellys at his next comyng to Bury aft^r my yeerday, a galon of rede wyn and ellys xij đ. therfor at his owne choys, to be good lord and se that my wille be executyd trewly. If who so eu^o be p'our of Bury to haue at my yeerday a galown of rede wyn, to take hede and se that my wille be p^rformyd, and yif he wille haue no wyn xij đ. therefore. I^ſm I wille that the Sexteyn of the Monasterye of Bury, who so be for the tyme, haue yeerly at my yeerday a galon of rede wyn or ellys xij đ., to chese of bothe, to take hede that for alle these charges rehersed in this wryting he take sufficient sewrte of the ownener of my place, as is rehersyd afore. I^ſm I yeve and beqwethe and wil that yeerly at the purifica^on of oure lady callyd candilmesse gilde that the brethryn haue a galon wyn rede, or viij đ. therefore, at ther dyner or drynkyng such as they arn vsyd to make, and the Aldirman and dye of the same gilde offre at the messe on my yeerday and to reseve an o^b of m^y ownener of my place fore here offryng, and for the Aldirman of Bury to reseve j đ. for hym and a thrifty man of the parysh, the preests j đ. o^b and the owner of my place j đ.—iiij đ. in all. I^ſm I wil that the priour of dusgyld, who so be for the tyme, haue yeerly at my yeerday a rewle be syde with the parish preest and Seynt Marie preest to do here part at m^y yeerday and to take hede and calle vpon that these charges above wretyn be yeerly payid and executyd. I^ſm I wil that the good men of Seynt Marie parysh chosen be the Aldirman, Seynt Marie preest, and the owner of my place, as is for rehersid, haue yeerly iij đ. to a pot of wyn to helpe speke and to se that alle these charges abowe wretyn be dewly and trewly eche yeer pformyd, and that he offre at my yeerday with the Aldirman and the owner of my place: the hoole sūme of alle these pcellys of chargys abowe wretyn comyth but to evene yeerly xliij s. iiij d. and viij d. more to resurrecōn gilde, wiche sūme the v^{xx}. and xiiij. acrys of lond, an acre lete for xij d. wil a quyte and bere out alle charges, and lx s. cleer yeerly comyng to hym that shal haue the lond for his labour, and thanne the howsyng, rente and othir londs that is gove and grawntyd to helpe to the seid yeerly charges be syde. Iīm there is vij. acres lond lying by the hiñ weye toward the grendyll, not ferre from Herdwyk, wich vij. acres liñ in ij. pecys, the endys abbuttyng to ward the sexteyn's medwe, wiche lond my fadir gaf to my sustyr Alis Whitwelle and to the issew comyng of hire, and for defawte of issew the seid lond to remayne to me infysympill, wiche lond Katerine and Jenete my necys be in possession and here eyres comyng of hem [fol. 101] must succede. And if noon issew be of Katerine nor Jenete, thanne the seid lond to remeyne to me and m̄ eyres in fysympil, as is expressid in my fadrys wil, wiche vij. acres of lond I yeve and be qwethe my righ therof to Will^{am} Baret and to hem that shal succede hym suche as shalbe ownerys of my hefd place, who so be for the tyme, as is wretyn and expressyd in diuerse place; in m̄ seid wil. It' I yeve and be qwethê to m̄ seid hefd place, and to hem that shal occupyen it, m̄ voyd grownd with oute the Westegate, where as my berne and duffhous sūtyme stood, to helpe to the charges yeerly above seid, eue^r to remeyne to m̄ hefd place. Iīm I yeve and assigne to m̄ hefd place and to alle the occupyers therof, and specially Will^{am} Baret to be gynne with, my gardeyn with the long tylid hous, fysympil grownd, in punchyslane, except a part of the gardeyn wiche I assigne to the hert of the hop, and whan the place of the hert of the hop is soold I wil m̄ ffeffes and executours, so it hurte not the sale, reserve the gardyn that it may longe to the longe tyled hous, as it did of old tyme, for it longith not to the same place of the hert, wiche I put in the discrecōn of m̄ executours. Itm I grawnte and assigne to Will^am Baret, or to hem shalle occupye my hefd place, the yeers that I haue vnder the coventys seel, payng yeerly iij s. iiij d. to the Sexteyn, for a tenement in punchyslane w^t a gardeyn therto, except the halle, the ij. chambrys with the soler above in the ende of the halle toward my gardeyn, and a part of the gardeyn with the prevy, wiche part of the gardeyn I put in discrecion of my executours to assigne to be leyd out, to this entent I wil that Jone Crattefeld, othir wyse callyd Jone Baret, my nece, doughtir to Will^am Baret, my brothir, of Cratfeld, that she haue the seid halle, chambrys, prevy, and the pcelle of gardeyn tyme of lyf, and the seid Will^am Baret, or he shal occupye my hefd place, to paye yeerly to my seid nece Jone Baret x s. yeerly terme of hire lif, and he that payith that pencion to haue the wayl y^t comyth ovir of that part and of fysympil ground therto of the long tyld hous and gardeyn. And in caas be the seid Jone Baret my nece kepe hire sool vnmaryed, because she is agyd, and wil not holde hire content with this, I will thanne she haue terme of hire lif hir dwellyng and hire chambyr in my hefd place, that is to seye in the chambyr next the welle with a dore openyng in to the lane, with esement of the prevy be syde, and esement in leeffull tyme to make hire mete in the chymeny and to warme hire by w^tjanne y^e kechene, and to haue a part of the gardeyn with fre in-comyng and out-goyng, to sette herbis and to fetch hem whan nede is, esement to the welle to drawe watyr as is necessarie. And if the seid Will^am Baret or who so be occupyere of my hefd place wil fynde the seid Jone Baret my nece mete and drynk, clothyng and beddyng, hosyn and shoes, terme of hire life, and kepe hire stille in the seid hefd place [fol. 101^b] paying here yeerly a pencyon of iij s. iiij d. thanne I wil the pencyon of x s. aforseyd be not payid and to hire comfort. If I wil she haue x. marcs that I hadde of here brethren and certeyn obligacyonys of othir x. marcs that Jeffrey Baret and Robert Baret owyn to me for hire by a composicion and accord maad a twix hem and me for a yeerly pencyon of xx s. wiche that the seid Jeffrey and Robert shulde a payed to the seid Jone her sustir terme of hire lyf accordyng to here fadrys wil, to whom I was executour vnto, for wiche pencyon they agreyd to paye xx. marč, wherof I receyvyd the seid x. marč aforseyd saf x š., wiche I pardowne, and so they owe cleer x. marč vpon the obligačons, wich x. marč I cōmytte to m̄y executours and graunte hem m̄y pover to forgeve the seid Jeffrey and Robert of the seid x. marč xxvj š. viij đ. and sumwhat more, if they fynde aways for the seid Jonete m̄y nece and hire sustir may be made sewr of hire levving ŷme of lyf. And if the seid Will^am Baret, or who that be occupyere of my hefd place, wyl fynde the seid Jone mete and drynk, clothyng, with other thinges rehersid be fore and longyng in the s̄ hefd place, or in the hous in punchyslane, ŷme of hire lyf, they to haue, who so be for the tyme, the seid x. marč with the residue of the mony that is owyng as m̄y executours wil sette it, and this do with iij š. iiij đ. yeerly to hire, they to haue the seid sūme afore rehersyd be fore ony othir. And if they refuse it, anothir to haue it that wil take vpon hym the seid charge, a discreet and good man, to haue the reule of hire and that longyth to hire, for she can not aldirbest helpe hirself, and therfore I tendyr here the more, and I prey my executours and freendys to do the same. Iŷm I yeve and qwethe to the seid Jone Baret, my nece, ij. sponys of silvir, a long grene coors of silke harneysid with silvir, and my steynynd cloth w^t vij. agys, and a competent bed with ij. peyre shetys and al othir shetys and stuffe longyng to a bed, such as my executours wil assigne and delyue^r accordyng to here degre, and othir stuff of housshold as they thinkke necessarye for hire. And after that a rewle to be set for hire wher vpon she shal reste and abyde. Iŷm I yeve and be qwethe to the seid Jone my nece a lityl grene coffre for kerchys, stonyng in my stodye, and a nothir coffre stonyng in my chambyr at Elmyswelle, and if there be ony other stuff cōuenyent for hire I grawunte my executours ful pover to do to hire as ther discrecyon wyl serve hem to doo, pvydyng alwey that she be made sewr of hire levving. Iŷm I wyll and grawunte to Jenete Whitwelle, my nece, terme of hire lyf, my place w^t the porten^ance wich [fol. 102] I bough of John Notyngh^am, where as Thomas Watton dwellyth and John Sadeler, she to paye the rente and repare it. And after disseses I wil it remayngne to Will^am Baret, or to the occupyere of my hefd place, who so be for the tyme, and to eyr malys, vndir the same condiçon as my hefd place, lond, and rente with other pcellys be syde is assignyd and expressid in wrytyng be fore to bere diuse charges; but I wyl Jenete, my nece, haue terme of lif the seid place, wiche is lete for lxiiij s. be yeer and but ij d. of rente to the Petaunseer. Iſ I wil and graunte to the seid Jenete Whitwelle my yeeris that I haue be copy in the medwe at Babwelle terme of hire lyff, and she or ony othir that shall occupye the seid good I haue assigned to hire afore, ho so be for the tyme, to paye yeerly to my lord abbot of Bury vj s. viij d. for the ferme, and in lykwyse to rewarde my man and my child with wiche clothes and garnementys as I haue be syde, except iij. of my beste gownys, wiche I wil Will^am Baret or he that shal occupye my hefd place haue for a remembraunce to thinke vpon me; and if my executours wil rewarde Jeffrey Baret and Robert Baret, or ony othir psone, with ony array or stuff of m̄y longyng to my body, I graunte hem ful power and cōmytte it to there discreçyon. Iſm I yeve and qwethe to Johñ Aleyn my chyld my beste hors with sadil and brydil, with alle the beste harneys for oon hors longyng therto, a peyre bootys and sporys, a coulyte, and a peyre shetys with blanket therto, and vj s. viij d. Iſ if he wil be a preest or a prentys to a craft I wil my executours helpe hym therto with my goodç, and there is a tester with ij. costere smale palyd of bukram blew and bett^o blew, with an ymage of oure lady in gold papyr, that I vsed to trusse with me, I wil he haue hem and the selour longyng therto. Iſ I wil my executours rewarde hym and m̄y man also with other stuff that longith to m̄y body, and my man a testir of reed and greene. Iſm to John Helyngton a blak gowune, a pilwe, and ij. shertys with xx d. Iſm I wil that my houshold be kept hool to gedyr with alle m̄y meyne, yif it lyke hem to contynwe so longe, vj. hool wykkys aftir m̄y dissees, and at the brekyng vp I wil myñ executours and they haue a good dyner to gedyr, to wiche dyner I wil they calle to v. pore men and v. pore women, suych as dwelle nexte m̄y place, and eche of hem to haue j đ. and ther mete; and if any bedrede man or woman ly by to be oon of the nowmbre servyd a lyche. Iĥm I geve and beqwethe to Will^m Clopton, sone to John Clopton, my best gypcer, w^t iij. bagges, the jemews and the rynges of sylvir, therin wretyn Grace me governe, for a tookne he vowchesaf in tyme comyng to shewe his good maistershepe to my wil, as is here expressyd, that it be executyd. Iĥm I wil, with the avys take of such meen as my executours wil calle to hem, that the Rysbygate, wich is moost roynows of the town, be amendid and maad of my coost with fre stoon and bryk, archyd and enbatelyd, substancyally to endure, and a twyx the batilment and the arche in the myddys I wil haue an ymage of oure lady, sitting or stonyng, in an howsyng of free stoon, and remembraunce of me besyde, on this condiĥon, so ther be good inow to pfoorme othir thinges and to content and paye my dettys, wiche afore alle thinges I wil in especyall be tendryd, as God may be plesid and my soule esyd; and that the sydes of the old gate stonde stille, for they be sufficient to stonde and bere such anewe werk oon lofte; God for-bede and they be steryd for summe mygth fortune to make avers fundaĥon than that is. And if my executours thynkke that brykke be not sufficient to endure, lete it be maad with calyoñ and moorter, but and the brykke be sewr and good it wille be more comounly welle wrought, wiche I put in the discreçõn of my executours, and that they take avys of Symkyn Clerc, mason, of this; thus and in caas be [fol. 103^b] m̄y good wil stretche so fre ferre to do it as is wretyn, and ellys to doo lesser cost. Īm I yeve and be qwethe my signet of gold, with a pellican and my armys grave ther in, to Will^am Baret, to his eyris and to hem that shal be occupyers of my hefd place for the tyme. Īm I wil that there be fowunde with my good a priest a yeer to syng in seynt Marie chirche for the soulys whoos bodyes I haue causyd to lese sylvir in ony vyse in my lyve at ony tyme, and for alle the soulys of alle the psonys, man, womā, or chylde gen^oally that eve^o I medlyd with, or hadde of ony silvir or good, litil or mekyl, or delyu^oyd be ony mene in her namys or for hem to me be ony pson or psonys, as wel hem that cam nought to my mynde as tho that haue or shal come to m̄y mynde at ony tyme, that God for his mercy they ner I bere nevyr no peel, neythir for the gevving ne for the reseyvvyng for ony matyr that eue^o I hadde to do with fro the beyynnyng of the wourld in to my deth, preying Almyghty God that they haue part of euery good dede I haue do, or shal be do my lyve, or shall be do aftir my dissees for me in messis syngyng, almesse gevyng, or ony good dede doyng, that they have part therof as wil as my self in relevyng and comfort of here soulys and m̄y. Īm I will haue oo yeer a preest to syng at seynt Marie awter w^t my good for Edmūd Tabowrē sowle, and for my soule, and specially for Edmūd Tabowrē sowle, and Annes soule his wyf, and for alle oure good doers. And if ony mony or stuff be fowunde with me of the seid Edmūd Tabowrē, I wil a preest be fownde ther with o yeer to syng at Redgrave chirche for the seid Edmūd and his wiff and here freendys, and if ony come ovir to dispose it in dedys of charite and almesse. Īm I yeve and be qwethe to the sustentaçõn of J̄hc messe xiiij s. iiij d. Īm I wil if ther be maad an ele ther the vestry is, on the south syde of the chaunsell, as is on the tothir syde, that thanne m̄y executours to do remeve seynt Marie awter just to the wal on the south syde where as Marie Mawdelyn stondith, and that ymage to be set just ageyn the peleer there I was wont to sitte, his (sic) visage toward the Savyour. And if that place be not mete, to sette here ageyn the bowtell there hire light stant, and to haue the seid light abowte hire; and if the seid ele be made and pformyd I wil that in no wyse my kynrede, ne m̄ executours, suffir neyther awtir, reddos, ne arche of the wyndowe to be steryd, but the glas and the foorme of stoon that longith vnto the same wyndowe, be wyse of good masonys, clene to be savyd and take outh, and the arche to stonde stille with alle the werk of the aungellys on lofte wiche I haue do maad for a remembraunce of me and my frendys, and nevir to put the paryssh to no cost. And wher as the glas stondith now, that place to be opyn and stonde woyde, that men may se throught out the chirche into the neve ele, and my stool at the graves ende with the deske and pcloos by to be awaydid, and the ground maad as lowe as the chirche floor streyght by the grave to the awter, wher I wil my executours do make a substanciall and a sqwar dore of free stoon, [fol. 104] and if nede be to reyse vp the rerdoos a foote or ij. heygher, and to sette the ymage of oure lady in the myddes of the awter alofte and an aungell on eche syde, and Martyn and Vincent be syde, and that the dore may bere the bem there the iij. kynges be, and the Jesse set vndir our lady with the virgenys afore hire. And the seid dore to be maad as large of wydnesse as may be fro the ende of the awter whan it is remevvyd as wil streche to the syde of the savyo^r. And if the parysh lyke to go pcessyon thourgh the north ele, and so forth before the hyñ awter, that thanne they may kepe here coors thourgh the same dore in to the chirche ageyn, and to lowe y^e grownd that the dore may be of a resonnable heyghte that they may passe with the cros in goodly wyse. And that my executours, ne there executours aftir hem, ne the owner of my hefd place, ho so be for the tyme, that they nevir suffre no werk maad abowte seynt Marie awt^r, tabyll, rerdos, ne retourne of the candilbem, grave, ymage, aungelys, chymes, ne selour, to be remevyd fro the place they stonde on, contrarye ageyñ my wil reheryd before, but that our Lord and our Lady and Seynt Martyn with Seynt Vyncent and Marie Mawdelyn may be wourshepid there as of longe contynwaunce out of tyme of mynde hath be vsyd ; and if ony wil laboure the contrarye, to calle comfort and helpe of the lordshippe the aldirmã, with othir of the most notable and wourshippfull men of Seynt Marie paryssh, with weel avysid men callyd to of the town. Iĥm I wil that myñ executours whoos namys been expressyd in wretyn in a bylle of pchemyñ and also asselyd with my owune seel of silvir, therin a egle with scripture, wiche bille is closed and annexid to the same rolle in the gynnyng, that m̄y executours as soone as they can and may goodly forth with aftir my disses, withoute ony delay or taryng, make a sale of my place at the popished with aille the porten^ances longyng therto, and also my place with taverne next Will^am Clyntonys that I bough of Robert Barbouris wiff, and also of my place in Mustowe, callyd the Hert of Hoop, with a pcell of gardeyn longyng therto. And the seid places with the porten^ances be soold to the verray valew, that with the same mony wiche shal be reysid, growe, and come of the seid good to pforme and fulfille therwith my wil in alle thinges and werkes I haue assigned to be doo, and non to be left, ffor though ther be doo the lessere cost, I wil haue eche thing parformyd as ferre as my good wil stretche, wiche I cōmytte to the discreçõn and wysdam of my executours to caste be a cownte what mony is sewr to be reseyyvid and what sūme of money it wol come to for to be spent. And that werk that lest nedith to abate a part if the good wil not stretche so fer, and ellys not, for I trust to God ther shall be jnow. Iĥm j yeve and beqwethe to Davñ John Kertelynge, my silvir forke for grene gyngo^r. Iĥm to Davñ Thomas Framnyng^am a peyre bedys of ambyr. Iĥm to Davñ Johñ Attilburgh a pere bedys of ambyr. Iĥ to Will^am Sennowe oon of my short gownys, a good oon wiche as is convenient for hym, and my russet hood, with a cuppe of erthe, oon of the ffrerys. Iĥ I wil bothe my colers of silvir, the Kyng's lyfre, be sold, and the money disposid in almesse for Edmūd Tabowrę soule and his frendys, to recompęse broke silvir I had of his to oon of the colerys and othir things with othir stuff be syde wiche I took to m̄y owne vse. Iĥm I yeve and beqwethe to the chirche and stepill of Rough^am iiij š. of silvir. Iĥ to the stepil of Nethir Rekynggale iij š. iiij đ. Iĥm to Thomas Valys sone dwellyng at London with Thomas Cook vj š. viij đ. for recompence of a pece veyed more than my dewte cam to, as Rog² Cheney knowith. Iĥ I wil that if no redy mony to content hem that I

haue be set to hastyly to be payid, I wil that they may best abyde to be entretyd and suffir til it may be had. Ifm j be qwethe to mais^l John Nichole, pson of Martyn Fornham, a peyre bedys of jeet with a ryng of laton and gilt with a stoon and a reed lace with a knoppe of the same. If j beqwethe to John Elys, wrytere, sūtyme m̄y man, a gowune of blak at m̄y intirment and iij s. iiij d. And to Anneys his wyf at my intirment a gowune of blak and xx d. If j yeve and be qwethe to the repaçon of my lordys werk and to the chirche x. marč. If to Clement [fol. 105] Drury my browne cuppe of erthe curyd. If j wil that my executours, suche as shall occupie, shall make a clere declaraçon and a trewe accountys yeerly, whil they occupye, of alle suche goodē that they reseyye of m̄y by vertu of this myn intestement, to the resydewe of my executours, and to m̄y supvysours, for here trewe acquytaylle. And j wil and charge my seyde executours that noon of hem p^ssume to do ony thyng alloone with ony of my seyde goodē withowte the avys of alle his felaas, or at the leste of the most part. And j wil, as is seyde be forn, that John Clopton esquyere be my supvisour and as oon of my executours in eche ma^l that longith to my testament, and he to haue a gowune. Executours of this my testament and last will I ordeyne, make, and name thes v. psonys, Thomais Drury, Thomais Heigh^am ye yonggere, maistir Will^am Qweyth, Adam Newhawe, John Coote jentylman; and supvysour I ordeyne and make John Clopton esqwyer and executour, to wiche Clopton I beqwethe xls. and a peyre bedys of sylvir w^t x. avees and ij. pañris of sylvir and gilt, and a gowune cloth of blak ageyn my intirment. If j beqwethe to my executours T. Drury, T. Heigh^am, M. W. Qweyth, A. Hec est vltīa mea voluntas. That I Baldewyn Coksedge of Felsh^{am}, gentilman, beynge in holle mynde and good memorie at Felsh^{am} aforseyd, the v^{te} day of the monyth of Jule the yeer of owr Lorde Mⁱ cccc lx and ix^{no}, do take and oñ myñ testament be fore made. Fyrste, I wyll that myn detts be pleñly paied. And I will that Denyse myñ wyffe have xx s. for her dower, and myn place callyd Upwode Hall, otherwyse callyd Coksedgys, in Felsh^{am} aforseyd, durynge the tyme of here lyfe. And I will that the seid Denyse haue the new hows callyd a parlure, wyth the kechyn, and the chamberys pteynyng to the seid plure and kechyn, in myn seid place duryng here lyffe, yf she will leve sowle withowth an husbonde; and I will that the seid Denyse haue the lytill gardyn on the estsyd of the seid parlure, betwen the seid parlure and chambrys on that on party and the qwyk heige set frome the gate on to the hall doore on that othir party, duryng here lyfe as it is aforseid; and I will that the seid Denyse have halle the gardyn on the westsyd of the seid parlure and chambris, with alle the curtelage on the westsyd of myn place wyth jnne the moote, from the kechyn doore on to the pertre, and from the pertre onto westend of the bakhows, and soo forthe to the moote syde, with all the comedities wythyn the seid gardyn and curtelage growyng and beyng, as in herbagis, frute, fedyngis, and fysshynge in the moote, and the frute of the seid pertre and of an appultre stondyng in the same cours, fallyng wythin the seid curtelage, and other pftens wythout dystruccyon or kyttynge down of treis duryng here lyfe as is afforseid. And I will that the seid Denys haue here esement in the bakhows in lawfull tyme for bruyng, for bakynge, and for dreinyng of malte, and a stabyll within the moote, and here esement in the maltyngghows joynd therto, withys condicyon, that the ocupier of myn seid place shall haue his wetyng of his barly in the fate of the seid Denyse duryng maltyng tyme, that is for to sey, the seid Denys on wetyng and the seid occupier an other wetyng. And also the goyng of hennys and fowlys clovefotyde as it plese the seid Denys resonably, with tweyn hogge goyng, and free jncomyng and free owtgoyng in lawfull tyme too and froo the seid parlure, kechyn, bakhows, stabyll, maltyngghows, gardynys and curtelage, with here caryages of all man⁹ of thyngs suche as she nedyth at both breggis, well and in pees, wythowte ony jnpedyment of the ocupier of myñ seid place duryng here lyfe as it is aboueseyd. And I will that the seid Denyse haue of the ocupier of myn seid place for the seid parlure, kechyn, chambrys, bakhowse, stabyll, maltyngghows, gardineys, and curtelage, yf she will dwell wyth ony of here doughterys, or in ony other place lefull, or to be maryed well at here frendis wyll, yearly vj s. viij d. be syde here dowr afforseyd duryng here lyfe as it is aboueseyd. And I wyll that John myn sone haue myn seid place callyd Upwode Halle, otherwyse callyd Coksedgys, in Felsham afforseyd, wyth alle the apporteñs, except alle that is excepte in this myn seid wylle, and vppon that I will that alle myn feffeis see that myn wylle in alle wyse be fulfellyd; and yf the seid John will not paye the mony that he owith for the ferme of the seid place, or shall owe accordyng to the coueñntes, of his endentur, or yf he will not paye his modyr the mony for her dower afforseyd, or yf he wold let any parte of here esements as it is afforseyd, I will that myn feffeis and myn executo^rs entre vppon hym and put hym owth, and kep hym owt tyll he wyll fynde suerte to be in pees and paye his duete; and aft^r the dysses of the seid Denys, and aftyr that myn seid wyll be fulfellyd, I wylle that myn executo^rs and myn feffeis see the best mene that they can in restoryng ageyn to the olde intaile of the seid place. And I wyll that the seid Denys haue myñ teñt callyd Geernys withalle thapporten^ance terme of hyre lyfe, and aftyr the dysses of the seyde Denys the seid teñt to remayne to myñ sone Edmūde and to his heyrys and assigneis for eūmoore. And I will that the seid Denys haue alle the landys, medewes, pasturys, and fedyngys callyd Southwode and Walymerche, the wyche I bought of Piers of Stonham, with alle thapporten^ance duryng here lyfe; and aftyr here desces I wille that the seide londys, medewes, pasturs, and fedyngis remayn to myn sone George and to his heyers and assigneis for eūmore. And I will that myn doughter Anneys [have] the ferme of alle the londys callyd Mekyll Southfyld, conteynyng viij acrys be estymacyon, liyng on the sowth party of myn londe callyd Meryeakyr and Brookhallende, and j crofte with a pece medewe conteynyng iiij acrys be estymaçon, the wyche I bought of Syre John Gooderyche, preste, and the seid viij acrys withe the seide iiij acrys abbuttyn vppon myn lane toward the weste, and j crofte liyng vppon the westsyde of John Skott^e, sūtyme callyd Dychehows, with a pees of pasture liyng the nether ende of the seide crofte, conteynyng iij acrys more or lesse be estymaçon, and the londe callyd Lytyll Southfeld liyng vppon the northe syde of Brokhallende on that on partye, and the lond of Roberd Gentilman on that other partye, the wiche I bought of John of Dyche, Wa^t Moore, and John of Moore of Felsh^am afforseide, and an other pees of londe liyng on the westsyde of the Otecrofte, otherwyse callyd Cotelerys crofte, with a pees of medewe lyng betwene the medewe of the seid Robert Gentilman on that on partye and the medewe of William Cotelere on that other parte, tulle the sūme of vij marke be levyed for the seid Anneys. And I wyll that myn executo^rs kepe the seid vij marke till the husbond of the seide Anneys wyll make a lawfull estat and feffement of his londys and teñtes for terme of lyfe of the seide Anneys onto suche psonys as been his frendys and here bothe, as of iij, v, vij, or ix^{ue}, as ij, of here kyn and j of his. And yf soo be that he will not make suche estate, thane I wyll that the seide sūme be kept tyll aftyr his dysses, yf it hadde hym to dysses be for here. And yfe he wolde make his will contrary to the couen^ante of the fyrste feffement that she shulde not haue the seide londys and teñtis tyme of hir lyfe, than I will that myn heyres and myn executo^rs make the best mene of plee that they can for the recou^e of the seid londys and teñtys acordyng to thastate that shulde be made at the tyme of the maryage makyng, with seide vij marke; and yfe it hadde here to dysses be for hym, than I wille that she dysposyt as she and her frendys thynke beste. If I wyll that the ferme of the seide londys, medews, and pasture bee for namyd, qwan the seid vij marke is levied for myn doughtyr Anneys, goo to my daughter Margaret tyll the sūme of x marke be levied for the seid Margaret; and aft^o the said x marke is so levied for the seid Margaret, than I will that the ferme of the seid londys, medews, pasture, bee for namyde go to myñ daughter Margerye tyll the sūme of x marke be levied for the seid Margerye; and aft^o the seid x m^rc is so levied for the seid Margerye, than I will that if it hadde ony of myn seide doughterys to die onmaryed, than the seid ferme of the seide londis, medewis, and pasturys, levied in the man^o of furme aboueseyd, bee evenly departyd betwene all myn other chylderyn levyng. And I will that the seid viij acrys of londe, callyd Mekyll Southfeld, aft^o the seid mony is soo levied for myn seide doughterys be fornamyd, goo to the forseide Denys myn wyfe tyme of hyre lyfe, yf she will leve sowle, and ellys not, and aft^r the disses of the seide Denys than I will that the seide viij acrys remayne to myn seide place callyd Coksedgys ppetually wythoughten ende. And j will that the seide crofte and medewe late of the seide Sir John Goderyche preste, aftyr the seyde money is levyed for myn seid doughterys be for namyd, goo to the forseide Denys myn wyfe duryng here lyfe, and aft^r here disses I will that the seide crofte and medewe remayne to myn sone Edmūd and to his heyers and assigneis for eū; withought that the seid George myn sone and his feffes will make astate on to the seid Edmūd of the seid londys called Lyttille Southfeld, to holde to hym and heyers and his asseigneis for eū, than I will that the seid crofte and medewe be solde, and the mony therof to be euenly departyd be twene the seid Edmūd and George, and ellys the seid Edmūd to haue the seide crofte and medewe as it is be forseyde, and the seide George to haue the seide londe callid Lytill Southfeld to hym and to his heyers and assigneis for eū. And I will that the forseide crofte vndir Scottys, wythe seyde pees of pasture at the nedyr ende of the seide crofte, aftyr the seide doughterys be fully payed in the man^r of furme be for rehersyd, goo to the forseyd Denys myn wyfe ũme of hyr lyfe, as it is be for seide; and aft^r the disses of the seid Denys than I will that the seide crofte and pasture remayne to myn forseide place callid Coksegys ppetually withoghten ende. If I will that aft^r myñ forseid doughterys be payde in the man^r and furme aboueseide that the seid londys callid Lytyll Southfeld goo to the forseide Denys my wyfe ũme of here lyfe, and aft^r here disses I will that the seid londys remayne to myñ sone Edmūd and to his heyers and assigneis yf the seide George and the feffeis will delyue astate vnto the seid Edmūd, and ellis be it as it is be forseide. And I will that aft^r my forseid doughterys be soo payed in the man^r and furme abouesyde the seid pees of londe liyng on the westsyd of the Ote crofte, togedyr withe seid pees and medewe therto liyng, remayne to myñ sone Edmūd and to his heyers and assigneis for eūmore. And I will that the seid Edmūd myñ sone haue the iiij oblygacyons that I toke onto hym to make therof qwat that he can in myñ name, and that myn executo^rs avowe hym in his suet and make hym a let^t of attorney if nede be. Also I beqweth to the parish prest of Seynt Marie chirche beyng at myñ dirige, yf it be Mais^o William Mathue vj s. viij d.; yf it be another I beqwethe hym iij s. iiij d. Iŕ I beqwethe to Seynt Marie prist of the seyde chirche, yf he be at m̄ dirige vj s. viij d. Iŕ I beqwethe to Mais^o Herry Hardman iij s. iiij d. Iŕ I beqwethe to euery othir prist of the colage beyng at m̄ dirige xx d. Also I wyll that aftyr the feste of Michemesse immedyatly aftyr myn discesse that John ʒaxle sone and heyre to Richard ʒaxle have m̄ meese with alle the londs, tenementys, rentys, and s^ouyss the whiche I or othir to myne vse haū in the towne and feldys of Pakynham callyd Redecastyll, to hym and to theyrys of his body lawfully be gotyn. And for the favte of sweche issue the remandyre therof to the next heyre of the seyde Richard for euer. And I will that vnto the seyde feste of Michelmasse m̄ executour; have and resseyve alle the issue; and p^fytys of alle the seyde meese londys and rentys and other p^misse;. Also I will that John m̄ sone immediatly aftyr m̄ deses have alle m̄ messuages, lond^e, tenement^e, rentys, and s^ouic^e lying in the towunys and feldys of Throp Moryes, Felsam, Geddyng, and Ratlysden, to hym and to his heyres of his body lawfully be gotyn. And for the defaute of suche issue, I will y^t alle the seyde mesuagie;, londys, and tenement^e, with thapportenance;, remayne to Robert ʒaxle the secunde sone of the seyde Richard ʒaxle, to haue to hym for terme of his lyfe and aft his disces I will that the seid meeses be egally departyd, and so seuerally to remayne to Alice and Felippe dowteris of the seid Richard and to their heyre; of their bodyes lafully begotyn. And if it happen any to deye be fore odire havng non issue, than eueriche to be otheris heyre ouerlyvyng, and to theyrys of hire body lawfully begotyn. And if bothe the seyde Alice and Phelip deye w^towte issue, than I will that alle the seide mesuage, lond, and tenemētys remayne to the seyde Joĥn 3axle, sone and heyre of the seyde Richard, and to his heyre; for euer. If I beqwethe to Raff Duke vj^s. viij^d. Also I beqwethe to Elezabeth Theloth m^y ſuaunte v. marke. And qwere also I the seid Joĥn Smyth afore this tyme have maad and declarid m^y will of all m^yn messuage, lond, tenemētys, rent, and ſuysis in the townnys and felds of Bury aboveseyd, Berton, Fornh^m Seynt Martyn, Rowh^m, and Nowton byside Bury, w^t all thapportenaunce, beyng in feoffe; hands, that alle the issue; and pfit comyng and grovyng of the seid meeses, lond, and tenement schulde be houly cōuertyd and applyid to thuse and pfitys of thynhabytauntys of the seid town of Bury, and of their successoure; for euer, to discharge certayn y^posicione; and charge wonte to be boryn be the seid inhabitaunte; and y^t ffeoffamentys thereof shulde be made from tyme to tyme whanne the cas shuld require to the same intente as in certayn indenture; trypartyte indentyd, cōprysing the seyde will, wherof the date is the x. day of the monyth of Auguste, the yere of our Lord God M^lcccc^{mo}lxxiiij. where it more pleyntyly aperith. And I the seyde John Smyth, wylyng the seid will in eueri article to take pleyntly effecte, and not in any wyse here aft^r to be reuokyd, but ppetually to stande ferme and stable, the same will so make of the seid meese, lond, and tenement. And where also as I the seid John Smyth have ordeynyd and declarid m^y will of myⁿ maner of Hepworth, callyd Brettys, be feoffe; handys to thentent to fulfille that same myⁿ will for the sustentacion of a chapeleyn ppetually to syng for myⁿ sowle, and for the soule of Anne myⁿ wyff, and for alle cristen soulys, accordyng to the tenoure and effecte of m^y seid will tryptyte indentyd, that the collacion of m̄y seid Chaunterie whan it shall happen in any man^o wyse to be woyde, that than the priour of the Monasterie of Bury be fore seyde shuld have the gyfte and collacion of the same, as in the same indenture; more pleyntyly is declarid. I now the seid John Smyth, for diuise cause; and consyderacyonys shevyd vnto me, will ordeyne and declare by this m̄y p̄sent testament and last will that whan so euer the colage of prest̄ of Bury be incorporat and have a maister, presydent, or other reuler, that than the seid maist̄, presydent, or other reuler, with myñ othir chaunterie prist synggyng at Seynt Marie aughter, in the seid chirche of oure Ladye, and the chapelyn of the gyld of the holy name of Jhu, have the collacion of the seyde chaunterie to them and to their successoure; for euer. And moreouer I will that [when] someuer the seid collage be so incorporat and have licence of the king to purchas to them and thir successoure; than I will that all my feoffe; in seid maner of Hepworth, vpon due request to them by the seid maist̄, p̄sident, or reuler, and phelasclep of the seid collage made, deliuere vnto them a suer and sufficient astatte of and in the seid maner, with thapparten^{ance}; to have to them and to their successoure; for the sustentaciō of the seyde chaunterie prist for euer. And where also I the seid John Smyth, by indenture, have shewed, notyfied, and declared myñ mynde, will, and intent vpon a ffeoffament made to Harry Hardman clerk, William Duffelde clerke, and other specified and named in a dede of m̄y maner callyd Swyftys, w^t thapporten^{ance};, wheche I woll to be conuertyd to thuse of the seid colage, to remayn in feoffe; hand̄ vnto suche tyme as the seyde collage as is above seid be incorporatte and have licens of the kyng as is aboveseyd, and than the seyde feoffe; to make astate therof to the maist̄, p̄sident, or other reuler, and felaship of the said collage for the tyme beyng, for the sustentacion of a ppetuall chapeleyn to syngge at Seynt Marie aughter, in the seid chirche of oure Lady, for the solle of me the said John Smyth and Anne myñ wyff, and other; and for other charḡ and chargeable dedys to be doon, as in the seyde indenturys more largely yt is conteynyd; I the seyde John, neu^o wylling m^y seyde mynde, wyll, and intent, so be me published, notified, and declared vpon the seyde ffeoffament, in any man^o of wyse to be changyd, lessyd, or reuokyd, but fermaly without any intrupcion to be holden so y^t it, ne no pcell therof, be conuertyd to noon other vse. And for the more fermete and stedfastenes therof, and that yt ppetually shulde indure, I the seyde John Smyth, by this my p^rsent testament and last wyll, m^y seyde mynde, will, and entent so made, shewyd, and declarid be the seyde indenture^z, approue, ratifie, and conferme; and will and ordeyne that the collacion of the seyde Chauntrie at Seynt Marie aughter in lyke wyse be longyng vnto the seyde prio^r vnto such tyme as the seyde colage in like wyse be incorpora^t. And than the seyde maist^r, p^resident, or other rulere, with the chapeleyn of myn chaunterie at Seynt John is aughter, and the seyde chapeleyn of the gylde of Jhu, have the collacion of the seyde chaunterie, to them and to their successoure^z for eu^o. And mor^eouer I will and geue full powre to my executoure^z and supvisoure^z of this myn testament to ffunde and stabylissh my seyde chaunterie; and to make rewlys, constitucionys, and ordinaunce^z for the rule, gouⁿance, and good continuance of the same. And moreou^r I will, ordeyne, and declare by this myn seyde testament, that if myn sone John, or ony other p^rsone or p^rsones named in the same testament and last will, and to whom I made ony legate or gyfte, intrupte m^y executoure^z so that they may not resabely execute the same, or othirwyse vexe, trobele, or let them in p^rformaunce of m^y laste will, or any article therof, that than he or they so lettyng, wexing, or trubling, to lese and forfeite his seyde legate; and will and charge myne executoure^z that they and euery of them vt^rly kepe and res^tayn from hym or them there legate and byqueste to them made, notwithstanding ony feoffament, state, or possession takyn befor in ony god^e that arⁿ myⁿ or were myⁿ. And mor^eou^r I require and charge all the ffeoffe^z in the seyde manere^z, lond^e, rent^e and tenement^e to relese to m^y executoure^z, qwanne they be required by them, if suche cause fortune to happe. And for the due executyn and pformauns of this m̄y testament, and for the playne and true disposiçõn of m̄y goodç and catallys, I will and streȳly charge all suche of m̄y executoure; as shall take vpon them the charge of the same, as they will answeare afore God, that they nor non of them ministir or dispose any of m̄y seyð goodç by them selfç withoute the coñen assent of alle ther co-executoure;. And that alle suche of m̄y goodç as schall come to any of ther handç, whed⁹ it be in dettys or in ony other thynggç, I will and charge that they immediatly af⁷ the reseyte therof be brougte in to the towune of Bury, and ther be the comẽ assent of alle m̄y seyð executoure; be put in a place by them there for to be ordeynyd and assynyd, where they alle ioynly may have recourse thereto, there safly to be kept by them to suche tyme that by all theyre assentç they ben fully distribute and disposyd for the wele of m̄y sowle, and hertely I p̄ay and desire the ordenary, afore whom this m̄y testament schall be p̄uyd, and also the sup̄visour of this m̄y seid testament, that the seyð executoure;, by there solempne othe;, amonge othir thynggs be specially chargyd and sworyn to fulfill and kepe the entent of this m̄y article and laste will; and that he or they that will refuse to make the seyð oth, or ellys afterward to do the contrarie of the same, I wil that he or they be dischargyd of any ferther deylyng of the seyð testament, and also to be compellyd, by the seyð ordinarie, and by the sup̄uysour, to make restitucyon of alle suche goodç kept contrarie to the entent of this myn articule and laste will. Iŕ I desire and require myne cõfeoffes that they deliuere astate in alle my manere; and londç and tenementç vnto m̄y executoure; whansumiuer they be desiryd by them. The residue of alle m̄y goodç and catallys, not beqwethyn, I geve and be qwethe unto m̄y executoure;, they for to dispose them for the welefare of m̄y soule and for alle the sowlys that I am be holdyng for to prey for as they thynkke may be most plesure to God and welefare of m̄y soule. Off this m̄y testamēt and laste will I put and ordeyne executoure;, Sere Thomas Ampe, Adam Newhawe, and Raff Duke. The supuisoure; of this m̄y testament I ordeyne and put the priour of the monasterie of Bury beforñ seyde, Richard 3axle gentilmã, and Clement Clerk. Into wittenesse wherof of this m̄y p̄sent testament I have put to m̄y seale. Youyn the place, the day, and the yeere abovesaid.

And the residue of thissues and pfitēs, comyng of the same maner, londes, tenementes, rentes, s^uices, medewes, pastures, woodes, with thappurtenaunces and comoditees aboueseid, over the seide sūme of x. març, shalbe receyved by the handes of my seid chauntry priest, to thentent to kepe the obite yerely withouteende of me the seid John Smyth, and of the soules aboueseid. And by the supvison of the P^our of the Gylde of Seynt Nicholas holde withyn the toñ of Bury Seynt Edmūds, and the seyde priour of the seyde gylde to have yerely ijš of the revenevs comyng of the seid maner, londes, tenementes, rentes, s^uices, medewes, pasturez, and woodes. And the residue therof over the charges aboueseid, the chargez of the reparaciouns and the charges to the cheef lordes therof; and the residue of the revenevs and pfitēs comyng of a pece of medewe inclosed at the Turret in Bury Seynt Edmūds aboueseid, whiche is assigned to the repacion of the newe eles in thaforseyd chirche made by me thaforseyd John Smyth, over the seid reparaciouns to them dō, and over the charge to the chief lord therof, be disposed and distributed by the discrecion of my chauntry priest and of the priour of thaforsaid gylde, to poure people of the seid toñ of Bury Seynt Edmūds at the seid obite, or els on the day next be fore, to pray for the seid soules. Also I wole that yef the feoffes of the seid maner, londes, tenementes, rentes, s^uices, medewes, pasturez, and woodes, with thaforseyd appurtenaunces and comoditees, decesse, wherof viij. or vj. psones of the seyde feoffes be levyng, that than my seid chauntry priest for the tyme beyng, wiche is assigned to pray for the seid soules, shall have auctorite and power to make the feoffes so levyng of and in the seid maner, londes, tenementes, rentes, s^uices, medewes, pastures, and woodes, with thappurtenaunces and comoditees aboueseid, and them to require to make a new estate and to enfeoffe xx. other psones at the leste noumbre of the most substanciall psones, inhittantes withinne the seid town of Bury Seynt Edmūds, of and in the seid maner, londes, tenementes, rentes, s^uices, medewes, pastures, and woodes, with the seid appurtenaunces and comoditees, wherof my seyde chauntry priest to be one of them at his liberte. And also I wole that whansoeuer it fortune that my seid chauntry priest deceسه, or any priest in my seid chauntry hereafter comyng, thanne I wole that the priour of the monasterie of Bury Seint Edmuds, and hise successoures withoute ende, withinne a monethe next suyng after deceسه of the priest of my seid chauntry, shall p^resent and yeve the seid chauntry to another onest priest, and yeve him charge with the divine s^uice p^rmisses in maner and fourme aboueseid. And if the priour of the seid monasterie for the tyme beyng p^resent no priest to pray for the soules aboueseyd withinne a moneth, as is aforeseyd, than I wole that m^y next heyre or next of my blode p^resente an honest priest to the seid chauntry in maner and fourme aboueseid withinne iij monethes next suyng aft^r deceسه of my seid chauntry priest. Also I wole that the priest of my seid chauntry for the tyme being and his successoures, with the priour of the aforeseid gilde, make yerely thir bille of acounte of all charges and expenses of thissues and revenevs abovesaid receyvved, or els owyng over the seid yerely x. mar^c by them, do deliuer it after the seid obite to the priour of thaforseid monastie for the tyme beyng, that it may be vnderstande whether y^t the seid revnevs be disposed aft^r thentente of the seid will or nought. And the seid priour of the same monastie to refourme and to make a direccion therof. And the same day and tyme the same p^rour of the same monastie to have of the seid revenevs at that audite a galon of wyn. Also I will that euery of my chaunterie priestes, one after another, by hymself or by his assigne withoutteende duryng and for his tyme ther beyng, shall have the reule and gouernaunce by the supvison of the priour of thaforseid gylde aft^r deceسه of m^y executours of the seid maner, londes, tenementes, rentes, s^uices medewes, pastures, and woodes, with the seid thappurtenaunces and comoditees, to lete them to ferme as is most behovefull to m̄y seid chauntry, and to receyve thissues and p̄fites therof comyng, and to pay and bere almaner of rentes and charges therof dewe, withoute cōtradiccion and in̄rupcion of any of the feoffes theryn infeoffed. And the feoffes not to dele therwith but as feoffes of trust. Also I wole that this p̄cell as a p̄cell of my laste will be p̄ved and annexed to the resude of m̄y will. And one parte of these tripartite endentid to remayne with the priest of my seid chauntry and hise successoure3, and other parte therof with the priour of the seid monasterie. And alle the resude of the seid will with myñ executoure3. Providyng alwey that as longe as myn executoure3 be levvyng, yf any thyng nede and is behovefull in any parcell of myñ will to be reformed for the better entente, I wole that m̄y seid executoure3 reforme it after there discrecion, as they will answeare before God. And I pray and requir̄ alle m̄y feoffes of alle myn maners, londes, and tenementes withynne the shire of Suff., and in any other shire, to make or do make a lawfull estate at the request of myñ executours, accordyng to myn will and testament, whan they or any of them be requyred.

William Shepard, of Mendelysham.—1537.

In Dei noie Amen. The xijth day of December, in the yere of our Lord God M^l ccccc^{mo} xxxvij^{mo}, the xxixth yere of the reigne of our sou⁹aigñ lord king Henry the viij, protector of the feyth and the suppreme hed immediatly vnd^r God of thys catholyke Church of Englonde, I, Will^am Shepard, of Mendelysh^am, in the countie of Suff. holl of mynde and good remembrance, make my testament and last wyll as hereaft^r foloyth: Fyrst and before all o^y thynge, accordyng to the p^fec^çon of my babt^ym, I forsake synne, and, agreyng to the othe that I p^mysyd to God and to my pryñce, which ys your suppreme hed of thys church of Englonde immediatly vnder God, I also forsake the Bysshoppe of Romes vsurpyt pouer wherin he caused me to trust, and commytte me vnto God and to hys marcy, trustyng w^oute any dowte our mistrust that by hys grace and the meret^e of Jesu Cryst, and by the verteu of the holy passyon and of hys resurrec^çon, I haue and shall haue remyssyon of my synn^e and resurrec^çon of body and sowle. (Here I wold not that men shuld say that I dyspyset other holsome sacrament^e or good seremony. But because I am rude and vnlearnyd, and know not the scriptur, and therfor loke what God^e Word sayth of theym, that saym do I beleue w^out any dowte or mystrust.) As touchyng the whelth of my sowle, my grond and beleue ys that their ys but one God, and one Mediator betwene God and mā, which ys Ihesu Cryst, so that I do excepte none in heuyn nor in erth to be my medeator betwene me and God bot only Ihesu Cryst. (Here in thys poynte I wolde not y^t mē shuld thynk that I regard not the prey^r of my Crysten bretheryn, bot that I desyre all good Crysten bretheryn to pray w^t me that God^e wyll myght be done in me and in all men; ffor herin I trust to the p^myse of God, he that beleuyth and ys baptyssed shalbe sauyd, and he that beleuyth not shalbe damnyd.) And as towchyng the buryng of my body, I remytt yt ouly to the dyscre^çon of my executryx. And as towchyng the dystribu^çon of my tempall goods, my purpos ys, by the grace of God, to be stow them as frut^e of fayth, so that I do not suppose that my meryte be by good bestowyng of theym, but my meryte ys by the fayth of Ihesu Cryst only, by which fayth suche work^e are good. (Here in thys poynt I wold not that mē shuld thynk that I dysspote good workē, bot becuse we haue ben most cheffy deceuyd by the trust and cōfydence that we had in our workē, making theym equall w^t Cryste ꝑcious blod, therfor I wold we shuld cōsyder the true sentens, that a good worke makyth not a gud mā, bot a good mā maketh a good worke, for faith maketh the mā bothe good [and] reghtues, for a ryghteouse mā leuyth by faith. What so eu^o spryngyth not of faith is synne.) I wyll that Margery my wyff haue my howse and all my landē, bothe free and copie, sett, lying, and beyng wⁱⁿ the towne of Mendelysh^m afore seid. And yff God send of my body begoton, be yt son or doȝht^r, I wyll the chyld shall haue the seid house and londē at the age of xxj^{ti} yerys, and she to leue the chyld the seid londē all holl as she had theym of me, with iiij horse and iiij neet. And if she departe the world before the chyld come to the age of xxj yeres, then I will that she chose ij honest and just mē to be hir attorney, to the behowe of the chyld, to se the lordē rent payd, and the howse repaired, and they contentyd for their paynes takyng; and the ou^o plus I wyll yt be bestowed yerely amonge my kynred where most nede ys, tyll the chyld be at xxj yeres of age; and if so be the chyld dept the world before hyr, or if she be not w^t chyld by me, I wyll that she chose ij honest men to be hir attorney, and she to make a wyll of a sale of the seid house and londē to hir best auantage, and the one halfe of the money to be dystributyd among my kynred wher most nede ys, and the o^r halfe to be deuydet in ij partē, the one part to the mendyng of the fowle slowys betwene thys my howse and Reuyttē gate to the rode ward, and the other halfe to hir chyldryn, yf God send hir any by another husband; and if God send nay chydren, I wyll that y^t pt also go to dedē of charyte whith in the towne of Mendelysh^m. Iīm I geue to Thom^s Poole a blake horse, also a ronyd colte, and to his doȝht^r, my godchylde, a rede stere calfe. Iīm to Robart Aues my lad I gyue a rede calfe. Iīm I geue to Jone Whytyng, the doȝht^r of Ryč Whytyng of Agatha Borrowdale, of Bury.—1613.

In the name of God Amen. The sixteenth daie of October, Anno Dñi 1613, I, Agatha Borowdale, of Burie St. Edmonds, in the countie of Suff., wydowe, beinge in good and perfect memorye, thancks be to Almightye God, doe make and ordeine this my present last will and testament, in manner and forme followinge: First, I bequeath and cōmend my sowle vnto Almightye God my maker, hopinge of the p̄don of all my sinnes in y^e riche merites and deathe of Jesus Christ my Saviour; and my bodie to be buried wher it shall please God to dispose of the same. Alsoe I giue and bequeath vnto the poore of Newmerkytt, in the countie of Cambridge, one añuytie or yerelie rent of tenne shillinges yerelie, imediatlie after my decease, to be yssueinge and growinge owte of my teñte w^h thappteñnc̄ in Burie Saint Edmonds, in the countye of Suff. w^h I purchased of Edmond Myllesonne, gent. scituate in the Crowne Streete, ats Churchgovell Street, betwene y^e tenement of Sir Wiffm Poolye, knight, and Dame Anne his wyfe, on the northe, and the comon streete called Westgate Streete on the sowthe, yerely for ever, to be paid vnto the churchwardens and overseers of the poore of the said towne for y^e tyme being, att the ffeast of the Anūtyaḥōn of the Virgine Marie; and yf it shall happen y^e said añutye or yerely rent, or any parte theirof, to be behinde and vnpaid, it shall and maye be lawfull for the overseers and churchwardens aforesaid for the tyme beinge and their successors, to enter in to the said teñte, or anye thapp^rtenñe, and to distreine for the same soe often as the same shall happen to be behinde and vnpaid, and the distres or distreses to deteine vntill the said anuytie and the arrerage of the same shalbe truely paid. Alsoe I giue another añuytie or yerely rent of tenne shillings, ymediatlie after my decease to be yssueinge owte of the same, and for ever shalbe, vnto the poore people of the pishe of St. Maryes in Burie aforesaid; and for defalte of paym^t, the overseers and churchwardens of the pishe aforesaid to enter and distraine for the same in suche sorte as I have lymitted for y^e poore of Newm^pkytt aforesaid. Alsoe I giue and bequeath a nother anuytie or yerelie rent of tenne shillings, yssueinge owte of the premisses, and ymediatlye after my decease yearelie payable, vnto suche learned preacher as shalbe provyded by the inhabitants of Newmerkytt aforesaid, to preache in y^e chappell of the said towne, onlye for suche tyme or tymes as a preacher shalbe by them or some other good meanes their prouided, and shall ther preache. And for suche tyme as noe preacher shalbe their puided, by all that tyme my will is the same be yerelye bestowed vpon repayringe of the comon waye leadinge from Saxon Streete in Woodedytton, in the said countie of Cambridge, vnto the church of Woode-dytton aforesaid; but when and soe often as a preacher shalbe prouided for at the chappell aforesaid, then my will is the same to be paid vnto the said preacher toward^e his better maynetenance for ever. Also I giue another añuytie or yerelie rent of tenne shillings, ymediately after my decease yssueinge owte of the premisses and payable towards y^e mayntenance of the preacher of Sainte Maryes pishe, in Burie aforesaid, to the hands of the alderman and assistaunce of the same towne for the tyme beinge and ther successors for ever. All w^{ch} paym^{ts} to be yerelie made at y^e ffeast of the Anūtya^ōn of the Virgine Marie. And yf it fortune the said twoe last anuyties or yerelye rents, or either of them, to be behinde or vnpaid at the daies aforesaid, then and soe often as it shall soe happen to be behinde or vnpaid it shall and maie be lawfull to and for the ald^erman, assistaunce, and chiefe burgesses of the towne of Burie aforesaid for the tyme beinge, or any other by their appointment, and my desire is they wolde be pleased soe to doe, into the premisses from tyme to tyme, soe often as neede shall require, to enter and distreine, and the distres to detine vntill the said anuities or yerely rents shalbe fullye paid; w^{ch} last rent for Newemerkett I desire the saide alderman, assistance, and chiefe burgesses from tyme to tyme, soe often as they shalbe constrained to distraine for the same, to see it paid to suche as they shall vnderstand of righte ye same to be due vnto, whether towards ye mayntenance of a preacher in Newmarkett, or towards the repayinge of ye waie aforesaid, yerelie as the same shall happen to be due, accordinge to my true intent and meaninge. Also I giue and bequeath vnto my grandchild Susan Myleson my said teñte, wth all and singler ther app^rtenñce, to have and to houlde to her and the heires of her bodie for ever; notwthstandinge my will and meaninge is that the said Edmond shall have the same duringe suche tyme as he shalbe sole and vnmarried, as it was agreed betweene vs at the purchase of the same. And in defalte of suche yssue to Agatha Mileson her sister, and the heires of her bodie for ever. And for defalte of suche yssue to Borowdale Myleson, and the heires of his bodie for ever. And for defalte of suche yssues asbovesaid, my will is that the fowre severall anuyties aforesaid shall cease, and then I will that the teñtes aforesaid, wth thapp^rtenñce, shall remaine and be vnto the aforesaid Edmond Mileson duringe his naturall life; and after his decease I will the same remayne and be vnto Frauncis Foulkes clarke, Robert Lukyn of Cambridge gent. and Robert his sonne, Thom^{as} Kilborne of Woodedytton, and Thom^{as} Kilborne and George Kilborne his sonnes, Symon Foulkes of Westlie, and Symon Foulkes his sonne, John Hasell of Bottisham, and Richard Hasell his sonne, and to their heires for ever, vpon trust and confidence that they from tyme to tyme shall keepe the same in sufficient repaçoñs, and shall demise the same at a valewable rent, and to the best profite, and make noe lease of ye same for anie longer terme

then seaven yeres, and shall yerelie for euer devide the pfitēs therof, y^e charges of necessarie repa^cōns defalked, into five equall parts: one parte therof my will is shall for ever yerely be distributed amongst the poore people of Newmerkitt aforesaid, by the chiefe inhabitants of the same towne; another pte thereof amoungst the poore people of the parishe of Saint Maries in Burie aforesaid; another parte therof towards the mayntenance of a learned preacher in the chappell aforesaid; another parte theirol towards the mayntenance of a lerned preacher in the churche of S^t. Maries aforesaid; and the other pte towards the repayringe of the waie aforesaid, and other comon wayes wthin the pishe of Woodeditton, to be bestowed by the discre^cōn of the inhabitants of the said towne of Woodedytton aforesaid, owte of w^{ch} profits notwthstandinge my will and mynde is that at everie seaven yeres end the said Frauncis Foulkes, Ro^bte Luken, Ro^bte Lukyn, Thom^as Kilborne, Thomas Kilborne, George Kilborne, Symon Foulkes, Symon Foulkes, John Hasell, and Richard Hasell, and everie of them w^{ch} shalbe then above the age of one and twentic yeres, shall have for their paines a ringe of goulde of the price of thirtie shillinges, and yerelye suche reasonable charges as they shalbe at in repayreinge of the same messuage, and over that for their paynes and travell: prouided alwayes, and nevertheles my will and mynde is, y^t yf the said inhabitants of Burie and Newmerkitt aforesaid, or either of them, doe not prouide, or if by other meanes ther happen not to be provyded, in the said chappell and churche respectively learned preachers, that then those that shall fayle therin, their parte respectively of the whole profits of the teñts aforesaid, bequeathed as abouesaid towards the maynetenance of the same preachers, in default therof, shalbe distributed amoungst the poore people of Newmerkitt, in the countie of Cambridge, and of Woodedytton aforesaid, yerelye for suche and soe longe tyme or tymes onely as the said places, or either of them respectively, shall happen to be soe vnprovdyed. And alsoe my will is that, the same beinge provyded, everie of the said preachers neglectinge or not preachinge by him selfe or soñe other learned man, and not letted by sicknes, shall for everye Sondaye soe omyttinge to preache loose twoe shillinges and sixe pence owte of his said exhibiçõn, towards the releife of the poore of Saint Maryes in Burie and of Newmerkett in Cambridshaire, to be defalked owte by the said feoffes in trust, and paid over accordinge to my true intent and meaninge. Alsoe my will and earnest desire is, that yf it shall please God all my said graundchildren doe dye wthowte yssue, that they, my said freinds to whome I have herebye lymitted the remainder in trust, as is abovesaid, when the number of them shalbe decreased and broughte to three or lesse, that then the survyvo^rs doe conveye the said teñte vpon trust and confidence as aforesaid to them selves and seaven or more suche other honest and able persons of credit and reputation as shalbe likely to imploye the profites of the same accordinge to my meanige, as they in ther discreçõs, wth the assistaunce of the preachers of y^e churche and chappell aforesaid, shall seme fittest; and when those feoffes shall decrease and drawe vnto the nvmber of fowre or lesse, my will is that those survivinge shall elect seaven or more like feoffes vnto them, and that the same be conveyed againe to the said survyvors and the newe elected feoffes, vpon trust and confidence as abovesaid; and soe from tyme to tyme soe often as the feoffes shall decrease to the nvmber of three or lesse, my will and desire is that a like newe nvmber of feoffes as abovesaid, and for the purpose abovesaid, shalbe elected, and the premisses to them conveyed, desiringe them all in the feare of God to see y^e same revenewes dulye employed accordinge to this my present last will and testam^{te}, as my truste is in them, and as they will aunswere when we shall meete at Gods judgm^{te} seate. Alsoe I giue and bequeathe vnto the said Borowdale Mileson his greate grandfather's, Mr. Richard Borowdale's, seale ringe of gould. Alsoe I giue and bequeath vnto the said Agatha Myleson all that hundred poundes w^{ch} the aforesaid Edmond Mileson standeth bound to paie vnto suche of his children as I shall lymitt and appointe the same vnto by my last will; but if she die before she have receyved the same, I will and bequeathe the same vnto Suzan Mileson her sister; and if she dye before she have receyved the same, then I will and bequeath the same to be paid to the saide Borowdale Myleson. Alsoe I giue and bequeath vnto John Foulkes, sonne of Roger Foulkes, clarke, deceased, the sōme of sixe pounds, thirtene shillings, and fowre pence, to be paid him owte of the said teñte at his age of one and twentie yeres, or at suche tyme as he shall be preferred to the vniversitie as a scoller, or be bound owte an apprentice to sōme good trade of life, w^{ch} shall first happen; and for defalte of paym^{te} my will and mynde is y^t he enter into the said teñte and hould the same vntill owte of the renews therof he shall have levyed the same. Alsoe I giue and confyrme vnto the said Agatha Myleson all suche plate, lynnen, pewter, brasse, beddinge, and howshold stufe, as I and the said Edmond longe agoe did give vnto her by a jointe deede of guift, and suche other howshold stufte as is marked wth the letters of her name. Alsoe I giue and bequeathe vnto the said Susan Mileson all suche other my plate, lynnen, pewter, brasse, and other howshold stufe, as was not conteyned in the said deede of guifte, or w^{ch} I boughte synce the makinge therof. The residue of all my goods and chattells, my debtes paid and my funerall expenses discharged, I giue and bequeath vnto the said Agatha, whom I hereby noñate and appointe my sole executrix, and my aforesaid welbeloved kinesman Mr. Robt Lukyn the overseer of this my present last will and testam^{te}, w^{ch} overseer I desire to have a care to see this my p^sent laste will and testam^{te} pformed, as my trust is in him. William Cooke, gent. of Bury.—1614.

This is the last will and testament of me, Wiffm Cooke, of Burie St. Edmond, in the countie of Suff., wthin the dyoces of Norw^{ch}, gent. wrytten wth myne owne hande, beinge of whole mynde and pfect remembrance, thancked be God, made and declared the twentie daye of Aprill, in the yere of the reigne of our soveraigne lord James, by the grace of God kinge of England, Fraunce, and Ireland, defendo^r of the ffaithe, &c. the twelvth, and of Skottland the seaven and fortie, and in the yere of our Lord a thowsaund sixe hundred and fowreteene, hereby revokinge all other wills and testaments heretofore by me made; and above all thinges I wholie and fullye comend and giue my soule into the handes of Almightye God, the Father, the Sonne, and the Holye Ghost, havinge full hope, trust, and confydence of pdon and forgyvenes of all my synnes and offences, and that onlye by the merites of my onlye Savio^r Jesus Christ, his passion, resurrection, and assention, and therby to be one of his elect; and my bodie to the earthe, to be buried, as my desire is, in the churchyarde of Burie aforesaid, neere to my children, in seemely manner, therin avoyding, as myche as maye convenientlie be, all vsuall owteward and vayne ostentaçon. And of this my last will and testament I make and ordaine Margarett my wyfe my sole executrix. And I gyve and bequeath to the said Margarett my messuages, or teñtes, scituate and beinge in or neere the streete called or knowne by the name of the Colledge Streete, a^{ts} Barnewell Streete, a^{ts} Hencote Streete, in Burie St. Edmond aforesaid, wth all the howses, buyldinges, edyfices, cellers, chambers, yards, gardens, orchards, grounds, easements, comodityes, and priueledges to the same, or either or anye of them, belonging, wth all and everie ther or anye of their appurten^{anc}e, and the reu^{er}çon and reversions of the same, to haue and to houlde the same messuages, teñtes, and premises, wth the appurten^{anc}e, to the said Margarett my wyfe and her assignes for and duringe all the terme of her naturall lyfe, and alsoe for the terme of fowre yeres nexte and imediately after her decease, for her the same Margarett, her eñor or assignes, to sell, vse, and dispose the same terme of fowre yeres for her and y^{er} best comoditye and profytc. And, havinge had longe experience of the malycious disposiçon of Richard Cooke my sonne towards the saide Margarett my wyfe, and fearinge he will be troublesome, and molest and disturbe her after my decease, as well in her possession as by col^r of a request or desire mentyoned in the last will and testam^{te} of Henrie Payne of me deceased, dated in the moneth of June, in the tenth yere of the reigne of o^r late sovereigne ladie Queene Elizabeth, that one peece of plate and some other thinge gyven to me by the same last will and testam^{te} might be left to the said Richard overlyvinge me, some of w^{ch} thinges are worne, and y^e said peece of plate have byne owte of my possession by the space of a dozen yeares and more, and nowe come to the possession of suche one as I knowne not, and soe owte of hope of the havinge againe of the same, and havinge a care to provide for the quiett of the said Margarett my wyfe against y^e said Richard, whoe was of longe tyme verie chargable to me in his education and bringinge vpp in learninge, and the same peece of plate and other thinges beinge at my free disposiçon to bestowe at my will; I will, therefore, that the said Richard my sonne shall and doe make sale and delyver as his deede to the saide Margarett, her eñor or admiñstrato^rs, w^{thin} twoe monethes nexte after my decease, accomptinge either of the same monethes after the rate of eighte and twentie daies to the monethe, a good and a sufficient release of all acçons, suytes, and demaunds psonall whatsoever; and then I will that, w^{thin} fowreteene daies nexte after such release made and deliued as ys aforesaid, vpon request to be made to the said Margarett by the said Richard my sonne, the same Margarett shall delyver or cause to be delyvered to the same Richard all my bookes w^{ch} I shall have at the tyme of my decease, concerninge the comon lawe or statut^e of this realme of England, and in defalte of the makeinge and delyveringe of suche a release as is aforesaid, in manner and forme aforesaid, my intent and meaning is, that the same Richard shall not have y^e same bookes, nor anye of them. And further I will that yf the same Richard my sonne shall or doe at anye tyme trouble, disquiet, molest, or anye waies disturbe, vex, or sue the seid Margarett, or take anye goods, chattells, plate, howshould stufe, or other thinge w^{ch} I shall leave, contrarie to my true meanige herein, then I will and devise that the said messuages, houses, buyldinges, and premises, w^h all and singler ther and everye of ther appurteñce, shall remayne and be to and for the benefyte, profyte, and comoditie of the said Margarett, her e^xer, administrators, or assignes, for the terme of sixe whole yeres over and besydes the aforesaid fowre yeaes before devised to her nexte and imediately ensewinge the same fowre yeres ended, for the same Margarett to sell or dispose in her lyfe, or to be sould, vsed, or disposed by her e^xer, admīsr, or assignes, for her or their best benefyte, profyte, and comoditie for the same terme. All the rest of my goods, chattells, plate, ymplem^te, howsholde stufe, and other goods whatsoever not herein gyven or otherwyse disposed, my debtes beinge paid and other necessarie thinges pformed, I doe wholie giue and bequeath vnto the said Margaret my wyfe, and soe I end. In wyttnes wherof I have herevnto sett my hand and sealed y^e same. Dated the daye and yeaes first above written, per me Wiffm Cooke. Wittnesses hereof, John Shawberye, John Jewell. Memorand, that the xvjth of Maye 1617, the testator above mentyoned did acknowledge and publishe y^e writinge before in this presence conteyned to be the last will and testament of him the said above mentyoned William Cooke, beinge in noe part therof raced or interlyned, in the presence of vs witnesses thereto especially called, Wiffm Bedell, Edward Page.

[Lib. Gaell, f. 198.]

Francis Pynner, of Bury, Gent.—1639.

In the name of God Amen. The six and twentieth daie of Aprill, in the fiftenth yere of the raigne of our sou^oaigne Lord Charles, by the grace of God of England, Scotland, France, and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, &c. and in the yere of our Lord God 1639, I, Francis Pynner, of Bury St. Edmund's, in the county of Suff. gent. being of good and pfect minde and memory, praised bee my Heavenly Father for the same, hereby revoking and makeing void and frustrate all other former wills and testam^{ts} heretofore by me made (either nuncupative or in writeing) doe make and ordaine this to bee my last will and testam^t, in mann^o and forme following: (that is to saie) First and before all things I comend my soule into the mercifull hands of God, assuredly trusting and confidently beleiveing that by the p^ociouſ bloud-shedding of my onely saviour and deare redeem^o Jesus Christ I shall haue free pardon and remission of all my sinnes, and after the end of this vayne and transitory life to be received into his blessed kingdome, amongst his holy angells, elect saints, and chosen children, with them to remaine in ppetuall joyes and vnspeakable felicitye for ever. My bodie I comitt to the earth, whence it was first taken, to be buried in a xpian manner, according to my place and ranke wherin I live and wherevnto I am called in this world, nothing doubting of a happie resurreccõn vnto eternall salvaçõn. And whereas I haue already settled by covenants the greatest part of my lands, tenements, and hereditam^{ts}, according to my minde and good likeing in that behalfe, I doe hereby declare my will and minde for and concerning the rest and residue of my lands, tenem^{ts}, and hereditam^{ts}, as followeth: (that is to saie) First I giue and bequeath my messuage called the Colledge, wherein I nowe dwell, and my two messuages therevnto adioyninge, whereof one is in the occupaçõn of Henry Booty, or of his assignes, and the other of them in the occupaçõn of John Hynes, or of his assignes, wth their and eu^oy of their appurtenances, vnto such pson and psons as at the tyme of my death shalbe the right heire or heires vnto mee the said Francis Pynner, to remaine to my said right heires and to their heires and assignes for ever: provided alwaies, and my will and minde is, and I doe hereby devise and appoint, that my loving cosen Mr. Jeremy Burrow, clerke, shall haue the private vse of the chamber wthin the said messuage called the Colledge, wherein the said Jeremy Burrowes hath vsually abode and lodged in when he hath come to the said messuage called the Colledge; and also the private vse of all the bed and bedding co^monly vsed in the said chamber, wth free ingresse, egressse, and regresse into and from the said chamber, and into and from the yards belonging to the said messuage called the Colledge, for him the said Jeremy, or for anie other pson that he shall think fitt to accompany him, for the entertainm^t, vse, and lodgeing, of him the said Jeremy Burrowe, and his freind whom he shall thinke fitt to accompany him, from time to time and at all times, at the will and pleasure of the said Jeremy, dureing his naturall life, when and as often as hee the said Jeremy shall come to kepe and lodge in the same chamber. Item I giue and bequeath all my tenem^{ts}, as well freehold as copyhold, wth their appurten^{cs}, now or late time being in the tenure or occupaçõn of John Harrison, or of his assignee or assignes, scituate and being in or nere to the place called the Fishmarkett, in Bury aforesaid, vnto my grandchild Rebecca Browning, dureing her naturall life, and after her decease the same to be and remaine vnto her sister Dorcas Browninge, and to her heires and assignes for ever. Item I give and bequeath my twoe meadowes now or late in the occupaõn of the said John Harrison, or of his assignee or assignes, wth thappurtenances, vnto my grandchild Vallentine Elsdén, the sonne of my sonne-in-lawe Vallentine Elsdén, and to the heires and assignes of the said Vallentine Elsdén my grandchild for ever. Item I giue and bequeath vnto Jeremy Elsdén, my grandchild, and his heires and assignes for ever, my messuage or tenem^t, wth thappurtencē, scituate and being in or nere to the streete called the Whiteinge Streete, in Bury aforesaid, now in the tenure or occupaõn of one Elizabeth Smith, widowe, or of her assignes. Item I giue and bequeath my meadow w^{ch} I purchased of Wiffm Heyward, gent. vnto my kinsman Timothie Atkinson the yonger, and the heires of his body lawfully begotten for ever (if the said Timothy Atkinson shalbe abideing wth me at the time of my decease), and for defalt of such issue, then the same to remaine to the right heires of me the said Francis Pynner for ever. Item, whereas my late wives kinsman Francis Potter, of Bury St. Edmund, baker, at the late heavy visitaõn did take great paines about me in the time of my trouble, in regard I cold gett noe body to helpe me, and that all my houshold fledd from me and left me both comfortles (in respect that at that time I had my man dyed of the sicknes) when my selfe and my wife were boeth lame; in consideraõn thereof I haue infeoffed the said Francis Potter and his heires for ever in twoe messuages or tenem^{ts} in Bury St. Edmund aforesaid, in thoccupaõn of the said Francis Potter and John Kinge, the said Francis Potter payeing vnto meethe said Francis Pynner, or my assignes, dureing my naturall life the sūme of ten pounds p annū of lawfull money of England (as by the feoffm^t thereof made more at large it may and doth appeare). Item, whereas Elizabeth Pell, the wife of Wiffm Pell thelder, and

John Pell their sonne, did take like paines about me, as is before mençoned, in the time of my great callamity and heavie visitaçon, as is aboue specified, I doe giue and bequeath vnto the said Wiffm Pell and John Pell all and singler suche sūme and sūmes of money as the saide Wiffm and John doe owe vnto mee either by bonds, bills, or any waies or means whatsoeu^r. Item in consideraçon that John Newgate, of Bury St. Edmund, malster, diuers and sondry times hath come and resorted to comfort and conferr wth me in the time of my sorrowe and heavines, I doe giue and bequeath vnto him the said John Newgate the sūme of ffoure pounds of lawfull money of England, to be paid vnto him wthin one yere next after my decease. Item, whereas Roßt Walker, of Bury aforesaid, stationer, was somewhat helpfull vnto me at the said time of my visitaçon, I doe giue and bequeath vnto the said Roßt Walker the sūme of ffortie shillings of lauffull money of England, to be paid vnto him within one yere next after my decease. Item I giue and bequeath vnto my cosen Cicely Godfrey ffive pounds of lawfull money of England, to be paid vnto her wthin one yeare next after my decease. Item I giue and bequeath vnto my godson Mr. Richard Baker, of London, and his sonne, foure pounds a peice of lawfull money of England, to be paid vnto them within one yere next after my decease. Item I giue and bequeath vnto my said cosen Mr. Jeremy Burrows tenn pounds of lawfull money of England, to be paid vnto him within one yere next after my decease. Item I giue and bequeath vnto Francis Burrowes ffive pounds of lawfull money of England, to be paid vnto him within one yeare next after my decease. Item I giue and bequeath vnto Samuel Burrowes ffive poundes of lawfull money of England, to be paid vnto him wthin one yere next after my decease. Ifm I giue and bequeath vnto Frances Atkinson, the wife of Timothy Atkinson thelder, ffive pounds of lawfull money of England, to be paid vnto her wthin one yere next after my decease. Item I giue and bequeath vnto Timothy Atkinson, the sonne of the said Timothy, the sūme of fiue pounds of lawfull money of England, to be paid vnto him within one yere next after my decease. Item I give, will, and devise vnto my grandchilde Robt Gooderich, and his heires and assignes for ever, all those my lands, both copy and free, wth thappurteñce, lyeing in the townes and feilds of Barton Magna, in the county aforesaid, or Bury St. Edmund abovesaid, or in either of them, w^{ch} I lately bought and purchased of Wiffm Nutt, of Barton aforesaid, and doe containe together by estimaçõn sixtene acres, be there more or lesse, vpon condiçõn notwthstanding that the said Robt Gooderich, his executo^{rs}, administrato^{rs}, or assignes shall well and truely paie vnto the said Mr. Jeremy Burrowes, John Newgate, Robt Walker, Mr. Richard Baker, and his sonne, Cicely Godfrey, Francis Burrowes, Samuel Burrowes, Frances Atkinson, and Timothy Atkinson, if they come and demand it of him, all the said legacies and sūmes of money before herein by me p^ticularly giuen and bequeathed vnto them and eu^y of them, in such mann^y and forme, and at such times, as before are mençõned and expressed. Item I giue and bequeath vnto such p^{rs}ons as within foure monethes next after my decease shalbe new elected ffeoffees of the lands, tenem^{ts}, and hereditam^{ts}, belonging to the coñon proffitt of Bury St. Edmund aforesaid, by what name or names they or any of them are or shalbee called or knowne, all that my messuage or tenem^t, wth thappurtenance, scituate and being in or neere the streete called the Whiteing Streete, in Bury St. Edmund aforesaid, nowe being in the tenure or occupaçõn of Richard Randall or of his assignes, being of the yerely rent of twentie markes of lawfull English money p ^{annū}, by him paid vnto me quarterly for the same, to haue and to hold to the said p^{rs}ons w^{ch} shalbe newly elected ffeoffees, as aforesaid, and to their heires and assignes for ever, vpon trust and confidence neutheles that the said ffeoffees and all and eu^y p^{son} and p^{sons} w^{ch} from and after the time of my departure out of this world shalbe seised of the said messuage, wth thappurteñce, in thoccupaçõn of the said Richard Randall or his assignes, shall yerely and every yere for ever from and after the feast of St. Michaell tharchangell next after my decease, out of the said yerely rent and proffitts of the said messuage, wth thappurteñçç, provide and giue to ffoure skore poore people of the pish of St. Mary, in Bury aforesaid, for the time being (whereof tenn to be men, thirty women, and fortie to be children), alwaies in the moneth of Novemb^r yearelie, as of my charitable guift and benevolence, one shirt or a smock, according to their seu^l all sorts and sexes. And shall alsoe out of the yerely rents, renews, and pfitts of y^e same messuage, wth thappurteñçç, vpon the last Friday in e^uy moneth throughout the yere, yerely and e^uy yere for ever, from and after the feast of St. Michaell tharchangell next after my decease, provide and give one twoepenny wheaten loafe to and for ffortie poore people that shall then come to the pish church of St. Marie, in Bury aforesaid, and then inhabiteing in the same pish of St. Mary, and then be catachised in the same church by the then minister of the same church, or by some other sufficient learned minister of the word, to be by him from time to time in that behalfe deputed or appointed, (that is to say,) to e^uy one of the said forty poore people one twoepenny wheaten loafe. And my will and minde is that all the said bread shalbe from time to time be made, baked, and sent to the said church by my late wives said kinsman Francis Potter, soe longe as he shall live, and shalbe distributed amongst the said poore people at the times aforesaid by the clarke, sexten, and bedell of the said pish of St. Mary for the time then beeing, or by some of them, and the said clarke, sexton, and bedell, or soe many of them as from time to time shalbe p^rsent at the said catechising, to haue the inbread of the said bread w^{ch} shalbe brought and provided as aforesaid. And I will that out of the yerely rents and proffitts of the said messuage, wth thappurteñçç, the minister of the said pish of St. Maries for the time being, and catechiseing of the said poore, or causeing them to be catechised as aforesaid, shall haue yerely for ever twenty shillings out of the said rent for his and their paines taking in catechiseing as aforesaid. And my will and meaning is that, if any overplus shalbee of the rents and proffitts of the said mess^{g^o}, wth thappurteñcē, more then shall suffice for the pformance of the said godly and charitable vses herein before limited and appointed, and for the repa^çõns of the same messuage, wth thappurtencē, and the paym^t of the lordē rent due for the same from time to time, that the same overplus shall from tyme and to time, by the said new elected ffeoffees of the said messuage for the time then being, be imployed to and for the buyeing and provideing of horne bookes and primers to be giuen to poore children of the said pish of St. Maries, in Bury aforesaid. And whereas I am possessed of a certaine lease for the terme of thirty or fortie yeres or thereabouts, therein yet to come and vnexpired, of and in fowre se^uall houses or tenem^{ts} (lately by me newly builded), wth their appteñcē, scituate and being in or neere to the streete or place called the Mustowe, in Bury Saint Edmund aforesaid, now or of late tyme being in the se^uall tenures or occupa^çõns of Henry Clarke, Rob^t Parker, Peter Newman, and John Dickenson, or of their or some of their assignee or assignes, the yerely rents of w^{ch} said fowre houses or tenem^{ts} due and payable to mee together doe amount to eleaven pounds p annū or thereabouts, I doe hereby give and bequeath all the said foure tenem^{ts} and eu^y of them, with their appurteñcē, vnto such psons as within fowre monthes next after my decease shalbee newly elected ffeoffees of the lands and tenem^{ts} belonging to the co^mon proffitt of the inhitants of Bury St. Edmund aforesaid, to haue and to hold to them and their assignes from and after the feast of St. Michaell tharchangell next comeing after the daie of my de^pt^ure out of this world, for and dureing all the rest and residue of the said lease and terme of yeres, w^{ch} shalbe therein to come and vnexpired, vpon trust and confidence alsoe that they and all those w^{ch} from and after my decease shalbe possessed of the said lease and terme shall yerely and eu^y yere from and after the feast of St. Michaell tharchangell next after my death, dureing all the continuance of the said lease and terme, imploy the yerely rents of the said foure tenem^{ts} according to my will and minde herevnder expressed and declared :

(that is to saye), the yerely sūme of ffive pounds ꝑcell of the said yerely rents to be bestowed in wheaten bread, to be made into penny loaves, and vpon eu^y Lord's day, called Sunday, throughout eu^y yere of the said terme, fowre and twenty loaves of the said bread, wth the inbread allowed by the baker for those twoe dosens of bread, to be timely brought and sett vpon a forme towards the vpp end of the chancell of the said pish church of St. Mary (or where the minister of that pish for the time being shall appointe), in the mornings of the same daies, before the beginning of diuine service in the said church vpon those seu^oall dayes; and after the end and finishing of diuine service and sermon in that church that day, the same twoe dosens of bread to be giuen and distributed by the minister, churchwardens, and overseers of the poore of the said pish, or any twoe of them, for the time then beeing, whereof the minister of the said church for the time then being allwaies to be one (if he shall soe please), to and amongst fowre and twenty poore people w^{ch} shalbe then inhabiteing in the said pish of St. Maries, and shalbe knowne to bee that day at the church of St. Maries aforesaid, at diuine service there, and before the first lesson for that day shalbe read in the said church. And my will and minde is that the pish clarke and sexton of the said church, and the beadle of the said pish of St. Marie for the time then being, shall alwaies be three w^{ch} from time to time shall haue their shares and parts in the said bread. And they, the said clarke, sexton, and bedell, shall alwaies haue the inbread of all the bread aforesaid, ov^r and besides their shares in the said twoe dosens of bread from time to time, and I will that all the said bread shall from time to time be bought and taken of and from the said Francis Potter, as long as he shall live. And I doe hereby earnestly intreate the said ffeoffees and others trusted and w^{ch} shalbe trusted and imploied in and about the bestowing of the saide charitable guifts or any of them, that (as much as in them shall lye) they employ the same to and for the comfort and reliefe of all impotent and honest poore people inhabiteing or w^{ch} for the time then being shall inhabite and dwell within the pish of St. Maries, in Bury aforesaid, and that no bastard, whoremonger, nor any pson vehementlie suspected of whoredom or vncleane life shalbe ptaker of my said charitable guiftes, or any of them. And I will my grandchildren or any of them (if they will) shall from time to time haue the noñation and appointm^t of such poore people as they or any of them shall thinke well of, inhabiteing, or w^{ch} for the time being shall inhabite, wthin the said pish of St. Marie, in Bury St. Edmund aforesaid, to haue the benefitt of my said charitable guifts. And further my will and minde is that, from and after thend and expiraçõn of the first yere next after my depture of this world, the said ffeoffees, and those psons w^{ch} from time to time dureing the continuance of the said lease and terme shall for the time then beeing be possessed of the said lease and terme, shall yerely and eu^y yere dureing all the rest of the said lease and terme w^{ch} shalbe then to come and vnexpired laye out and disburse ffive pounds of lawfull English money in and about puttinge out of ffive poore children, borne in the said pish of St. Maries, to be app^tntices or to service, wherein I wold that the children w^{ch} from time to time for the time then beeing shalbe in the coñmon workinghouse of Bury aforesaid shalbe p^rferred to be bound out or putt to service wth the helpe of my said guift (if it may be done convenientlie) before such children or childe as shall not before that time haue bene kept and trained vp to work in the said workinghouse. And I will that the overplus of the yerely rents of the said foure tenem^{ts} shall from time to time goe and bee employed for and towards the paym^t of the chiefe rent reserved in and by the indenture of lease thereof to me made, and for and towards the repaçõns of the same houses as neede shall require. And whereas divers doners haue of their great loves bestowed vpon the said burgh of Bury St. Edmund, not onely divers sūmes of money, but also certaine landes, tenem^{ts}, meadowes, and pastures, to bee for a ppetuall remembrance for ever, and did noñate divers ffeoffees to be putt in trust for a succession for ever, and that from time to time there shold be a perpetuall nominaçõn of those feoffees, especially when the number was come to ffourtene; yet notwthstanding, by the negligence of those that were putt in truste, the nominaçõn, although from time to time and yere to yere they haue bene importuned therevnto, and I thinke it is to noe good intent, but howsoeu^r I knowe it is a great losse to the poore and the inhabitants vpon mine owne knowledge, by guifts given by my selfe and some others that are not paid accordingly; and besides I had an intent to bestowe somewhat to some charitable vses, w^{ch} I knowe not well how to doe because the feoffm^t is drawne to soe fewe a number, w^{ch} diuers times hath bene promised to be renued, but yet is not; and therefore my will and minde is that, if the said feoffm^t be not renued wthin fowre monethes next after my decease, then all my said legacies heretofore or hereafter in these p^sents given and bequeathed to the said feoffees shalbe vtterly void, frustrate, and of none effect. And then I give and bequeath all the said legacies w^{ch} I have bequeathed vnto the said ffeoffees vnto my executo^{rs} of this my last will and testam^t, and they to p^forme all such guifts and bequests as my said feoffees shold haue done if they had enjoyed my said legacies (anie matter or thing herein contained to the contrary thereof in any wise notwthstandinge). And whereas I haue bene, am, and ever shalbee, a feeleing member and most sensible above others of the great losse and calamity w^{ch} of late yeres hapened to mee and many others by the miserable misfortune of fire within the said towne of Bury, I doe hereby, for a ppetuall memoriall and a caveat to bee for ever hereafter kept thereof, I doe giue and bequeath vnto such p^sons as shalbe newly elected as aforesaid ffeoffees of the towne lands of Bury aforesaid fforty pounds of lawfull English money, for and towards the charge of erectinge and making of a conduit or cisterne to receiue water, to be brought vnto it; and the same conduit to be sett in some convenient place in the markt place in Bury aforesaid, for the better supply of water, to be vsed when any casualty of fire shall happen within the said towne, and other necessary vses, as shalbe thought fitt and convenient. And I will that twenty pounds of the said forty pounds shalbe paid to the said ffeoffees when they shall really begin the said worke, and thother twentie pounds of the said forty pounds to be paid vnto the said feoffees when the said worke shalbe finished and brought to perfec̃on (soe as the said worke be reallye taken in hand and finished within seaven yeres next after my decease). Item I giue and bequeath vnto my daughter Joice, the wife of Vallentine Elsdén thelder, all my household stuff and goods w^{ch} I haue at mine inne and taverne called the Grayhound, wherein the said Vallentine now dwelleth, in Bury aforesaid. And I doe alsoe giue her my licence to drawe wine in the said inne or taverne, and my great Bible, to haue and to hold all the said household stuff, goods, licence, and bible, for terme of her naturall life. And after her decease I give all those things vnto her twoe daughters Frances and Mary, my grandchildren, to bee equally divided between them, part and pt like. Item I giue and bequeath vnto the said Vallentine Elsdén, my sonne-in-lawe, my best gowne, and my best cloake. Item I give vnto my sonne-in-law Mr. Jeremy Browning my second best gowne, my second best cloake, and my inlaid playeing tables. Item I giue and bequeath vnto Valentine Elsdén my grandchilde my licence for drawing of wines at the towne of Mildenhall, in the county of Suff. aforesaid. Item I giue and bequeath vnto my grandchilde Dorcas Browninge all my household stuff and goods that I haue at my twoe houses, the one called the Golden Bushell, and the other called the Beare, in Bury aforesaid. Item, whereas I, the said Francis Pynner, by my deed of feoffm^t haue infeoffed and confirmed vnto the said Dorcas Browninge, and to the heires of her body lawfully to be begotten, and for want of such issue vnto Rebecca Browninge her sister, and to the heires of her bodie lawfully to be begotten, all that my said messuage or tenem^t called the Golden Bushell, wth all and euy the houses, edifices, buildinges, barnes, stables, orchards, gardens, waies, water-courses, easem^{ts}, ewse-dreepes, and appurtenances, vnder such mann^o, forme, and proviso as in the said deed of feoffm^t is expressed (as by the said deed of ffeoffm^t more at large it may and doth appeare). And also that I, the said Francis Pynner, by my deed of ffeoffm^t have infeoffed and confirmed vnto the said Joyce Elsdén my daughter, for terme of her naturall life, and after her decease to Mary and Fraunces Elsdén (twoe of the daughters of the said Joyce), and to their heires for ever, all that my said inne and taverne called the Greyhound, wth all the houses, stables, yards, and easem^{ts} to the same belonging, wth all and eu^oy of their appurteñç, vnder such mann^o and forme as in the said deed of ffeoffm^t is mençoned (as by the said deed of ffeoffm^t is mençoned). And also whereas the said Jeremy Browninge, my sonne in lawe and father vnto the said Dorcas, hath of late devulged and given forth that the said messuage and p^omisses called ye Greyhound was p^omissed and agreed to be assured and conveyed in advancem^t of marriage with Cicely my daughter vnto the said Jeremy and Cicely, and their heires, w^{ch} promise (if any such was made) was vpon condiçon that the said Jeremy shold also in his life time haue likewise p^oformed and done divers other acts for the better advancem^t of the saide Cicely my said daughter in marriage wth the said Jeremy (w^{ch} were neu^o p^oformed), and therefore, for the finall endinge of all differences, controusies, and suites that may be raised thereby vpon the said p^otended promise and agreem^t, and that all p^oties maie haue and peaceably enioye their se^ouall estates according to my true intent and meaninge herein expressed in this my last will and testament, I doe hereby will, devise, and declare that if the said Jeremy Browninge, his heires, or assignes, shall at any time after my decease make any title, claime, or challenge any interest of, in, or to the said inne or taverne called the Grayhound, conveyed as aforesaid to the said Joice my daughter and her twoe daughters as aforesaid, by colour of any p^otended promise or agreem^t as abovesaid, whereby both shee the said Joice and her said twoe daughters shalbe molested or troubled by suites or otherwise, and shall not peaceably and quietlie haue, hold, and enioye the same according to their seu^oall estates in the said deed exp^ossed, and according to my true intent and meaning herein declared; and alsoe if the said Jeremy Browninge, his heires, or assignes, shall at anie time after my death molest or trouble or cause to be molested or troubled the executo^{rs} of this my said last will and testam^t for any goodes, chattells, or any other implem^{ts} of houshold, whereof I or my assignes are lawfully possessed or interested therein at or before the time of my death, that then the saide gift and devise of the said messuage and p^omisses called the Golden Bushell, by my said deed heretofore granted and confirmed to the said Dorcas Browninge, shalbe vtterlie voide and of none effect (the said deed and feoffm^t or any matter or thing therein contained to the contrary thereof in any wise notwthstandinge); and that then my will and minde is that that the said Joice my daughter and the said Mary and Frances her twoe daughters shall haue, hold, and enioye the same in lieu of the said inne and taverne and p^omisses called the Greyhound, to them and their heires, in such manner and forme and vnder such estates as are limited by the said deed concerninge the said inne, taverne, and p^omisses called the Greyhound, as aforesaid. Item I giue and bequeath vnto my great-grandchilde Francis Goodrich my stone pott (w^{ch} was my father's) footed and tipt, and coued wth silver wth letters for my father's name graven vpon the cover. Item I give and bequeath unto eu^ory of the seu^oall p^ons herevndernamed these seu^oall legacies herevnder men^oned (that is to saye): to Mr. Edmund Merchant, late of London, fiue pounds (if he be in England at the time of my decease); to Thomas Goodale fflowre pounds; to Jeremy Goodale foure pounds; to my goddaughter Frances, the daughter of Charles Shawe, foure pounds; to eu^oy one of the children of Wiffm Fincke (w^{ch} he had by his first wife) ffoure nobles a peice, to be paid vnto them at their seu^oall ages of fowre and twenty yeres; to every one that shalbe my houshold servant at the time of my death, twenty shillings a peice, and eu^oy of them a paire of gloves. Item I desire Mr. Edmund Callamy that he wilbe pleased to preach at my fun^oall ; and I doe giue him for his paines to be taken therein thirty shillings and a paire of black gloves of the best sort. Item I will that my said daughter Joice and her twoe daughters, Frances and Mary Elsdén, and my two grandchildrene Dorcas and Rebecca Browninge, shall eu^oy one of them haue a mourning tirc on their heads, such as gentlewomen weare at the time of ffunerals. Item I will that ffive pounds shalbe distributed amongst the poore people of the pish of St. Maries aforesaid (whereof ffortie shillings to be distributed amongst the poore people in the Colledge Street, and the other three pounds to the rest of the poore people wthin the said pish); and ffiftie shillings more I giue and bequeath vnto the poore people of the pish of St. James in Bury aforesaid ; and all the said sūmes to be paid and distributed to the said poore either at the tyme of my ffunerall or wthin seaven daies then next followinge, by the churchwardens and ou^oseers of the said seu^oall pishes. Item I doe giue and bequeath vnto the said Robert Gooderich all the debt and money that is oweing and comeing to mee by and from Martha Gooderich (being by her owne acknowledgem^t twenty pounds, but in trueth eight and twenty pounds) if hee the said Rob^t Gooderich, his executo^{rs}, ad^mstrat^{rs}, or assignes will beare the charges of suite for the recou^oy of the said money. Item I giue and bequeath vnto my said grandchilde Valentine Elsdén and to his heires and assignes for ever all those my landes, containing by estima^on ffourtene acres, being freehold, lyeing and being in the feilds of Bury aforesaid and Westly in the said county of Suff., w^{ch} I purchased to mee and mine heires of Francis Remes gent. and Elizabeth his wife. Item I giue and bequeath vnto the said Francis Potter boeth those my twoe copihold meadowes late in the tenure or occupa^on of one John Butler or his assignes, and lyeing and being in the Taiffen, Bury aforesaid, dureing the terme of his naturall life ; and after the decease of the said Francis Potter, the same to bee and remaine vnto my said grandchilde Valentine

Elsden and to his heires and assignes for ever. Item I doe give and bequeath all the rest, residue, and overplus of all my goods, chattells, and psonall estate whatsoever^y, not given in this my last will and testam^t (the guifts, legacies, and bequests in this my said last will and testam^t paid and pformed, and all charges and expences that the executo^{rs} of this my said last will and testam^t shall laye out or be putt vnto concerning their said executorship being allowed and deducted), I doe give and bequeath the said overplus vnto the said Joice my daughter, and to my said twoe grandchildren Dorcas and Rebecca Browninge, and to my said great-grandchild Francis Gooderich, to be equally diuided betwene them by three or foure sufficient and indifferent men, by the discreçon of mine executo^{rs} and supvisors of this my last will and testam^t, or the greater part of them for the time then beeing to be elected and chosen. And for the better pformance of this my said last will and testam^t, I will that my executo^{rs}, when it shall seeme best vnto themselves, or the suruivo^r or survivo^{rs} of them, sell, convey, and assure, or cause to be sold, conveyed, and assured, all those landes, containing by estimaçon eleaven acres and an halfe of land, being the same more or lesse, lyeing and being in the feilds of Bury St. Edmund aforesaid, and Westly in the county aforesaid, w^{ch} I latelie purchased of one Thomas Godfrey, to anie pson or psons, and to his and their heires and assignes, for the best price that they or any of them can gett for the said lands; and the moneyes comeing and arising of and vpon the sale of the said landes to be imployed for and towards the pformance of this my said last will and testam^t. And I do make and constitute the said Joice my daughter, Robert Gooderich, and Dorcas Browninge, executo^{rs} of this my last will and testam^t. And I doe giue to eu^y of them for their paines to be taken in the true execuçon thereof, ffive nobles a peice, and a paire of gloves. Item I desire Mr. Elliott, Minister of the pish of St. James in Bury, and my loving freind Mr. Thomas Lincolne of Thetford, to be supviso^{rs} of this my last will and testam^t; and I doe giue to either of them for their paines to be taken in assistinge of mine executo^{rs} twentie (sic), and to each of them a paire of gloves. In witnes whereof I, the said Francis Pynner, have vnto every sheete of this my said last will and testam^t, being tenn in number, sett my hand, and haue sett my seale to the topp thereof being afiled together, the third day of May, in y^e yere first abouewritten, FRA. PINNER. Sealed and published and declared by the saide Francis Pynner to bee his last will and testam^t in the p^sence of John Hyne, George Booty, Timothy Atkinson, and Rob^t Walker. Thomas Wright, of Hartest, gent.—1646.

Bone Jesu pone passionem crucem et mortem tuā inter Iuditiū tuū et animā meā nunc et in hora mortis mee.

In the name of God Amen, the two and twentieth day of March, anno dñi 1646, and in the two and twentieth yeare of the reigne of our most gracious sou^oaigne Lord Charles, by the grace of God, now King of England, &c. I, Thomas Wright, of Hartest, in the countie of Suff. gent. doe make and declare this my last will and testament in manner and forme hereafter followinge, humbly, joyfully, and willingly yeilding my soule into the hands of Almighty God my maker, and my body I coñmitt to the earth whereof it was framed, knowing it must returne to its first principles soe to continue vntill the generall awakeninge day, when by the mightie power of my God I hope to reassume the same my body, which being then vnited to my soule againe, through the vnspeakeable mercie of my Lord and alone Sauio^r Jesus Christe, shall I trust inheritt everlasting blessednes in the kingdome of Heaven, not for any meritts of myne (for I acknowledge myselfe the worste of all men), but for the most glorious meritts, bitter death and passion of my most gracious and mercifull Sauio^r and Redeemer Jesus Christe, to whom be all glory and praise for ever. Amen. Imprimis. Whereas I stand seised in fee simple of and in a mesuage or tenem^t called Penns, or otherwise, wth certaine lands and pastures freehold, lyeinge next or nere therevnto, together with the waies thereto adjoineinge, vpon which sayd wayes two cottages for the habitaçon of two poore widdowes are newly by me erected and builded, scituate, lyeinge, and beinge in Hartest aforesaid, abbuttinge at the one end vpon the tenem^t and orchards of Tempest Dickerson, and at the other end vpon the freehold tenem^t of Andrew Byat, gent. called of auncient time Smithes, and doe conteyne together by estimaçon three acres, be there more or less, I doe give devise and bequeath all and singuler the sayd p^omisses, and all other my freehold lands and tenements in Hartest aforesaid, wth their apptñnçs (exceptinge the sayd two cottages) vnto Mary my wife, for terme of her life, (if she shall soe long keepe her selfe sole and vnmarried,) remainder thereof from and y^omediately after her decease or marriage, which of them shall first happen, vnto Thomas

Browne my grandsonne, and the heires of his body begotten, and for default of such heires, then to my righte heires for ever. Item I give and bequeath to my sayd wife, in such manner and sort as is before mençoned, three closes or peeces of land and pasture, conteynge by estimaçon four acres more or less, with their apptñnçs, being copihold, lyeinge together in Hartest aforesaid, adjoininge to the land of the sayd tenement Penns; the one whereof I purchased of Henry Smyth, another of Tempest Dickerson, and the third which abbutteth vpon the rectory of Hartest, of William Lowe; remainder of the same copihold p̄mises after my sayd wifes decease or marriage, which shall first happen, vnto the sayd Thomas Browne my grandsonne, and the heires of his body begotten, and for default of such yssue then to my righte heires. Item I give and bequeath to Mary my now wifes daughter, after the death or marriage of my said wife, all those coppihold lands and tenem^{ts} which I had or purchased of Henry Griggs, and Susan his wife, sometimes Martins, scituate, lyeing, and being in Hartest aforesaid, and conteynge together by estimaçon seaven acres, with their and every of their apptñnçs, now in my owne occupaçon, to haue and to hold the same vnto the sayd Mary, the daughter, and the heires of her body begotten; and for want of such yssue I will the same shall remayne vnto Thomas Browne aforesaid, the sonne of Mary my daughter by my first wife, and to the heires of his body begotten, and for default of such yssue then to my right heires for ever. Item I give and bequeath vnto the said Mary my wife for terme of her life, if she shall soe longe keepe her selfe sole and vnmarried, two closes or peeces of copyhold land and pasture, conteynge by estimaçon five acres, with thapptñnçs, lyeing together in Hartest aforesaid, late pcell of Millfields, and now in th'occupaçon of John Herrington or of his assignee or assignes, together with the way thereto belonginge; and from and ymediately after the death or marriage of my sayd wife, I give and bequeath the same two closes or peeces, with the sayd way and apptñnçs, vnto her sayd daughter Mary, and the heires of her body begotten, and for default of such yssue then to my righte heires for ever. Item I give and bequeath vnto Mary my daughter, the wife of Francis Browne, all my lands and tenem^{ts} whatsoever, scituate, lyeing, and being in Brockly, in the sayd county of Suff. with their and every of their appt^{ns}, to haue and to hold the same vnto the said Mary my daughter, for and dureinge the terme of her ñrall life; remainder theireof after her decease vnto the sayd Thomas Browne my grandsonne, and the heires of his body begotten, and for default of such yssue then to my right heires for ever.

Item I will, devise, and bequeath those two cottages aboue mençoned to be excepted, with the yards thereto belonginge, vnto James Sparke my cosin, Roñt Cronshaye the sonne of Robert Cronshaye of Hartest aforesaid yeoman, William Coppinge sonne of Edmund Coppinge of Hartest aforesaid yeoman, Philip Hamond the sonne of my sonne in lawe Philip Hamond, Richard Cronshaye the sonne of Richard Cronshaye of Hartest aforesaid yeoman, Ralph Twids the younger of Hartest aforesaid my cosin, and to the aforesaid Thomas Browne my grandsonne, their heires and assignes for ever, vpon condiçon and to the intents and purposes hereafter mençoned and declared, (vizt.) for the benefitt and habitaçon of two poore widowes of the towne of Hartest aforesaid, for soe longe time as the world shall endure; the same widowes nor any of them, at the time of their placeing there, not to be such as are or haue bene a charge or chargeable to the said pish of Hartest. Touching the placeing of which sayd widowes, I will that the instructions, articles, and rules, in this my last will and testament expressed, be duely and justly from time to time and for ever observed, vizt.

1. That the same widdowes and every of them shall constantly repaire to the church of Hartest aforesaid, at the times of all publike exercises of religion, and shall there behaue themselves orderly from the beginninge of such exercises vntill the end thereof, without any excuse whatsoever to be admitted, saueing only sicknesse or decrepite age.

2. That the same widowes and every of them shall receive the Eucharist twice at least in every yeare, (vizt.) once at or aboute the time of Easter, and once at or about the feast day of the birth of our Lord and Sauio^r Christe, if the same be soe often administered.

3. That none of these widowes there to be placed shall be vnder the age of fifty yeares at the time of such their placeinge there; and if they or any of them doe marry, then their place to be voyd, and such to be forthwith remoued and displaced.

4. That noe such widowe shall maintaine, keepe, or suffer any of her children, or any other person or persons whatsoever, to be resident, abide, or be sheltered there, saueing that it shall be lawfull for euery suche widowe to haue with her one of her owne daughters, being vnder the age of sixteene yeares and not aboue (yf she shall haue any such daughter), but if such daughter shall once haue atteyned to the age of sixteene yeares, then shall such daughter be remoued from her vtterly; but in case of sicknes or other extreme necessitie eu^y such widowe may haue one to helpe her dureing that time.

5. That eu^y such widowe there to inhabite, shall be of good life, fame, and con^usa^on, and shall live peaceably and quietly wth [out] quarrelling or clamo^r.

6. That noe such widowe nor any other person for them or any of them, or by their or any of their appointment, shall cutt, crophe, fell, haue, or take any wood, vnderwood, trees, or bushes, which are or shall be growinge at any time hereafter in or vpon the way or lane wherein the sayd almes house is erected, vpon payne of removeall from thence vtterly vpon the first offence.

And if any such widow or widowes shall offend in any of thaforsaid first five rules or articles herein men^oned, then they and eu^y of them soe offendinge, after one admoni^on, shall be forthwith displaced and put out of the sayd almes house by the feoffees or trustees thereof for the time being, and never afterwards to be restored againe.

Item I will that the widow Walker, and the widow White, whom I haue placed in the said house, shall continue therein dureing their lives, they and either of them obserueing the instructions, articles, and rules before menčoned. Neu^othelesse my will and desire is, that if any of myne, or either of my two wiuēs linage or kindred, hereafter inhabiting in the said pish of Hartest, and being widowes or single women of the age of thirtie years or more, shall be in want and povertie, that then they or any of them shall from time to time be pferred to the said house and place before any other, yet subject to the rules, instructions, and articles before menčoned; and to the end that the aforemenčoned condičon, intents, and purposes, may forever hereafter be the better pformed and fullfilled, my will and desire is that whensoever the aforesaid James Sparke, Robert Cronshaye, William Coppinge, Phillip Hamond, Richard Cronshaye, Ralph Twid, Thomas Browne, feoffees before appointed, shall happen to depart this life to the number of three or two of them, that then those three or two which shall survive shall speedily infeoffe and assure to five, six, or seaven of the chiefe inhabitants of the said towne of Hartest, and their heires, or to the sonnes of such inhabitants and their heires, the sayd two cottages, with the yards and apptinēce therevnto belonging, of a good and perfect estate in fee simple, according to the condičon and intenčon aforesaid, and in such manner and sort as is before menčoned; and that such feoffment and assurances shall from time to time, soe longe as the world continue, be renewed by the feoffees of the sayd two cottages, when and soe often as the feoffees thereof shall dye, and not aboue two or three of them be left alive, or oftner if occasion shall serue, according to the purport, true intent, and meaninge of this my last will and testament, and in such sort as is here in before menčoned. And further I will and devise that the same tenem^t Penns, with the lands thereto adioyninge, be absolutely and fully charged wth the paym^t of ten shillings p annum, soe long as the world shall endure, for and towards the repa^çons of the aforesaid two cottages or almshouse, the same ten shillings p annum I will to be payed halfe yearely by even por^çons into the hands of the feoffees of the sayd two cottages for the time being, or the major pte of them; and what shall remaine thereof over and aboue repa^çons made, such surplus to be distributed betwene the poore widowes inhabiting and to be inhabiting in the said cottages from time to time equally by the feoffees thereof.

Item I give and bequeath vnto Richard Gardner, my cosin and clerke, all my wearinge apparell, and all my bookes, papers, and pchments vnsealed, excepting such English bookes as Mary my wife, and Mary Browne my daughter, shall make choyce of for their se^uall vses, which said English bookes I will they shall haue, and excepting six of my best bookes in folio, which I give to the sayd Thomas Browne, and alsoe my dictionary in quarto. Item I give and bequeath vnto Mary my wife the vse of all my houshold stufte, bedds, bedding, and of all my ymplements and vtensells of houshold stufte and husbandry, for and dureinge the terme of her life, (if she shall soe long keepe her selfe sole and vnmarried,) and after the death or marriage of my said wife, which of them first happen, then I give and bequeath the same vnto Mary my daughter. Provided that if the sayd Mary shall depart this life without yssue of her bodie begotten, and before she shall haue accomplished her age of one and twenty yeares, then I give and bequeath all my aforesaid houshold stufte, bedds, bedding, implements, and vtensills of houshold and husbandry, vnto the sayd Mary my wife. Item I give vnto Frances Browne, my grandchilde, fifty pounds, to be payd into her father's hands soone after my decease, and to be improued by him for her vse, and to be payd to her at her age of sixteene years by her said father. Item I doe nominate and appoint the sayd Richard Gardner my cosin sole executo^r of this my last will and testament, and I doe give him for his paines to be taken therein ten pounds, over and aboue all his charges and expences. Item I give to my cosin Elizabeth Whittacre, fortie shillings. Item I give to the poore people of Hartest, twenty shillings; to the poore people of Boxted, ten shillings; to the poore people of Glemsford, fortie shillings; to the poore people of Stansted, twenty shillings; and to the poore people of Somerton, ten shillings. Item I give and bequeath to my sonne in lawe William Griggs, five pounds; to my sonne in lawe Philip Hamond, ten shillings; to my sonne in lawe Henry Griggs, ten shillings; to my sonne in law John Griggs, ten shillings, to be payed to them and every of them within six moneths next after my decease. Item I give to my cosin James Sparke a peece of gold of twenty shillings. Item I give to every of my aunt Gardner's children, to eu^y of my aunt Manning's children (except Elizabeth), to every of my aunt Raye's children, and to every of my aunt Holditch children, five shillings a peece; and to Elizabeth the wife of Richard Albone, twenty shillings. The residue of all my goods, chattells, and psonall estate, I give and bequeath vnto the sayd Mary my wife, for and towards the payment of the fines for her and her daughters admittance to the copihold lands and tenements to them by me herein devised and bequeathed, and for the increase of her said daught^{rs} porçon, saveing onely my ring of gold, and my seale of silver w^{ch} I give to my grandsonne Thomas Browne, together with my best sword; provided allwayes that if my sayd wife shall happen to marry againe, then I will that she shall not be guardian to her said daughter Mary, neither shall haue the vse of any of the goods, stuffe of houshold, chattells, psonall estate, or thinges by me herein given to her, but then and in that case I will my said executo^r shall be her guardian vntill her age of one and twentie yeares, and shall then deliu⁹ the sayd houshold stuffe and goods, chattells, and thinges to the said Mary; and further, I will that my executo^r in that case shall haue and take the whole rents, yssues, and profitts of the same lands and tenem^{ts} devised to my said wife, from and ymediately after my said wiues en^t marriage for the edu-caçon and benefitt of the said Mary her and my daughter, and he to be guardian vntill her age aforesaid, and then to be answerable to her for the rents and pfts thereof, deducting for her educaçon and maintenance. Item I give and bequeath vnto Joane Plampin my goddaughter, ten shillings; to Henry Hible thelder, of Brockley, and to George Hible of Speeds in Hartest, to either of them fortie shillings a pece. In wittnes whereof to this my last will and testament, conteyned in five sheets of paper, I the said Thomas Wright haue subscribed and sealed, the day and yeare first aboue written. Fiat voluntas tua Ihu. Iſm I give vnto John Wiseman, of whom I pſchased Googins laye, if he be leving at the time of my death, twentie shillings. THO. WRIGHT. Sealed, published, and declared in the pſence of Phillip Hamond, William Hible, Benjamin Roydon.

Item I give and bequeath vnto my cosin William Copin, sometimes of Hartest aforesaid, yeoman, five pounds; and to Benjamin Royden of Hartest aforesaid, ten shillings. Item my will and meaning is that my executo^r shall haue, take, and receive the rents, yssues, and pfts that shall be due for my lands in Brockley at the feast of S^t Michaell tharchangell now next cominge and fourteene dayes after, for and towards the performance of this my last will and testament. In wittnes whereof I the sayd Thomas Wright haue added this codicill to this my last will and testament, and haue herevnto sett my hand and seale the eight day of September, in the three and twentieth yeare of the raigne of our said sou^oaigne Lord King Charles, annoq; dñi 1647, THO. WRIGHT. These whose names are subscribed being witnesses, Phillip Hamond, James Sparke.

James Bacon, of Burgate, clerk.—1647.

In the name of God Amen. Whereas it is most true, especially to every true christian, that the day of death is better then ones birth, eu^y christian therefore hath as familiarly of the day of his death as any one vseth to doe on the day of his birth, and as willingly to p^pare in a readiness against the time of his departure out of this world as our parents doe willingly provide all thinges needfull against the time of our comeing into this world, for by our nativitie we doe but descend into a valley of teares and misery, and by death euery faithfull christian ascends into a mounteyne of tranquillitie and rest, soe that his death is not soe properly termed a death as a gate and enterance into life, or as it were the suburbs of heaven and happinesse. Now, whereas this life is nothing else but a jorney vnto death and the graue, and such a journey where a man is continually going on without intermission day and night, even when he thinkes not of it, and yet a man knoweth nothinge lesse then when he shall come to the end of this jorney, the day of death being as vn^ctaine as death it selfe is certaine. It is the dutie therefore of e^vie christian soe to p^meditate of that day, and soe to dispose of his earthly affaires, that he may be allwayes in a readinesse when soe^v the Lord of life and death shall call for him, soe that although his death may be suddaine yet it may not come vnexpected vnto him, nor fynd him vn^ppared for it. Wherefore that I might be the better p^pared for that day of my death wherein I hope to see lyfe, I, James Bacon, of Burgate, in the countie of Suff. clarke, being in my wonted health and enjoying (through God's mercie) the vse of my vnderstanding and memory, doe make this my last will and testament, and before I vndertake to dispose of any thinge, I doe acknowledge my selfe with all that belonges vnto me to be altogether in the hand and power and at the disposing of my God, whoe is the onely supreme and vpper Lord of all; and therefore cravinge leaue of him whose secrett p^vidence overruleth all, and submitting to his good will (whose will is the rule of all goodnesse), my will and desire is as followeth, vizt. First, I commend my spirit into the hands of Christe Jesus my Lord and Sauio^r, who being the second person in the Holy Trinitie, the eternall and ñrall sonne of God, assumed manhood vnto his godhead, that soe being true God and true man in one and the same person, he might bee a fitt mediatetor^r betweene God and man ; into his hands I comẽd my soule, because I confidently beleuee that he hath pformed and accomplished whatsoeu^r the justice of God required for the redempçon of man, and by his holynesse and innocensie, by his righteousnes and obedience, by his death and sufferings, I beleuee (Lord help my vnbeleife) that I shall attaine to that redempçon and salvaçon of my soule and body, which he hath merited for me, for he was holy, innocent, and vndefiled, that I might be freed from that originall sinne wherein I was conceived and borne ; he hath pfectly fulfilled the lawe of God, and obeyed his will, that by his righteousnes imputed vnto me I might be made righteous ; he hath subjected himselfe to vndergoe and indure that wrath of God, both in body and soule, which was due to my sinne, for he being just and innocent willingly offered himselfe to be apprehended, that I, who was the offendo^r, might escape, he being bound, was publiquely arraigned and accused before the tribunall of an earthly judge, that I might not be accused before the throne of God in the p^sence of his holy angells ; he was condemned for those sinnes whereof I was guilty, that I might be acquitted and absolved ; he was whipped, derided, and crusified, which were the contumely, curse, and punishment due to my sinnes, that soe by his ignominie I mighte attaine to eternall glory ; by his derision of an affected earthly kingdome I might inherite a heavenly kingdome, and by his crosse be exalted to heaven and hapinesse ; he hath by his death vanquished death for me, and taken away the curse that was therein, that my death [may be] amyable vnto me ; he hath fastened Sathan and sinne vnto his crosse for me ; yea he is risen againe and hath triumphed over all my spirituall enimies ; for me he is ascended into heaven to p^ppare a place for me. Into the hands therefore of this my Redeemer I comitt my soule, hoping that by him it shall haue entrance into that eternall habitaçon which he haue p^ppared for those who beleuee in him. For my bodie, when death shall have made sepaçon betweene my soule and that, my desire is that my executrix hereafter named would give it (if God pmitt) decent buriall, that soe it may rest in the grave as in a bedd perfumed by the buriall of my Sauio^r vntill the day of resurrecçõ, for although my body be made deformed by death, yet I haue learned firmly to beleue that at the last day, by the power of God and vertue of Christes Resurrecçõ, it shalbe raysed out of the dust, a glorious body, when all the faithfull shall rise againe to eu⁹lastinge life; and this faith which I haue [now testified, I hope the spirite of my Sauio^r (by whose assistance I will pray for it) will confirme in me and teach me more cleerely to vnderstand, and more vndoubtedly to apply to my selfe whatsoeu⁹ my Lord hathe done for me, vntill I shall attaine to the end of my faith, even the salvaçon of my soule and body. And for those goods and possessions which God hath given me, together with a liball vse of them, desiringe the Lord to continue vnto me both them and the comfortable enjoying of them, (soe long and soe farre as may be for his glorie,) I doe acknowledge my selfe to be but a fiduciarie possessor of them vnder God, who is the most vpper Lord and possessor of all, and as I haue libtie to take my owne pte and porçõ of them, soe it is my dutie faithfully to dispose of the other part of them to such persons and vses as my Lord hath appointed; wherefore my desire is to distribute my substance and goods as neere as I can according to the will of him whose steward I am, and to whom I must give an accompt of the dispensaçõ of that which he hath coñmitted vnto me: First therefore, because I conceive that my great Lord and Master doth esteeme whatsoeu⁹ is rightly bestowed vpon his faithfull children as bestowed vpon himselfe, I give tenn pounds to be equally devided and distributed betweene ten such poore christians as are in want, and which by their lives doe testify themselues to be the true and faithfull children of God, from whom I haue received all, and in whose hands and power it is to translate all that he hath giuen me from me and mine to whomsoeu⁹ he pleaseth. My will and desire is that John Symonds of Gislingham, in the countie of Suff. clarke, and Clement Raie of Watisfield, in the county aforesaid, clarke, shall assigne the said ten psons and distribute the said ten pounds. And whereas I haue vndertaken to pay the suñe of five hundred pounds of lawfull English money to Mr. Richard Tomes, marchant of London, for Nathaniell Bacon my sonne, who is now in France, and haue sold certaine lands lyeing and being in Sternfield, in the said countie of Suffolke, which were valued to be cleerely worth twentie and five pounds p annũ, vnto the said Richard Tomes, for foure hundred pounds, pcell of the said suñe of five hundred pounds, and haue paid to the sayd Richard Tomes the other hundred pounds, residue of the said five hundred pounds; therefore as conc̄ning the disposiçon of such lands, tenem^{ts}, and hereditaments as it hath pleased God to blesse me with, I give and devise the same in manner and forme following: that is to say, Imp̄ris, whereas I haue assured vnto Martha my wife, for terme of her ñrall life, all that my manno^r of Pirleys, and diverse lands, tenem^{ts}, and hereditam^{ts}, in Sternfield, in the countie aforesaid, that after the decease of the said Martha my wife I give and devise my said manno^r of Pirleys, and alsoe all the said lands, tenem^{ts}, and hereditam^{ts}, soe as aforesaid assured vnto the said Martha my wife for her life, vnto the said Nathaniell Bacon my sonne, and to Elizabeth, Martha, and Anne my daughters, and to their heires for eu^o, equally to be devided amongst them; and if it shall happen that the said Nathaniell my sonne, or any of my said daughters, shall depte this life without issue of his or her body lawfully begotten, then I will and devise that the pte of him or her soe dyeing shalbe equally devided amongst the rest of my sayd children which shalbe then liveing. Item I give and devise vnto Martha my daughter all those my lands and tenem^{ts} which I lately purchased of Anthony Baker, gent. scituate, lyeing, and being in Snape and Friston, in the countie of Suff. now in the occupaçon of Robert Dymyngton, or his assignes, to haue and to hold the same, with all and sing^{lr} their apptñce, vnto the said

Martha my daughter, and to her heires for eu. Item I give and devise vnto Anne my daughter all that my meadowe comonly called Saxmondham meadowe, aſs Sedgfen, or by any other name or names whatsoeu^r, lyeing and beinge in Saxmondham, in the county aforesayd, conteyning by estimaçon five acres and one roode, and alsoe one little meadowe therevnto adjoyning, conteyning by estimaçon one acre, which twoe meadowes were lately in the occupaçon of Nathaniell Bacon of Friston aforesaid, Esq. and are now in the occupaçon of Anthony Flemynge, or his assignes, to haue and to hold the sayd two meadowes, with all and singuler their apptñce, to the said Anne my daughter, and to her heires for eu^r. And if it shall happen that eyther of my said daughters Martha and Anne shall depte this life without yssue of her body lawfully begotten, then I give and devise the lands and tenem^{ts} which I haue before herein given and devised to my said daughter soe dyeing, vnto my other daughter survivinge, and to her heires for ever. Item I give and bequeath vnto the sayd Martha my wife all my readie money, jewells, and debts. Item I will and my mynd and desire is, that all my plate, and all my other goods, chattells, and howshold stuffe whatsoeu^r shall after my decease be devided into two equall ptes, and then the one part thereof I give vnto the said Martha my wife, and the other pte thereof I give and bequeath vnto Martha and Anne my daughters, to be equally devided betweene them. Item I give and bequeath vnto Elizabeth my daughter, now the wife of Mr. Thomas Burrowes, my bookes of Mr. Perkins workes, beinge conteyned in three volumes. Item I give and bequeath vnto the poore people of the towne of Burgate aforesaid the suñe of six pounds of lawfull English money, to be distributed amongst them. Item I give and bequeath vnto the poore people of six seu^rall townes next adjoyneing to the towne of Burgate aforesaid, the suñe of six pounds of lawfull English money, that is to say, to every one of the same six townes twentie shillings to be distributed amongst them. And now vpon the great trust and confidence which I haue and doe repose in the said Martha my wife, I doe ordeine and make her, the said Martha my wife, my sole executrix of this my last will and testam^t, acknowledging that I haue found fauour from the Lord, whoe in his p^rvidence provide soe faithfull a companion, and soe fitt a helper for me, desiring her to be carefull to see this my will p^rformed according to my true intent and meaninge before herein expressed and declared; and I doe hereby revoke all former wills by me made, and I doe publish and declare this to be my last will and testament, being conteyned and written in five sheets of paper, wherevnto I haue sett my seale, and to eu^ry sheete thereof subscribed my name, the foure and twentieth day of September, in the yeare of our Lord God one thousand six hundred forty and seaven; in the p^rsence of those whose names are herevnder written. Jasper Despotin, of Bury, M.D.—1648.

The thirteenth day of December, A^o. Dⁿi 1648, I, Jasper Despotin, of Bury St. Edmunds, in the countie of Suff., Doctor of Phisicke, an alien borne, but divers yeares since by the king's favo^r made free denizen, being by the grace of God in sufficient health of body, and in full vnderstanding and memory, and of a disposing and testamentary mind, considering the divers accidents that happen to men vnexpectedly taken out of this world, that they haue not time to dispose of their affaires in their life time, and alsoe that if I should dye without makeing and publishing my last will my estate shold goe otherwise then I intend it, doe make, publish, and declare this my last will and testament, thereby revokeing, countermanding, and annulling all form^d wills by me at any time heretofore made: First, I give and bequeath in the Holy Ghoste my soule to Christe, the creato^r and redeemer of it, and by him to God the Father, praying him which gaue his onely begotten sonne that the world should not perish, but haue everlasting life by the onely meritts of his sonne; to grant me free remission of my many and greivous sinnes, and convert her and me to be a preist to singe eternally "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of Sabboth." My body I leaue to the grave in faith and hope of the resurrec̃on of the just in the same Christe Jesus, Amen. In the meane space to be buried in the night privately by the body of my daughter Isabell, if my executrices of this my will be able to obteyne it, otherwise as my said executrices shall appoint. And for my worldly estate I dispose therof as followeth: I give to the poore of Bury St. Edmund's tenne pounds sterling, to be payd within six dayes after my departure, and to be distributed at the discrẽon of my executrices. And to the poor of Nedging, in the said countie of Suff., I give five pounds sterling, to be payd and distributed alsoe by my executrices within six dayes after my decease. Alsoe I give to my servants that at the time of my death shall be actuall in my service, and shall haue serued me the space of six moneths then last past, halfe a yeaere's wages over and aboue what shalbe then due vnto them. And if they haue not then served me by the space of six moneths then last past, then I give to such of them as shall not haue serued me soe longe, soe much as their wages shall then come too over and aboue their wages which shall then be due. The said legacies to my servants to be payd within fiteene dayes after my decease. Alsoe I doe will and appoint ten rings of gold to be made of the value of twenty shillings a peece sterling, with a death's head vpon some of them, within one moneth after my deptime, and to be disposed of amongst my friends as my executrices shall thinke meet. Yet soe soone as the surviving feoffees of my manno^r of Nedginge and their wiues, that is to say, John Brand, of Edwardston, in the said countie of Suff. gent., and his wife, and John Bruninge, of Semer, in the said countie, clerke, and his wife, shall haue each of them one. Alsoe I give vnto Mr. Clegatt, Minister of St. Maries parish in Bury St. Edmunds, three pounds sterling; and to Mr. Gibbon, Minister of the parish of St. Maries in the same towne, fortie shillings sterling, to buy him a ring for a memoriall of me; the sayd ministers legacies to be payd to them within a moneth or two after my decease: provided that if the said ministers, or either of them, shall remove from their said places, or shall not at the time of my death be in actuall possession and exercise thereof, then the legacie or legacies of him or them that shall not then be minister there to be voyd. Alsoe I give to Mr. William Bedle of Rattlesden, clerke, five pounds sterling, to be payd vnto him within one moneth after my decease. And whereas the said John Brand and John Bruninge, by virtue of a feoffment made to them and others since deceased, are lawfully seized to them and their heires in fee simple, of and in all that the mannor of Nedging and the advousion, donation, and free disposiçon of the church and rectory of Nedging aforesaid, and diverse mesuages, lands, tenem^{ts}, and hereditaments in Nedginge aforesaid in trust, neūthelesse in confidence, and to such intents and purposes as by the deed of feoffm^t thereof made are expressed and declared, or should at any time after, by any wryting by me signed and sealed in the p^sence of foure credible wittnesses, or by my last will and testam^t in writeinge be expressed or declared. Now I doe hereby, in pursuance of my sayd power, and for further declaraçon of the said trust, will, devise, and appoint, and doe desire the said John Brand and John Bruninge, my sayd feoffees, vpon reasonable request on that behalfe to be made soe soone after my death as conveniently maybe, to convey and assure vnto Susan Despotin, my welbeloued wife, and to Catherine Despotin and Anne Despotin, my onely daughters, and heire apparent, and their heires, all that the said manno^r of Nedging, advousion, and all other the said messuages, lands, tenem^{ts}, and hereditaments in Nedging aforesaid, with all and singuler their appurtenances, to the vses, intents, and purposes, and vnder the provisoes, condiçons, and limitaçons in and by this my p^sent last will and testament hereafter limited, declared, devised, or appointed; that is to say, for and touching the demesnes of the said manno^r of Nedginge, and all other the sayd mesuages, lands, tenem^{ts}, and hereditaments in Nedging aforesaid, with thapptñncē, to the use of my sayd welbeloued wife, for and dureing the terme of her ñrall life. And from and after her decease, then for and touching all that the manno^r house, or mançõn house, or capitall mesuage in Nedging aforesayd, now or late in the occupaçõn of Stephen Chaplayn or his assignes, and all other the mesuages, lands, tenem^{ts}, and hereditaments in Nedging aforesaid, now or late alsoe in the occupaçõn of the said Stephen Chaplayn or his assignes, with the apptñncē, to the vse of the said Catherine Despotin my daughter and her heires for eũ; to the intent and purpose neũthelesse that it shall and maybe lawfull to and for the sayd Anne Despotin my daughter, and her heires, to haue, take, and receive out of the same one añuity or yearely rent of thirtie pounds per annũ of lawfull money of England, payable at the two vsuall feasts of St. Michaell th'archangell and Th'annunciaçõn of the blessed Virgine Mary, by even and equall porçõns; the first payment thereof to beginne at such of the s^d feasts as shall next and imediately happen after the decease of my said wife, with power to distreine for the same in case it shall happen to be behind and vnpayd by the space of eight and twentie dayes next after any of the s^d feasts; with provisoe neũthelesse and condiçõn in the sayd conveyance to be conteyned, that in case the said Katherine Despotin, her heires or assignes, shall at any of the said feasts, or within one moneth after any of the said feasts, accompting eight and twentie dayes to the moneth, pay or cause to be payd to the sayd Anne Despotin, her heires or assignes, the full suñe of five hundred pounds of lawfull money of England, at or in the then mançõn house or place of habitaçõn of the said Anne Despotin, that then and from thenceforth the sayd añuity or yearely rent of thirty pounds per añum shall cease and be determined. And for and conçninge that mesuage or tenem^t in Nedging aforesayd, called or knowne by the name of Smythlands, and all other mesuages, lands, tenem^{ts}, and hereditaments in Nedginge aforesayd, now or late in the occupaçon of Robert Rose or his assignes, from and after the decease of the sayd Susan Despotin my wife, to the vse of the sayd Anne Despotin my daughter, and her heires foreu^l. And for and concⁿing the royallties, services, quitt-rents, courts, and perquisitts of the said manno^r of Nedginge, and the advousion of the church of Nedginge, to the vse of the sayd Catherine Despotin my daughter, her heires and assignes foreu^l, as shalbe reasonably devised or advised and required; and vntill such conveyance and assurance shall be made by my sayd feoffees as aforesayd, I doe hereby devise, limitt, and appoint the said manno^r of Nedginge, and aduouision, and all other the said mesuages, lands, tenem^{ts}, hereditam^{ts}, and p^rmisses in Nedginge aforesayd, to my sayd wife and daughters respectively, for such estate and estates, and to such vse and vses, and to the intents and purposes, and vnder the provisoe and condiçon hereby before limited and declared; and that the sayd John Brand and John Bruninge shall from and after my decease stand and be seised thereof in trust, for the vse of my said wife and daughters respectively for such estate and estates, and to such intents and purposes, and vnder such provisoe and condiçon as aforesayd. Alsoe I give and devise vnto the said Susan Despotin my welbeloued wife, all and singuler my houses, lands, tenements, hereditaments, and appurtenances whatsoeu^r, freehold or leasehold, in Bury St. Edmunds aforesayd, to haue and to hold to her the said Susan dureinge soe longe time as she the said Susan shall live. And after her decease, I will and devise the same to the said Anne Despotin my daughter, her heires, executor^s, and assignes respectively. Alsoe I give and devise vnto the sayd Anne Despotin my daughter, her heires and assignes, all and singuler my mesuages, houses, lands, tenem^{ts}, and hereditam^{ts} whatsoeu^r, freehold or copyhold, in Stanton, in the sayd countie of Suff., or in any other towne therevnto neare adjoyninge, now or late in the occupaçon of John Pennell, or his assignes. And whereas alsoe in or aboute the fifteenth yeare of the reigne of our sou^rraigne king Charles, I did convey and assure vnto my said two daughters Catherine and Anne, and to Isabell their sister, then liveing, and their heires, divers lands, tenements, and hereditam^{ts} in Orfford, in the sayd countie of Suff., which I had in mortgage from William Sanhope, Esq. for seaven hundred pounds of lawfull money to him formerly lent, which moneys then were and still are vnpayd, and thereby the estate therein was and is become absolute. And alsoe one mannor and diverse lands, tenements, and hereditaments in the countie of Essex called or knowne by the name of Carbonells, which I alsoe had in mortgage from S^r Robert Crowe, knight and Baronett, for eight hundred pounds of like money, which sūme of eight hundred pounds being payd by the said S^r Robert Crowe, was afterwards put out vpon mortgage alsoe to Isaacke Appleton, Esq. and being payd by the said Isacke Appleton, hath since been put out to Stephen Soame, Esq. vpon securitie of a lease for yeares made by him the sayd Stephen Soame and S^r William Soame, knight, his father, of the mannor of Brockford, ats Brockford Hall, and other lands, tenem^{ts}, and hereditam^{ts} in Brockford, in the sayd county of Suff., and other townes adjoyneing, for divers yeares therein yet to come and vnexpired. And whereas by the death of the sayd Isabell my daughter the estate and interest in the said mortgaged p^rmises in Orfford aforesayd is survived and come to the sayd Catherine and Anne my daughters, and the said eight hundred pounds alsoe payd in by the sayd S^r Robert Crane [sic], and now secured by mortgage from the said S^r William Soame and Stephen Soame, Esq. is of right belonging to my sayd daughters Catherine and Anne, howbeit my name is vsed on their behalfe in the takeing of the said mortgage as securitie for the same. Now I doe hereby, for the further ratifying, confirmeing, and establishing the tittle of my said daughters Catherine and Anne to the sayd mortgaged premisses, and to the moneys therevpon respectively due, give, will, and devise to my said daughters Catherine and Anne as well the sayd mortgaged p^rmises in Orfford aforesayd, as alsoe the sayd p^rmises in Brockford aforesaid, or in any other towne near adjoyneinge, wherein my name was vsed as aforesayd. And all the said seu⁹all sūmes of seaven hundred pounds, and eight hundred pounds, thereby secured as aforesayd, wth the proceed thereof, to haue and to hold the same to them the sayd Catherine and Anne, their heires, executo^{rs}, and assignes respectively. And for further supply of p⁹sent por⁹con and meanes of livelyhood for my sayd daughters, I doe alsoe hereby give and bequeath vnto my sayd daughters the sūme of five hundred pound sterling out of my personall estate, to make vp their p⁹sent por⁹cons a thousand pounds a peece or vpwards. Alsoe I give vnto my sayd daughters all and singuler my plate, jewells, bedding, linnen, brasse, pewter, houshold stuffe, vtensills, and implem^{ts} of house whatsoever (my bookes allwayes excepted), to be deliu⁹ed and equally to be devided betweene my sayd daughters after the death of my sayd wife. In the meane time I will and appoint that my sayd wife shall haue the vse thereof. And of this my last will and testament I make, constitute, and ordaine the sayd Susan Despotin my welbeloued wife, and my sayd daughters Catherine and Anne Despotin, my executrices. Provided allwayes, and my will is, that the said Catherine and Anne my daughters shall, vpon reasonable request, joyne in any such assurance or conveyance as shall be reasonably devised or advised for settling my manno^r, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, with thap⁹pt⁹nce in Nedging aforesayd, and every parte thereof, to the vses, intents, and purposes aboue limited, and declared: or, in case either of them shall refuse and deny to doe such acts as shalbe reasonably required for settling the same and every pte thereof asaf oresayd, that then such of them soe refuseing shall haue noe benefitt by this my last will and testament, nor of any legacie thereby given. In wittnes whereof I haue herevnto sett my hand and seale, and published and declared this to be my last will and testament, the day and yeare first aboue written, and in the p⁹sence of Tho. Fletcher, Abraham Wright, sen., Francis Godfrey, Roger Bridon. JASPER DESPOTIN.

William Fiske, of Pakenham, gent.—1648.

In the name of God, Amen. The twentieth day of March, in the yeare of our Lord God one thousand six hundred forty and eight, I, William Fiske, of Pakenham, in the countie of Suff. gent., being in good health and perfect memory, (I thanke God for it,) doe make this my last will and testament in manner and forme following, renounceing form^r wills: First, I comēd my soule into the hands of Almighty God, hoping and praying that onely through the mercie and meritts of Jesus Christe my Redeemer, I may receive remission and p̄don of all my sinnes, and may be made ptaker of eu^olasting life and salvaçōn, and my body after death I comitt to the earth to be buried in decent manner at the costs and discreçon of my executo^rs hereafter named. And as touching my temporall goods and possessions, which God haue blessed me withall, I dispose of them in manner and forme following: First, I give and bequeath vnto John Fiske, my eldest sonne, my manno^r or capitall mesuage in Norton, called Hardings, together with my tenem^t called Finches, wherein one William Syer now dwelleth, with all the lands, rents, and app^rtīncē to them belonging, lyeing and being in Norton aforesaid, and in the occupaçon of one William Muskett, to him and his heires for ever. I^ſm I give vnto the sayd John Fiske my sonne, one close of pasture, called Norton pasture, conteyning by estimaçon therof ffortie acres, lyeing in Norton aforesaid, and holden by copie of Co^rt Roll of the manno^r of Norton Hall, to him and his heires foreu^o. I^ſm I give vnto the said John my sonne, my mesuage or tenem^t in Elmswell, called Marriotts, wherein one Robert Rose now dwelleth, with all the lands, and app^rtīncēs thereto belonging, together with all other my lands in Elmswell aforesayd, to him the said John and his heires foreu^o. I^ſm I give and bequeath vnto the same John my sonne, my tenement of mesuage in the towne of Sibton, in Suffolke, with the lands therto belonging, now in the fearme and occupaçon of one Symon Hayles, to him and his heires foreu⁹; and he to enter all the lands before bequeathed to him p⁹sently after my decease. I^m I give and bequeath vnto the said John my sonne, the reu⁹çon of a tenem^t or capitall mesuage in Darsham, in the countie of Suff., with all the lands and appertenances to the sayd mesuage belonging, lyeing in Darsham, Bliborow, and Westleton, which I lately p⁹chased of William Hart of the said towne of Darsham, gent., to him and his heires foreu⁹. I^m I give and bequeath also vnto the said John Fiske my sonne, all that rent-charge of sixe pounds, thirteene shillings, and foure pence, by the yeare, issuing out of my said sonnes moitie of Coldhall, in Woolpett, in the countie of Suff. which I bought of Gardener Webbe, esq., to have and to hold to my said sonne John and to his heires foreu⁹. I^m I give and bequeath unto Thomas my sonne, my tenem^t, or capitall mesuage in the towne of Wramlingham, in the county of Norff., with all my lands, both free and them which are holden by copie of Court Roll, lyeing in the said towne of Wramlingham, and which I p⁹chased of Christopher Herne, gent., and is now in the occupaçon of one John Lawrence, gent., together with all thap⁹tuñc⁹ whatsoeu⁹, to him the said Thomas and his heires foreu⁹, and he to enter the same p⁹sently after my decease, and to take and enioy the rent and profitts that shall arise out of the said lands from the feast of St. Michaell the archangell next before my decease. I^m I give and bequeath to Martha Bright, my eldest daughter, one hundred pounds of lawfull English money, to be payd vnto her by my executo^r hereafter named within three moneths after my decease; and, if shee shall thinke good, to be disposed of by her to the vse of Katharine her daughter, as she shall see cause or most convenient, my sonne-in-law, Mr. Henry Bright, makeing a true accompt and payment of such moneys as shall then be owinge to me or my executo^r by reason of money lent or otherwise. I^m I give vnto the aforementioned Thomas my sonne, a silver beeker, which I vse in my chamber. I give alsoe vnto him my horse and horse armo^r, pistolls, and the other furniture belonging thereto for service and remaining at Pakenham. And alsoe one of the three musketts which are there, with the head peece, sword, and bandeleers. Ifm I give alsoe vnto him a Geneva Byble, and eight volumes of my bookes in folio, namely, Mr. Perkyne, in three volumes, Purchas his Pilgrimes, in foure volumes, and Doct^r Willett's Sinopsis Papismi, in one volume, and alsoe Mr. Dent and Mr. Barnard their Exposiçõs on the Revelaçõs; onely, vpon further thoughts, my mynd is that one of Mr. Perkins volumes standing belowe in the parlor shall remaine there still for the vse of the house, and instead thereof, I give him Gualther on the Acts. And I bequeath and leaue with my sonne John a Manuscript, or written booke in folio, which I desire he may not soe lend it to any man as to loose it or spoile it, but to keepe it as a monument of my readings, and may serue for private vse, as the first copie thereof may serve for vse to my sonne Thomas. And all the rest of my bookes which are in my studdie, together with my globe, mapps, boxes, and whatsoeu^r beside I haue in my studdie, I give vnto the said John Fiske my sonne, together with a great chest of elming borde, standing in the lower gallerie, for to putt therein the bookes, and alsoe a long box in the vpper gallery to put in the great mapp, being rolled vp. Ifm all my linnen, bedding, and whatsoeu^r houshold stufte beside, not before bequeathed, which I haue remaining at Pakenham, whereof I made an inventorie at my comeinge hither, and which may be found amonge other papers, I give vnto my sonne John Fiske and Martha Bright my eldest daughter, to be equally devided betwixt them. The rest of my houshold stufte elsewhere, together with all my moueable goods vnbequeathed, bills, bonds, and debts, both private and publike, I give vnto my executo^r and his heires to enioy the same p̄sently after my decease. And I alsoe bequeath vnto him twoe hundred pounds of lawfull English money and the profitts thereof, which 200 li. was payd at twice into the Chamber of London for the service of Ireland, according to an ordinance or ordinances of the king and both houses of Parliament. Ifm I give vnto Mary Fiske and Margaret Meadows, my two youngest daughters, five pounds a peece, to be payd within one moneth next after my decease by my executo^r. Ifm I give vnto John Alby of Norwich, my cosen, forty shillings of lawfull English money, to be payd vnto him yearely by my executo^r dureing his life, that is to say, without demand, ten shillings to be sent him every quarter, except he shall obteyne the benefitt of liveing in the hospitall. And whereas, in anno 1630, I beganne a guift of a dozen of bread weekly to be given to the poore of the towne of Norton in Suff., my mynd and desire is that the same guift may continue to the world's end. And therefore I doe appoint and ordeyne that within one yeare next after my decease, my said sonne John shall to that end conveigh and assure into certaine feoffees hands, such feoffees as my said sonne John and my cosen Charles Turner of that towne shall nominate and appoint, two peeces of meadow lyeing together within Ixworth, and sett out by dooles, conteyning about two acres and an halfe, which meadow ground I pchased of William and John Parker of Ixworth aforesaid, at the price of fifty-five pounds. And the said two peeces of meadow to be thus conveyed and assured, vizt. Twelve pence a weeke to goe out of it for eu^o, to pay weekly for one dozen of bread, which comes yearely to fiftie and two shillings; and the residue of the rent or profitts of the said meadowe ground to remaine to the sayd John and his heires, to be disposed of as they shall thinke good. And my mind is that the dozen of bread weekly to be sent in shalbe such bread and soe provided as the minister and two cheife officers of the same pish shall thinke fitt and convenient. And shall alsoe be weekly given vnto twelue or thirteene such persons as they shall thinke most worthy and to haue most need; and if by alteraçon of tymes the said yearly sume of 52 s. shall fall short, my mynd and will is that my said sonne John and his heires by supply shall make such provision by good security, as that the said guift may euer be continued. And my desire is that the bounds and dooles of the said two peeces of meadowe and euery pte thereof may be carefully kept and certainly knowne. Item I doe nominate and appoint John Fiske my sonne, often before named, to be sole executo^r of this my last will and testament for the probate and due execu^{co}n thereof. And in wittnes that this is my last will and testament, I have subscribed my name and affixed my seale in the p^sence of these wittnesses vnderwritten. WILLIAM FISKE. Witnessed by vs, Walter Callow, Nathaniell Pricke.

[Lib. Ashton, pars I. f. 284.]

Sir Edmund Bacon, Bart.—1648.

Since, by the mercie of Almighty God, I am at this time in perfect memorie and vnderstanding, I haueing occasion to make this my last will and testam^t, I sett it downe as followeth: humbly beseeching the Lord of all mercie and compassion to cleare me from all my sinnes and iniquities by the bloud of Jesus Christe, that by the imputa^{co}n of his righteousnesse my soule may be saued in the day of accompt and glorified amongst the elect. For my body, I desire it may be layd in the vault vpon the north syde of the chancell of Redgraue church, vnder the monument I haue erected for my deare wife. And I will that noe funerall pompe be bestowed at my buriall; and I desire that afterwards the passage into the vault be bricked and filled up. For my personall estate, I give as followeth: I give vnto my brother Mr. Robert Bacon, of Riborowe, all my guilt and silver vessell, plate, and spoones, not otherwise bequeathed, which appears sett downe in an inventory. I give him alsoe all the wine and beere I shall leaue in my house at the time of my death, and all my corne either in my house or standing abroad, and all the hey, together with all the bedds of what kynde soever I shall leaue at the time of my death, not otherwise disposed of, and all the deere in my parkes at Redgraue and Thornage. I give also vnto my sayd brother Mr. Robert Bacon all my houshold stuffe, as well linnen as otherwise, not otherwise bequeathed, bedding, hangings, and carpetts belonging to my houses at Redgraue and Thornage, and whatsoever vtensills belonging to my milhouse, stables, barnes, and all the outhouses, cart-houses, buttry, vessells in the cellars, pastry, kitchen, larder, brew-house, bakehouse, and the gardens, and the netts for fishing, and all my vessells of brasse, copper, pewter, and lead, and my houldbards. I give further vnto him all my armo^r, peeces, pistolls, swords, and saddles, and whatsoeu^r belongs to armes, not otherwise bequeathed, being either in the armory or the little roome adioneinge to it. I give also vnto him my blacke velvett footcloath layd with good and silver lace, with the furniture to it, and the best bitt I shall leaue, and my guilt stirrapps. I give alsoe vnto my brother Mr. Robert Bacon my white marble bason, and what stood form^yly aboute it, in the parlo^r garden. I give vnto my cozen Mr. Maurice Barrowe my silver standish. Item I give vnto the towne of Redgraue, and to the townes of Botesdale, fifty pounds, to be bestowed as my executo^{rs} shall thinke best, to the vse of the poore in each parish; and my will is that the overseers of each parish doe give an account of the benefitt of it layd out to the poore yearely before the Justices, which shall take the accompt within a moneth after Easter day. And my will and meaninge is that it be deliu^oed as an increase of the benefitt of the poore, and not to lessen any part of the collec^on which shall be allowed otherwise for the supporting of the poore in each parish. Item I give to John White, my servant, and to his heires for ever, my messuage called Purdyes, with thapptūncē, and one peece of ground called Tynkers, sometimes a messuage, now wasted, both which lye in Botesdale, sometimes Anthony Fales, and lately belonginge to Mrs. Anne Butts, my grandmother, deceased, and now are in the possession and occupa^on of the sayd John White, my steward, or his assignes. I give vnto the town of Halstead neere Bury, thirty pounds, to be disposed of to the best profit that shall be thought fitting by mine executo^{rs}, and the benefitt thereof to goe to the sexten of that parish, or some other appointed by six of the cheife inhabitants of that towne, the minister being one, for the well looking to the two toombes in that church, the one being the tombe of S^r Robert Drury and my deare sister his wife, and thother that of my neece Elizabeth their daughter. The like sūme I give vnto the towne of Redgraue of thirty pounds, vpon the condiçon, for the keeping cleane and maintaininge in good repaçoⁿs the tombe of my deare wife and the isle I builded to place it in, adioyning to the chancell on the north part, and is to be disposed on alsoe as mine executors shall thinke fittinge. And whereas my late deceased father, by his last will and testam^t, after paym^t of other legacies devised as well the residue of çtaine plate, as alsoe certaine moneys therein mençoⁿed, vnto my brothers Mr. Robert Bacon and S^r Butts Bacon, which seu^lall legacies, albeit I have truly satisfied with a great overplus and advantage to either of them, in the incumbrances since happened and well known to my said brothers, being desireous to p^{re}vent all future questions which may arise betwixt them or either of them and mine executo^{rs}, concerning the same, for the sake of mine executo^{rs} in that behalfe. And that this my last will and testament may be duely p^{er}formed, I doe herein and hereby, as well in p^{er}formance of the seu^lall provisoes, powers, and authorities by me sau^{ed} and reserued in and by one indenture triptite, beareing date the tenth day of September, in the sixteenth yeare of the reigne of our sou^{er}aigne Lord King Charles of England, &c. ; as alsoe to declare my true intent and meaninge, touchinge all and every the vses and estates respectiue^{ly} limited vnto my sayd brothers Robert Bacon and S^r Butts Bacon, in and by the sayd indentures ; as alsoe all and every the legacies by this my last will and testam^t to my said two brothers devised are all meant and intended, and hereby so deemed to be, aswell in full recompense and satisfacçoⁿ of all legacies, guifts, and bequests, in and by the sayd last will and testam^t of my sayd late ffather to them se^uall devised as aforesaid, as in testimony of my intire loue and affec^on to them, in which respect my further will, intent, and meaninge is, and I doe hereby further manifest and declare, that before such time as any of my said brothers, Mr. Robert Bacon and S^r Butts Bacon, shall take any benefitt by this my last will and testam^t, shall seu^oally and respectiuey vnder their hands and seales release to my sayd executo^{rs} all and all maner of legacies, sūme and sūmes of money, to them or either of them devised or bequeathed by the last will and testam^t of my late fater ; and such of my said two brothers as vpon reasonable request of my sayd executo^{rs} shall refuse to make such release, and shall neu^othelesse sewe, molest, and trouble mine executo^{rs} or the executo^{rs} of mine executors, touching or conc^oninge such legacie or legacies or overplus money, to him devised by the last will and testament of my said late ffather, which neu^othelesse I am confident he will not doe, that then and from thence forth the estate and estates to him and his heires males of his body, in and by the sayd indenture triptic limited, to cease, determine, and be vtterly voyd. Now whereas S^r Nicholas Bacon, my grandfather, Lord Keeper of the great Seale of England, did by his indenture dated the seaven and twentieth day of May, in the eight yeare of Queene Elizabeth, convey to diverse ffeoffees, in the same indenture men^oned, the moyetie of the mannor of Burgate with thappt^oncē (inter alia) to the vse of himselfe for life, the remainder to S^r Nicholas Bacon his sonne for life, the remainder to the first begotten sonne in tayle, with diverse provisoes and remainders ; and further (inter alia) that it should be lawfull for every of the p^ons inheritable by force of the sayd indenture and limita^ons of vses therein expressed, haueing and being in seisin in the sayd mannor with the appurtenances aforesaid, to make his last will and testament of the same, and thereby devise and bequeath the issues, reuenews, and profitts of the said manno^r with thapp^rt^oncē afore-said, and all and singuler the lands, tenem^{ts}, and hereditam^{ts}, whatsoeu^o accepted, reputed, and taken, as p^{te} and p^{cell} or member of the sayd mannor, for and dureing the space of seaven yeares next after his decease soe estated, as by the sayd indenture appeareth; and whereas the said Lord Keeper, by his indenture dated the tenth day of Aprill in the fifteenth yeere of the sayd Queene Elizabeth, conveyed and assured the other moyetie of the said manno^r of Burgate, with th'app^rtñncē, to diuerse other ffeoffees in the same indenture mençoned, to the same or like effect, vses, and provisoes, in the same first indenture mençoned appeareth, now I, S^r Edmund Bacon, haueing an estate and interest of inheritance of the p^rmisses by virtue of the sayd seu^lall conveyances made as aforesaid, doe hereby and herein, according to the seu^lall and respectiue provisoes, powers, and authorities in and by the sayd two last seu^lall resited indentures, devise, bequeath, limitt and appoint the sayd mannor and lands wth the app^rtñncē for the terme of seaven yeares next ensewing after my decease vnto my brother Mr. Robert Bacon, and his heires. I give vnto the poore of the townes wherein I dye seised of any farme or farmes the sūme of threescore pounds, to be proporçonably devided, soe neare as may be, vnto the number of the poore of the seu^lall places; but the poore of the parishes of Redgraue and Botesdale are to haue nothinge of it, in regard I haue bestowed otherwise vpon them. I desire my servants, who haue a mind to it, may remaine at my charge at Redgraue hall six weekes after my decease, which time I intreat my brother Mr. Robert Bacon, and his heires, to allowe them; and that they who will not stay, may haue a reasonable proporçon in money payd them for their dyetts by mine executo^{rs} for that time; and that vpon the six weekes end or before they shall haue their wages payd them which shall be due at the time of my death. And the legacies which I haue given them and others, I would haue discharged soe soone as may be after my decease, I leauing them ready money to doe it withall. Among the rest of my debts I owe vnto the towne of Botesdale tenn pounds, which I will shall be paid wthin a moneth after my decease, and soe much interest for the money, according to eight in the hundred, as shall be due at that tyme (the interest of it was payd at Hallowmas, 1647). I would haue within a moneth after my decease a barrell of good gunpowder of a 100^{li} waight, deliue^d vnto one of the cheife constables of the hundred of Hartesmere, I haueing receiued it for the vse of my company, and not haueinge vsed it I desire it may be put into the magazine. I give vnto the right hono^{ble} the Lady Wootton, widowe to the Lord Edward Wotton deceased, Baron of Marly, one hundred pounds, together with the limned picture of my wife, which I knowe will be acceptable vnto her in regard of the great loue which was betweene them. I give alsoe vnto her La^{pp}, the landskipp inamiled vpon gold which is in the Dutch cabinet in my closett. To my neece the Lady Howell, daughter to the Lord Thomas Wotton deceased, I give my diamond ring, given my wife by my lord her ffather. I give vnto my Lady Mentice, daughter to my brother Sr Nathaniell Bacon, the box with pearle, sealed vpp, with the name of my sister Waldegrauē vpon it. I give vnto the eldest daughter of my nephew Robert Bacon, sonne to my brother Mr. Robert Bacon, of Riborowe, my feather sett wth diamonds, being in the iron chest. I give vnto my neece Mrs. Jemimah Cletheroe, daughter to Mr. Henry Cletheroe, fifty pounds. I give vnto Mr. Bacon Gawdy, my nephew, three hundred pounds, willing him to pay fifty pounds of it to his sonne Francis Gawdy, soe soone as he hath received the money. I give vnto the widowe Susan Gawdy, my nephew Captaine Gawdyes widowe, who was slayne at Mاسترخت, fifty pounds. To her daughter Susan, fifty pounds, and to Bassingborne her sonne, fifty pounds. I give vnto my brother, Sr Butts Bacon, Baronett, eleaven dozen and six buttons of gold that are sett vpon a sute that I weare. I give him alsoe five hundred pounds of money, and five hundred pounds worth of plate. I give him alsoe my achate with the picture of the butterfly in it, and the pendant hanging on it, the stonne found in Botesdale streete. I give him alsoe ffifteene clasps of gold like scallop-shels, which are in Arthur's keeping. I give him alsoe

the chayne it hangeth at. I give vnto my nephew Mr. Henry Bacon, sonne to my brother Sr Butts Bacon, one hundred pounds. I give vnto Mr. Payton Bacon, my nephew, sonne to my brother Mr. Robert Bacon, of Riborowe, twenty pounds. I give vnto my nephew Mr. Butts Bacon, sonne of my brother Mr. Robert Bacon, of Riborowe, one hundred pounds, and my great limbecke, in the laboratory. I give vnto my nephew Mr. Nicholas Bacon, of Gislingham, my little black stocked peece inlayed with silver, and my case of redd stocked pistolls, and my flaske to them, inlayed with silver. I give him alsoe my achate with Queene Elizabeth's picture in it, and the chaine of achate it hangs at of thirty beads. I give him alsoe my Iseland cornelian stonne sett in gold, with the antike figure in it. I give alsoe vnto him my meddall of the synode at Dort, which is in the hands of George Gardiner. I give him alsoe my chaine of beads with scrues. I give vnto my nephew Mr. William Brooke my guilt wrought sword and the girdle and hangers to it. I give vnto James Harvey my servant, and to his heires, all that my mesuage wth the apptñance, called Cotterells, in Botesdale, and one peece of land adjoineing to the same, sometimes Anthony Fales, and lately belonging to Mrs. Anne Butts, my grandmother. I give vnto Mr. Phillip Jacob, minister of Nether Rickingale, who in my ffather's tyme did often supply the place of a chaplyn vnto me, twenty pounds. I give vnto Captaine Bokenham my good friend, ten pounds, and my damaske sword, with the handle of perfect gold, with the girdle and hangers to it. I give vnto Mr. John Craddocke, minister of Barrowe, my great grinding-stonne of purfure with the muller to it, and the little grinding-stonne of purfere with the muller to it. I give him alsoe my two perspectives of Saint Marke, hanging in the chamber of my laboritary. I give vnto my servants and some others as followeth: I give vnto Mr. Coppyn, my chaplyn, one hundred pounds, and all the bookes he hath in his hands of mine. To George Gardiner, my clarke, I give two hundred pounds, and the best gelding of mine he can choose. To John White, my steward, threescore pounds. To Bowser Gyles one hundred pounds. To Mrs. Anne Brampton, my servant, one hundred and fifty pounds. To Arthur Marsh I give one hundred and fifty pounds, and all my weareing apparrell not otherwise disposed of, and the linnen whatsoeu⁹ I vse to weare about my body. I give also vnto him the cuppord in my chamber. I give vnto Mr. Richard Hinsloe, the phesiçõn, dwelling in Wortham, ten pounds besides whatsoeu⁹ is due to him for phisike for myselfe, my houshold, and others by my appointment. I give him alsoe my great herball, bound in leather, composed by Mr. John Parkinson, apothecary. To John Flood fourescore pounds. To Leonard Goodburne, my cooke, forty pounds. To John Nelson, my coachman, ffourescore pounds. To Wiffm Tevis my brewer, thirty pounds. To James Harvey, my servant, ffortie pounds. To Thomas Mayor threescore pounds. To Henry Bond, my gardner, fourescore pounds. To Thomas Coppyn, my servant, threescore pounds. To Elizabeth, the wife of Arthur Marsh, fifty pounds. To John Lymber forty pounds. To Anne Disney, ats Pett, thirty pounds. To goodwife Mayor, who helps in the dayrie, three pounds. To Edmund Steggell five pounds. To Edward Tollifer five pounds. To old John Tollifer of Rickingalle, tenne pounds. To Anne Bedwall, my servant, twenty pounds. To Thomas Tevis, who helps in the garden, ten pounds. To Robert Amys, the brick-burner, of Redgraue, ten pounds. To James Stearne, one of my butlers, twentie pounds. To William Trower twentie pounds. To Richard Eng twenty pounds. To Martyn Turner twentie pounds. To Nicholas Mulley, the boy in the stable, three pounds. To John Last, my warriner, thirty pounds. To William Padnall, my servant, ten pounds. To William Lumnis, my kitchen boy, three pounds. To Samuel Cooper, the bayliffe, ten pounds. To John Bond, the baker, five pounds. To Robert Worlidge, the husbandman, five pounds. To James Yonge, the husbandman, five pounds. To George Betts, my keeper, five pounds. To Edward Bally, my servant, three pounds. I give towards the maintenance of the lecture vpon the markt day in the towne of Botesdale, three pounds and ten shillings a yeare, to be issuing out of my closes called Barker's field, in Botesdale, to be payd quarterly to the churchwardens of Botesdale for the time being, soe longe as the Protestant religion continueth that is now professed in the church of England. And of this my last will and testament, I make my executo^{rs}, my brother Robert Bacon, of Riborowe, and my nephew Robert Bacon, of Thornage, his sonne, and my cozen Mr. Francis Bacon of Ipswich, not doubting, out of the love that hath been betwixt us, but that they will pforme and execute what is in the same with what speed conveniently may be, there being money enough left to pay all the legacies given in money by this my last will; and my debts, legacies, and charges of my buriall being discharged, I give vnto my said executo^{rs}, Robert and Robert, all my goods, plate, Jewells, moneys, houshold stuffe and personall estate not formly bequeathed; and to my cozen Mr. Francis Bacon I give one hundred pounds. And my will and meaning is, that I give it him to be an assistant to my other executo^{rs}, and that he meddle not with any pte of the estate; but if it shall fall out that my sayd cozen hath any charge about the businesse of my will, my will is that he be payd it by my two other executo^{rs}. And in wittnes that this is my last will and testam^t, I haue subscribed to euery leafe thereof and setto my seale, being in number nine. And hereby revokeing all former wills, I doe constitute and make this my last will and testam^t, and doe publish and declare the same this second day of October, anno Dñi 1648, annoq, regni regis Caroli nunc Angliæ, &c. vicesimo quarto, in the p^sence of Will. Morris, James Betts, Robert Pleasance. EDM. BACON.

Mary Chapman, of Bury, widow.—1649.

In the name of God, Amen. I Mary Chapman, of Bury St. Ed's, in the countie of Suff., widowe, and relict of Thomas Chapman, grocer, deceased, being in disposeing memorie, doe make and ordeine this my last will and testament in manner following: Inpr^s, I give vnto my daughter Mary Chapman, my posted settworke bedstead and liu^ry cupbord to it, together with a feather bed, a feather bolster, two pillowes, a greene rugg, a paire of vallence and curtaines, two blanketts, a chaire and two stooles, a little flockbedd and my best flocke bolster; alsoe one trundle bedstead and an halfe trundle bedstead, a cribb, a glas-case, a leafe table, a forme, a great kettle, a great skillett and a little square table, a frying-pan; also a greene chaire and two stooles wrought; alsoe two fine towells and a course one; alsoe one long table cloath and a short table cloath, and a fine holland cupbord cloath; alsoe a fine paire and a course paire of sheets; also halfe a dozen plaine napkins; also three fine pillow beers; alsoe a long darnisle carpett, a little darnisle carpett and curtaine of the same; alsoe my watered grogerin gowne and watered grogerin petticoate with a silver lace; alsoe my coloured tawny gowne and rose-coloured tawny petticoate, a little truncke, a paire of cobjrons, fire-pan, and tonges with brasse heads, and my Byble. Item I give vnto my sonne Thomas Chapman my great caldron, alsoe a great flockbedd and a little flockebed, a blew rugg, and a blanket, an old kiverlett, a feather bolster, and my great truncke. Item I give vnto my sonne John a featherbed, a feather bolster, and a flocke bolster, a blew kiverlett and a blanket, a paire of mustard quearnes; also my muskett, rest, bandileers, sword and headpeece, my jacke, a fine paire of sheets, and a hutche. Item I give vnto my daughter Anna my greene bedstead, a paire of greene vallence and curtaines, a featherbedd, bolster, and two pillowes, a yellow rugg and two blanketts, a greene chaire and four laced stooles ; alsoe a trundle bedsted, a liu^y cupbord, a keepe, two wrought chaires, my two lesser kettles, my brasse pott, two litle skilletts, a litle round table, halfe a dozen diap napkins, a fine towell and two course ones, a fine paire of sheets and a course paire, two diap table cloaths, a short table cloath, and three course pillow beers. Item I give vnto my daughter Martha two wrought backchaires, my silver bodkyn, my blacke silke hood, my wrought wastcoate and wicker chaire. And my will is that all my pewter be equally divided by waight betweene foure of my children, viz^t. Mary, Thomas, John, and Anna. Item I give to my sister Fuller my silke gowne and my best crosscloath, handkerchiefe, and paire of foresleeues, which she shall chuse, to be deliu^oed to her within one moneth after my decease. And I will that my beareing cloath should be for the vse of my said sister and my daughters Mary and Anna, each of them to haue it when they haue occasion to vse it, and she that last beare children to haue it for ever. I^tm I give vnto my sonne Thomas and to his heires foreu^o, my mesuage or tenem^t in the great m^kett place in Bury, over against the Crosse, with the garden and all other thap^tñncē therevnto belonging, as the same is or lately was in the possession of William Carter, ironmonger, and Robert Docking, barber. And if it shall happen that my s^d sonne depart this life before his accomplishment of the age of one and twentie years, and dye without issue of his body lawfully begotten, that then the same mesuage with th^o app^r-tñncē to be sold by my executo^{rs} hereafter named and to be equally devided betwixt those of my children that doe survive; onely to my daughter Martha, I give but ffortie pounds out of it, she being well p^rvided for by her grandmother, and their se^uall pts to be payd vnto them at their age of one and twentie yeares, or day of marriage, which shall first happen. And if it shall soe fall out that the sayd house be sold for the payment of their p^te that comes first of age, my will is that the profitts of the remaininge p^te be employed towards the maintenance of those who shall not then be of age, till they shall receive their legacies as abouesaid. And my will is that the rent of the sayd mesuage be employed towards the maintenance of my children which my father or mother shall keepe. And my will is, that if any of my said children depart this life before his, her, or their accomplishment of the age of one and twentie yeares, or die without issue lawfully begotten, then the pte or ptes of household stufte, linnen, and apparell aboue bequeathed, of him, her, or them soe deceasing, to be equally devided amongst my children that doe survive. And I doe nominate, constitute, and appoint my ffather John Francke, and my brother Charles Francke, executo^{rs} of this my last will and testament. And in case my ffather depart this life before my mother Mary Francke, then I will that my said mother should be executrix with my said brother. In wittnes whereof I have herevnto sett my hand and seale the xijth day of November, in the yeare of our Lord God 1649. The m^oke of Mary Chapman. Signed and sealed in the pnce of Frances Harrison, Edward Oxborough.

Robert Bacon, of Redgrave, Esq.—1650.

In the name of God Amen. On the xxxth day of May, in the yeare of our Lord, accordinge to the computaçon of the Church of England, one thousand six hundred and fiftie, I, Robert Bacon, of Redgraue, in the countie of Suff., Esq. being in goodhealth and of sound and perfect memory, God be thanked therefore, yet considering the ffrailtie and incertaintie of this life, and being desireous to settle a course for payment of my debts, and provision for my wife, and my children yet vnprovided for, and for other good causes me therevnto moueing, doe make and ordaine this my last will and testament in maner following: First, I bequeath my soule into the hands of Jesus Christe my Redeemer, who soe dearely hath bought it even with his most precious bloud, and doe hope by his mercies to receive everlasting happines, and my body I will to be buried at Redgraue aforesaid, and to be layd in the vault there wherein the body of S^r Nicholas Bacon, knight and baronett, my grandfather, was layd. And whereas I haue by ffyne and recovery, and by certaine indentures, caused divers manno^{rs}, lands, tenem^{ts}, and hereditam^{ts}, to be conveyed to S^r John Hobart, baronett, S^r Wiliam Doily, knight, my sonne-in-lawe George Reve, esq. George Gardiner, gent. and John Spendlowe, vpon trust for payment of my debts and legacies, as in the said indentures now fully appeareth, I doe hereby desire my said freinds soe trusted to se my debts payd and trust pformed, according as I haue directed the same to be done. And whereas by indenture quadrptite, beareing date the twentieth day of May, in the yeare of our Lord one thousand six hundred and fiftie, made betweene S^r Robert Bacon, baronet, my father, and Phillip Bacon, my sister, of the first part; me the said Robert Bacon, on the second pte; Isaac Appleton, esq., my sonne Edmund Bacon, and Mrs. Elizabeth Crane, on the third pte; and the said Roger Reve, esq. on the fourth pte; and by fine accordingly levyed by me and my said ffather, to the said Isaac Appleton and his heires, the manno^{rs} of Thornage and Briston, with all the lands, tenements, meadowes, pastures, woods, and hereditaments to the said manno^{rs}, or either of them, belonging, or in any wise appteyninge, with their and every of their rights, members, and appurtenances, and all other the lands, tenem^{ts}, meadows, pastures, woods, and hereditam^{ts} of me or my said ffather, scituate, lyeing, and being in Thornage, Briston, Brimingham, Sharpington, and Letheringsett, or in any of them, with thapp^rten^{ce}; except the lands in Briston, Brinton, and Brimingham aforesaid, then formly conveyed to the vse of me the said Robert Bacon and my heires; and except eight acres of land in Thornage, in the occupa^õn of Richard Cleve, are conveyed and limited to the jmediate vse and behoofe of my selfe for my life, and after my decease for and touchinge all such and soe much of the said manno^r, lands, and pmisses as I the said Robert Bacon should by any wryting or wrytings vnder my hand and seale, or by my last will in wryting, lymmitt or appoint for joynture or estate of Catherine my wife, or any other wife or wiues which I should after happen to marry, to the vse and behoof of the said Catherine or such other wife or wiues, for and dureing the terme of their⁹ all and respective life or lives, or other terme, and in such manner and forme and with such condiçons and limitaçons as by such wryting or wrytings, or last will, as aforesaid, should be limited and appointed, as in the said indenture quadrapertite fully appeareth. Now by virtue and in psuance of the intent and meaning of the said indenture, and the said power therein to me as afore limited, and out of my especial loue and affecçon vnto the said Catherine my now wife, and for her better livelyhood and maintenance and increase of her joynture, and that she may be more able to educate my children as she shall think fitt, I doe by this my last will in wrytinge will, limitt, and appoint, all the said manno^{rs}, lands, ten^{ts}, hereditaments, and pmisses, (except as is before excepted,) shall imediately from and after my decease goe remaine, and be by force and virtue of the said indenture and ffyne, vnto the said Katherine my beloued wife, for and dureing her widowhood, and that the said ffyne be and inure accordingly. Item, I give vnto my wife two thousand pounds, to be payd by my said ffeoffees or trustees of my estate within a yeare after my death, that if she please she may give it to my daughter Anne, if she shall marry to her likeinge. And I give vnto my wife all my houshold stuffe at Thornage, with my stocke and goods there, soe that within a moneth after my death she enter bond to my trustees of my estate to leaue the stocke at her death to my sonne Edmund soe good in value as she shall find the same at my death. And if she shall refuse to enter such bond, then my said bequest to her of the stocke shalbe voyd. And my desire is that she shall not entermarry with any, but live singly, soe that she may be better able to provide for my children, which

I leaue to her care. And if she shall marry with any, then my will is that she shall not haue the said houshold stuffe, stocke, or goods bequeathed to her as aforesaid any longer then vntill her day of marriage, nor shall haue that increase of joynture and estate in Thornage which I haue heretofore given to her longer then she shall live and continue a widowe without marrying of her selfe after my death to any other pson whatsoever. Item I give vnto my two daughters Jemima and Frances seu^oally, to either of them two thousand pounds of currant money of England, to be payd to them within one halfe yeare after my death, if I shall live vntill they atteyne the age of eighteene yeares or more. And if it shall happen that I shall dye before that time, then my will is that their said porçons shalbe payd at their ages of eighteene yeares respectively. And my will is the feoffees in trust which I haue made for the paying of my debts and legacies, by the sale or profitts of those lands and goods which I haue intrusted them with, shall rayse and pay the said porçons, and employ them after the raising thereof vnto the vse of my said two daughters respectively, vntill they come to their ages of eighteene yeares old, and shall allowe to my said daughters but after the rate of six pounds in the hundred pounds for the interest or profit of their said porçons after the raising of them. And my desire is that my wife should haue the bringing of them vp vntill their seu^oall ages of eighteene yeares, if it shall please God to give my wife life soe long, and that they shall either of them haue payd by my said friends trusted, to my said wife soe longe as they shall be vnder her educaçon, thirty pounds for their cloathes, educaçon, and dyett yearely, and every yeare, soe long as they shalbe vnder the age of eighteene yeares aforesaid, and vntill they shall receive profit of their said porçons; the said thirtie pounds to be payd halfe yearely by equall porçons. And if my said daughters Jemima and Frances, or either of them, happen to dye before the age of eighteene yeares and marriage, then my will is that the porçon of her soe dyeing shall cease and be voyd, and the moneys raised or

NOTES.

P. 1, l. 12. j. portiforium. A book containing the antiphonal service, sometimes accompanied by musical notes. In 1396 Robert Stabeler, priest, bequeathed "magnum portiforium notatum, excepto tamen quod diebus dominicis et alijs diebus festivis predictum portiforium ponatur in choro ad deserviendum ibidem." [Lib. Osberne, f. 66.] In 1399 Galfridus Glemesford "assignat pro j portiphorio de novo faciendo in cancellis ecclesie sancti Jacobi Apostoli, x. marcas, sub condicione quod portiphorium secundarium ibidem ad presens existens deibi amoveatur et ponatur coram altari Sancti Johannis Baptiste ad perpetuum usum ejusdem altaris." [Ibid. f. 95.] In 1503 Christopher Sekker, priest, bequeathed to "William Breggs, that gooth to scole with me, myn portoose and all my gramer bokys, yf so be he be a preest." [Lib. Pye, f. 124.] And in 1509 syr William Taylour, priest, bequeathed his "whyte portos coueryd with white ledyr to the chapell in the college [at Bury St. Edmund's], ther to be cheynynd in the same, and to contynue." [Lib. Mason, f. 9.]

— 1. 18. Forsariis. Forcers or caskets; French forcier.

P. 2, l. 5. Ecclésiastica sepultura. What is now understood by the phrase "christian burial," in which form it occurs in the will of Cecilia wife of John Coolyn, 1427. The addition, in some instances, of the words "in cancellis" has led authors to consider it to refer to the "holy sepulchre" in which the host was reserved from Good Friday to Easter; and Sir John Cullum [Hist. Hawsted, 2d edit. p. 16.] quoting from the will of "John Meryell, of Hausted, 1480," the direction to be buried "in the holy sepulchre that is in the cherch yerd of Hausted," remarks, in a note, on the extraordinary position of "the holy sepulchre" in that parish. The passage, however, was not extracted with due care. The will has no reference to Hawsted, but Stansted, and the direction is that his body is to be buried "in the holy sepulture, that is, in the cherche yeerd of Stansted;" and is a literal translation of the common latin form. The will of John Sergeaunth, chaundler, of Bury, 1496, expressly says "in the holy sepulture of the cherche yeerd of Seynt Marie."

— 1. 13. Gilde de dusze. A leaden token in the possession of the Rev. H. Hasted, Bury St. Edmund's, bears on the obverse a mitred head and the legend SIGNVM GILDE

SCI NICHOL, and on the reverse the letter T between S and N of a smaller size, with the legend CONGREGACIO DVSSSE. We learn from the will of John Baret (p. 35) that this was "the gild of the Translation of St. Nicholas othirwyse callyd Dugilde;" and from that of John Coote (p. 92) that it was holden in the college at Bury. It was governed by a prior (p. 26), had many chaplains, and many distinguished brethren. The meaning of the word dvss—variously written dus, dusze, dvsse, and doosse—is not clear. It has been suggested that it may refer to a council of twelve forming its governing body,—the douze gild; and by others, as there were two gilds in the town in honour of the same saint,—the patron of merchants and travellers,—it might have been the distinctive mark of the gild of foreign or travelling merchants, hawkers or pedlars, who were commonly known by the name of "Dusty Foot," pie poudreux, and for whose relief the court of pie poudre was erected. The circumstance of the gild being held in the college of priests called Jesus College, again, has induced the belief that it is a vulgar adoption of the word Deus. Can this be the "sacerdot' fraternitatis sancti Nicholai" mentioned in the will of lady Ela Shardelowe (p. 13), incorporated as a college of priests at the beginning of the 16th century? St. Nicholas was a favourite saint with the people of Bury. To his honour there was a hospital, and two gilds; and on the pulling down of some priests' stalls on the site of the chapel in St. Mary's church, in which one of the gilds used to worship, a variety of leaden tokens having reference to the saint were found. See Tymms's History of St. Mary's Church, pp. 62—67.

P. 2, l. 20. Gybwico. Ipswich.

— l. 14. Corporale. See Way's Prompt. Parv. p. 93.

— l. 15. Murra. Mazer, a wood of mottled grain much in favour for making drinking cups. On this subject see notes to the memoir on archbishop Scrope's Indulgence cup, in the Transactions of the Archæological Institute at their York Meeting, and notes to Promptorium Parvulorum, p. 328.

— l. 21. j. mappam, j. manutergium. Mappam, table cloth, sometimes written nappa, French nappe, whence napry, used in p. 25, and napkin. Manutergium, hand napkins.

— l. 22. Celour cum iij redels. A canopy with three curtains. See p. 136. The "selour" of an altar occurs in p. 40; and the will of Robert Thurston, of Mekyll Waldyngfield, 1494 [Lib. Bonor, f. 23], directs his executors to "provyde and ordeyn a clenly seler for to be born ouyr the Sacrament on Palme Sunday and on Corpus Xp'i day." Ridel, from the Fr. rideau, is a small curtain.

— l. 22. Camelini. Camlet, a stuff originally made of camel's hair.

— l. 29. De panno blod pro toga, etc. "vj quissinos de blod sagone" occurs in p. 13; a "sangweyn" gown, p. 98; and a "sangweyn" sheath, p. 40. It is sometimes latinized into "blodium."

P. 5, l. 25. Johannes Notyngham. The very beautiful porch on the north side of St. Mary's church, Bury St. Edmund's, known as the Notyngham porch, bears this inscription over the doorway: "Orate pro animabus Johannis Notyngham et Isabelle uxoris sue." In the memoirs of the Professors Martyn, of Cambridge, this wealthy and pious grocer is said to have been steward of the abbot of Bury; but the statement requires confirmation, as does the alleged claim of the Martyn family to be his representatives, derived in the following pedigree, obligingly communicated by D. E. Davy, esq. of Ufford.

John Notyngham would appear from his will to have died without male issue, as he makes mention only of a daughter and her two children, Isabella and John Jerveys. William Nottingham, who successively filled the offices of portman, bailiff, claviger, and justice of Ipswich in the time of Henry the Eighth, was most probably the son of John Nottingham of Bury (whose will, dated 24 Aug. 1503, and proved 13 Jan. following, is preserved in Liber Pye, f. 142) and his wife Rose, daughter of Thomas and Agnes Dunne; the following children being enumerated therein: 1. William, eldest son; 2. Robert; 3. Agnes; 4. Margaret.

P. 6, l. 5. Seyntemarypriest. The priest who officiated at the altar of St. Mary. In the will of Johanna, relict of sir Roger Drury, 1446 [Lib. Hawlee, f. 19], he is mentioned as "capellano vulgariter nuncupato seyntmaripriest."

P. 8, l. 2. Seynt Robert. See also p. 9, l. 14. It is alleged that the Jews of Bury St. Edmund's crucified a child, named Robert, on the Good Friday of 1181, in contempt and derision of the sufferings of the Saviour. The monks caused the body to be interred in the monastery with great ceremony and ostentation, and his shrine speedily became renowned for the miracles said to be there effected. Jocelin of Brakelond wrote a book of these miracles. A guild in his honour existed in the town. Isabella Teryngtone, widow, by will 10 Oct. 1468, bequeathed "ad sustentacionem gilde sancti Roberti in Bury, xij*d*."

— 1. 9. Ratunrowe. A raton in East-Anglian dialect was either a weasel or a water-rat. [Prompt. Parv.] Ratun or raton, rato, sorex. (Sorex est mus aquaticus, a ratte. Ortus Vocabulorum.) Sir John Mandeville says of the Tartars, "Alle maner of wylde beestes they eten, houndes, cattes, ratouns," &c. Ratun-rowe may have been a street infested with such "wylde beestes," either very near a stream, or a butchery, or sewer—whereby they abound. It must be remembered, however, that there was a woollen stuff called rateen, but perhaps not made so early as the 15th century; that Bury was a great cloth mart; and that its streets were usually named after the trade principally carried on in them. Thus we had "Hatter Street," "Glover's Street," "Skyenner Rowe," "Lyndraper Rowe," "Spycer's Row," &c. &c.

P. 8, l. 14. Līe, legitime; and l. 16, Līam, legitimam.

P. 9, l. 1. Teyuen. The Tay fen. A place so called in Bury St. Edmund's, on the bounds of Fornham, indicates the site of the old fen.

— l. 29. Et di. garnisch peuter vessell. Half a service of pewter. The garnish, according to Harrison, who wrote his Descr. of England about 1580, "usuallie dooth contene 12 platters, 12 dishes, 12 saucers;" and he adds, "in some places beyond the sea, a garnish of good flat English pewter, of an ordinarie making, is esteemed almost so pretious as the like number of vessels that are made of fine siluer." The garnish was the suite or service, and varied according to the rank of the party, as in modern times. The garnish of sir Thomas Kytson, contemporary with Harrison, consisted of "three dozen of platters and dishes, and one dozen of saucers, every six dishes and platters varying in size." [Hist. Hengrave, 195.] See Way's Prompt. Parv. p. 187.

P. 10, l. 4. Par cultellorum quorum manubria sunt de cornu vnicornij. Raine [Hist. North Durham, i. 104] says that it was the tooth of the monodon, or sea unicorn, which was imposed upon the world as the horn of the unicorn, and was sold at an extravagant price, as a supposed preservative against poison. In 1531, Thomas Mosse bequeathed two cushions to St. James's church, Bury, "w^t the pyghtur of y^e unicorn." [Lib. Hollond, f. 3.] This was the favourite medieval fable of the capture of the unicorn, attracted by the fascination of a virgin, so often portrayed in ancient works of art. See, for example, Carter's Painting and Sculpture, pl. 113.

P. 11. Robert Bishop of Emly. In Wharton's list of the Chorepiscopi Diocesis Norwicensis, occurs "Robertus Ep's Imelicensis, 1424;" and a subsequent entry has "Imelacensis, Cassel," i. e. bp. of Emly in the province of Cashel in Ireland. In Ware's list of the Bishops of Emly are three bishops named Robert, if indeed they are all different persons, at this period. 1. Robert Windel, Franciscan friar, appointed by the pope 1423, but never consecrated. Then follows the name of Thomas Burgh. 2. Robert Portland, Franciscan friar, 1429, but not consecrated. The name of Thomas occurs again as succeeding in 1431; and then follows 3. Robert of England, also a Franciscan friar, appointed by the pope on Thomas's death, 1444, but rejected, or appointed bishop of Tiberias, in Galilee. The Robert whose will we print died titular bishop of Emly in 1441.

P. 12, l. 8. Armilausa seu collobium. Probably a garment partaking of the character of a cloak and a sleeved tunic.

P. 12, l. 8. Vnum pannum depictum cum historia Roberti Regis Cesilie. The patron of Petrarch, who died in 1343. Can the story have any reference to the wasting away of his flesh, which he witnessed for some time before his death (Vit. Petrarce. lib. v. epist. i. 639, and lib. vi. epist. v.), and so be connected with the history of those wasted figures which are frequently met with on sepulchral memorials?

— 1. 11. Donge. A mattress. Way's Prompt. Parv. p. 127.

— 1. 12. j. pruce hutche. In John Baret's will (p. 23), occurs this item: "And as for the prews coffre alwey I wille remayne to my hefd place, and iij. of the fotyd stolys therto." "A prewe cofer" is mentioned in the will of Wm. Bevill, of Chesterton, Hunts. dated 1487 [Nicolas's Test. Vet. 781]; and in the will of Johan Warde, of Glemsford, widow, 1520 [Lib. Johnson, f. 78], occurs "my prosse and myn hutche on the soler." It appears to signify a chest or coffer of foreign construction, imported probably by way of the Baltic, from Prussia.

— 1. 21. Et j. le frende pellure. Foreign fur. See Way's Prompt. Parv. v. Fremyd, or Strawnge.

P. 13, l. 1. Lady Ela Shardelowe. An account of this knightly family may be seen in Gage's Hist. Thingoe, p. 59. The lady Ela's gravestone, stripped of its brasses, remains in the south chancel aisle of St. Mary's church, Bury St. Edmund's. In Weever's Funeral Monuments the name is erroneously printed "Shantlow."

— 1. 9. Monile aureum cum figura cervi impressa. The badge of Richard II. John Baret mentions (p. 35), his "best herte of gold with aungellys," the supporters of that prince. It was a very favourite ornament with the inhabitants of Bury (vide Index), probably from the visit of that prince to their abbey in 1383, and the authority exercised by Michael de la Pole, earl of Suffolk, his favourite.

— 1. 17. Ad fabricam novi campanilis mon' de Bury. See Archæologia, vol. xxiii. 329.

— 1. 27. Togam meam penulatam cum cropps de grey. Trimmed with the fur from the cropps, or stomachs, of the grey, or badger. Way's Prompt Parv. 104, 209.

P. 14, l. 7. Copicium meum penulatum cum letusez. Chequered or paned with lattice work, commonly called lettuces. "Red lattice" and "red lettuce" are terms frequently used by antient writers to signify an alehouse, in allusion to the chequered table generally painted on the outside.

— 1. 15. John Baret. Nothing further is known of this pious and liberal church decorator, beyond what may be gathered from his will, than that he was the son of Geoffrey Baret, or Baret, of Cratfield in Suffolk, and Bury, who died in 1416, [Will in Lib. Osborne, f. 142.] leaving considerable property in Bury to his two sons, William and John. John appears to have filled some office under the abbots of Bury; probably that of camerarius, or thesaurarius, as the tradition that he resided in the since demolished house called the Exchequer, or Audit house, is confirmed by entries in the contemporary list of Hadgovel tenants, dated 1433, [Harl. MSS. 58, f. 25.] and in the rental of the Sacrist of the monastery for the year 1533. It is probable that he received the right of wearing the collar of SS., referred to in p. 41 as "my colers of silver of the king's livery," on the occasion of Henry the VIth's visit to St. Edmundsbury in 1433, when that sovereign passed some months between the abbot's palaces at Bury and Elmswell; in which latter house Baret had a chamber (p. 33.) By marriage he was allied to the knightly families of Drury and Clopton; his wife, described as Elizabeth Drury, being probably a daughter of sir Roger Drury, kt. who removed from Thurston to Rougham, and died in 1400. Dying without issue, Baret bequeathed his property to his nephews and to pious uses; and directed his body to be buried under a tomb which he had prepared in his lifetime, and which still remains, in St. Mary's church, Bury St. Edmund's. It is an altar or high tomb, with a cornice of Purbeck marble, surmounted by a recumbent figure in stone of a corpse in a winding sheet, which is laid open to exhibit the havoc which death has made upon the body. On the "selure" around the head are these words Ego nūc in pulvere dormio; and under the head and along the side of the body a large scroll inscribed in red letters with blue initials: D'ne secundū actū meū noli me iudicare. Nihil dignū ē conspectu tuo feci. Ideo deprecor magestatē tuā ut tu deus deleas ūiquitatē meam. John Baret.

On the end of the stone on which the figure is recumbent are these verses, in blue letters with red initials:

Ion	Ho that wil sadly beholde me with his ie May se hys owyn merowr ā lerne for to die.	Baret.

And underneath, on the pedestal, these verses:

Wrappid in a selure as a ful rewli wrecche
 No mor of al myn good to me ward wil strecche
 From erthe I kam, and on to erthe I am browht;
 This js my natur, for of erthe I was wrowht;
 Thus erthe on to erthe to gedir now is knet,
 So endeth each creature Q'd John Baret.
 Qwerfor 3e pepil in weye of charite
 Wt 3o^r good p^ayeris I prey 3u help me,
 For lych as I am right so schal 3e all be,
 Now God on my sowle haue m'cy & pite. Amen.

The north front of this tomb is divided into seven square panels; the first and seventh of which contain, within a quatrefolled lozenge, the monogram of the deceased, a j placed transversely through a b. The colour of the j is blue, and that of the b is red. The second and sixth panels have a shield within a quatrefoil. The shield appears to have formerly had the arms thereon in brass, as the rivets remain. Within a quatrefolled lozenge in the third panel, is a scroll with the word Grate in blue letters with red initial; and within a quatrefoil in the fourth or centre panel is the figure of a man in the costume of the period,—long furred gown, hood, &c. and decorated with the collar of SS.; with both hands he holds before him a scroll inscribed m̄e in blue letters.

This figure was probably designed for a portraiture of John Baret himself. The fifth panel resembles the third, the word on the scroll being gou'ne; thus finishing the motto or "reason" of the deceased, "Grace me Govern."

The east end of the tomb has three panels; the centre adorned with a very beautiful glorified Agnus Dei, within a scroll disposed as a quatrefoil, and bearing these words, alternately blue and red :

Deus propitius esto michi peccatori.

To the east of this monument, against the south wall, is a fine piscina, under a deeply recessed cinquefoil canopy; the back of which is adorned with collars of SS. inclosing the monogram J.B.

The roof of this chantry, splendidly adorned with panels of foliage, &c. is still in excellent preservation. The colours are well preserved, and the whole forms a most interesting remnant of church decoration.

The timber roof is divided into six panels; in each of which are the monogram and collar of SS. as shown in the opposite engraving, and the motto, Grace me Gouverne, in large characters, disposed diagonally from N.W. to S.E. the initial G. being of gold. At the intersections of the panel architraves are bosses with the arms of Baret: Argent, a bend sable, between three square buckles gules;* and at each corner of the foliated border within the panel was a tinsel star nailed on to the wood-work.

On the eastern face of the north-western principal of the roof are these words :

In D'no gaudebit aīa mea;

and on the western face of the north-eastern principal :

Laudens D'n'm Gloriose.

On the front of the north-western principal :

Quæ sursum sunt quærite.

Over the arch separating the nave aisle from the choir aisle :

Orate pro anima Johan'is Baret.

the initials of which are very rich.

* The same arms, the buckles being lozengey instead of square, are to be seen on the monument, in St. Helen's, Norwich, of Thomas son of Christopher Baret, of Yarmouth, gent. 1721. This family was of Horstead. See Blomefield's Norfolk, iv. 378.

Over the south window :

Alleluia. Soli Deo Honor et Gloria.

and over the nave arch,

Nos cum prole pia benedicat Virgo Maria. Amen.

The spandrils of the arch are powdered with collars of SS. inclosing the monogram J.B.

That portion of the roof of the nave which is in line with the roof of this chapel, and "overshadowed the rood," appears to have been decorated and painted by John Baret. On the west face of the curved brace under the hammer beam, on the north side, is

and on the corresponding curved brace on the south side

Grace me Gouverne.

P. 15, l. 10. Percloos. Perclose, a screen, inclosing part of a church for a chantry chapel, or for other purposes. The subjoined cut is believed to represent one of the carved panels of the perclose to Baret's chantry. It was lately discovered among some rubbish in a painter's workshop in Bury St. Edmund's.

— 1. 11. Candilbeem. The rood-loft or rood-beam was so called from the great candles, set on high candlesticks, placed on each side the rood or cross. Much emulation was shewn by the faithful in supplying these high candlesticks. John Busshe, of Bury, mason, by will dated 24 Aug. 1508 [Lib. Pye, f. 204], directed his executors to "make a tapere of wex of halfe a pounce, and sett it on his doble candelstyk of latn, and that to stonde as the highest in Seynt Mary chirche." In 1517 John Rawlyns, tailor, of Bury [Lib. Hood, f. 94], bequeathed xx li. of wex to brenn vpon the rode lofte before the crucifixe as long as it will indur, in the honor of God and ovr lady and good seynts;" and in 1536 John Hawkyn, hardwareman, of Bury [Lib. Hollond, f. 40], directed "a tapyr of j lb. waxe to brenne on the rode loft, as they vse the lights ther, the space of ten yers." The candle-beam was not confined to the sacred edifice. Agnes Ridges, of Bury, widow, 1492 [Lib. Pye, f. 39], mentions "my candylbeime that hangyth in my hall w^t vj bellys of laton standyng thereon."

P. 15, l. 14. Graue. The raised tomb of the testator is invariably called a graue in this will.

— 1. 24. Powder box of silver. Probably for perfumed powder, which was much used for clothes; or, a caster, like a modern pepper-box, for powdering, or seasoning meat.

— 1. 22. Halpenye of gold. The half of a rial, or a piece of gold that passed for 5s. was so called. The fourth part of the rial was called a rial-farthing, as appears by an indenture of the Mint, dated 1 Hen. VI. "A ferthing of gold" occurs in line 24. A "penny of gold" was struck in Henry III.'s reign, which weighed two, but was worth twenty, silver pennies. Only one or two specimens are known. The word "half-pence" appears in a remarkable way in the will of Thomas Balkey, otherwise called Thomas Teryngton, butcher, of Bury, in 1497; he directed his executors "to kylle iiij. bullocks at my vijth day, and do them smyte in peces better than halfpens; and every pore body, as ferre as it wyll stretche, have a pece of the same fleshe, and an halpeny whete loff and a fagott." [Lib. Pye, f. 54.] His intention seems to have been that each poor person should have meat to the value of at least one halfpenny: but the phrase grew to be used to describe any minute division, as in Shakspeare's "Much Ado about Nothing," Act ii. sc. 3, we find the Governor of Messina exclaiming, "O! she tore the letter into a thousand halfpence!"

— 1. 30. A peyre of smate bedys of jet. In the will of Robert Fysher, 1478, occurs "j. payr bedys le geet vocat' langget cum divers' iocal' dependent'." [Lib. Hawlee, f. 251.] Beads of jet were regarded as gifted with extraordinary virtue; and to this belief Bp. Bale appears to make allusion, Kynge Johan, p. 39.

"Blessynges with black bedes wyll helpe in every evyll."

P. 16, l. 11. Mystill. Beads of different materials; from A.S. mistl, various or different. Twenty comb of "mestelyn" occurs in the will of Robert Stanton, of Bury, 1499. [Lib. Pye, f. 86]; and "an acre of mastelyn," in that of Edward Colbye of Cotton, 1538. [Lib. Poope, f. 172.] "Meslin" bread, made with equal quantities of wheat and rye, was common, says Forby, in Suffolk, 50 years ago. A kind of metal was also called mastlin or mestling. Ang.-Sax. mæslenn, brass. In an inventory taken at Wolverhampton in 1541, occur two great candlesticks of mastlin, weighing 120 lbs. (Shaw's Staffordshire, ii. 160.)

— 1. 18. Jemewys of green. In p. 37 the testator mentions his "iiij. bagges, the jemewys and the rynges of syluir." The will of Thomas Trewynard, of Bury, priest, 1492 [Lib. Pye, f. 13], bequeaths a "purpyll corse" girdle, "with a lytell gemewe of goold." The gemewys, it will be perceived, were the metal fastenings. Forby has "Gimmers, small hinges, as those of a box or cabinet, &c." in which sense Chaucer uses gimnews. Fr. gemeau. See Way's Prompt. Parv. 194, note.

— 1. 33. Chavntours. Choristers.

— 1. 34. Colet. Acolite, an ecclesiastical officer next in rank below the sub-deacon.

P. 17, l. 5. Nobill. The year following the date of this will, 1464, the value of the noble was declared to be 8s. 4d.; and in 1465 raised to 10s.

P. 17, l. 6. I will no comown dole haue. That is, he would have no indiscriminate distribution of alms, as was too often the case on these occasions, when the poor, who attended in large numbers, scrambled for small pieces of money or loaves of bread.

— l. 18. Oure ladyes fyve joyes. The five joyful mysteries were, the Annunciation, the Visitation of Elizabeth, the Nativity, the Purification, and the Finding of the infant Jesus in the midst of the Doctors in the temple.

— l. 19. Ovener. Owner.

— Ibid. That lewyth. That is left; A.S. leue, to leave. "Half the wood that leuyth" occurs in p. 101.

— l. 22. Bellemen. Bellmen went round the town to call upon the inhabitants to pray for the soul of the departed, that they who heard the name might say, "God have mercy on his soul," p. 21. In p. 28 the testator requires them "to go yeerly abowte the town at his yeerday, for his soule and for his faderis and his modrys." In 1510 Jone Mason,^s of Bury, widow, [Lib. Mason, f. 1.] directed "the bellemen to go abowte the paryssh" at her anniversary and earth-tide, "to pray and rehearse the sowles" of all the persons she recited. John Coote (p. 92) "will neyther ryngyn nor belman goynge," but his almsgivings and dinners on his thirty-day "to be don in secrete manner."

— l. 30. A messe of prikked song. A mass sung from pricked or written musical notes. A "messe be note" occurs in the following page.

— l. 31. At vij of ye klokke be the morve. Morrow was the old English word for morning. The priest who said early mass was called the Morrow-mass priest.

P. 18, l. 1. Whith vestement. The colour for the altar at all the festivals of the Virgin Mary, according to the ritual of the church of Rome, is white: the vestments of the priest take the colour of the altar. The complete suit is comprehended in the word "vestment."

— l. 3. My reson. Motto. Fosbroke, on the authority of Gough, erroneously calls the scroll on which the motto was inscribed the "reason."

— l. 4. Vestement made of white busteyn. Busteyn, bustiam or bustian, a kind of tissue, the same, says Jamieson [Suppt. Scott. Dict.] as fustian. In Ayrshire bustine still signifies fustian.

— l. 11. Edmond Tabour. See also p. 38. The cause of the testator's anxiety to have the soul of Edmond Tabour specially prayed for appears in p. 41.

P. 19, l. 1. Her ferme. Their rent; old French.

— l. 4. jnou. Enow or enough, still generally so pronounced in the East Anglian district.

— l. 11. The bulle and the busshoppees seelys. i. e. papal and episcopal indulgences.

— Ibid. Loker of burde. A box or closet of wood to prevent injury to the seals.

— l. 15. Rerdoos and table. Reredos or screen at the back of the altar, in the centre of which was the triptych or folding picture, of a centre and two leaves. The "story of Magnificat" was probably painted on the centre compartment, or the table, and the "ballads" or rhymes, and the record of the pious deeds of the donor, on either leaf or lowkys (Ang. Sax. loc); so that they might be read whenever the triptych was opened, which was done on all festivals.

P. 19, l. 25. Hovel. A canopy or niche. The word "housing" in p. 20, l. 4, is another name for a niche, from houss, a cover or case.

— 1. 27. Candylstykke of laten. A hard mixed metal much resembling brass, the precise composition of which is, it is believed, unknown. It was most extensively used. In the will of Margare Veere, of Eye, 1540, "white laten" and "redd laten" occur [Lib. Poope, f. 276], and "counterfeit laten" is mentioned in p. 23.

P. 20, l. 6. ijj woytez above my grave. Probably waits, who used horns or trumpets. The angels with musical instruments in the cove of the roof over his tomb.

— 1. 15. Hous with the ij tunnyys of chemeneyis. The passage of the chimney was called a tunnel till the beginning of the present century, and the chimney shaft is still called a tun in some parts of the west of England. Clustered chimney shafts were introduced about the date of this will.

— 1. 16. Hefd place. A principal residence, what is now understood as "a capital mansion"; Ang. Sax. hæfd, head. In the will of Agnes Lark, widow, of Bury, 1503, mention is made of the alienation of a tenement from "the heed place" [Lib. Pye, f. 164]; and John Basse, draper, in his will, 1506, alludes to his "hedhowse" [Ibid. f. 176].

— 1. 20. Gresys. The plural of gre, a step. Stairs are still called in Norfolk grissens. Hence the Grecian Stairs mounting the hill at Lincoln: see a Memoir by Rev. F. Massingberd in the Trans. Archæol. Inst. at the Lincoln meeting.

— 1. 27. A house bearing the sign of the Falcon, a badge of the House of York. Another badge of this royal house is described in p. 37, "a litil fetirlok of gold, with a lace of perle and smal bedys therto of blak." Camden (in his Remaines) states that Edward the IVth bore the fetterlock open with a falcon within it, to show that he had obtained the crown: his great-grandfather having borne a falcon in a fetterlock shut, to indicate that he was locked up from the crown; but see this story examined by Mr. J. G. Nichols, in the Gentleman's Magazine, 1842, vol. xvii. p. 379; where it is shewn that the falcon and fetterlock were not combined in one device until the reign of Edward IV.

P. 21, l. 19. Awaylle. Profit or use. In p. 40 it is directed that he that payeth the pension shall have "the wayl that comyth ovir." From this word perhaps come the "vails" claimed by servants, though that word has been generally derived from vale, farewell. See Way's Prompt. Parv. p. 17.

— 1. 29. Abbott's cope. A tax levied on the town for providing a new cope for every fresh abbot. In 1499 William Fish, of Bury, bequeathed a tenement "to the payment of the Abbott's cope, as oftyen as a new election of the Abbot of Bury is hadde." [Lib. Pye, f. 84.] See also p. 70.

P. 22, l. 8. Cornell house. The Prompt. Parv. explains cornell by the word frontis- picium. It was probably a corner house. In the dialect of Herefordshire cornel still signifies a corner.

P. 22, l. 9. Petauncere. An officer of the monastery, whose duty it was to distribute the pitancia, or pittances of meat and drink (see pp. 6 and 16) allowed to the monks and others connected with the monastery on particular occasions, over and above the stated commons.

— l. 31. Ostilment. Sometimes written hostiliments and hustilmentys, household furniture; from old Fr. oustillement, movables. Way's Prompt. Parv. p. 255.

P. 23, l. 1. Trampson. The transome is usually considered to be that part of the bedstead which is between the two head-posts, and is frequently elaborately carved; but the general association of the word with feather beds would lead us to think the bolster was meant; in which sense Cullum [Hist. Hawsted, 119] explains the synonymous word traversin. Agas Herte, in her will, 1522, mentions (p. 115) "a fetherbed, ij. trawn-soms, a matras, ij. pelowes, iiij. payer of schets," &c.; and also (p. 116) "a fetherbed, a matras, a bolster, ij. pelowes," &c. See also p. 136. No instance has been met of the use of the two words in directing the bequest of one set of bed furniture.

— l. 1. Costerys. The hangings of the walls.

— l. 6. Esterych burde. In the will of Johanna Stevens, of Bury, widow, 1459, occurs "duo scabella de estryche boord." Phillips has "Estregbords, boards, deal or fir, brought from the Eastern parts for wainscoting and other uses."

— l. 8. The grettere hol basyn. Ang. Sax. hol, cavus. Hollow basons occur in p. 82. Shallow basons were called "flat" basons. In the will of Margareta Thruston, wydowe, 1471, is this item: "j. peluem laton voc' anholbasyn, j. peluem laton voc' a flatbasyn." [Lib. Hawlee, f. 164.]

— l. 9. ij. love candylstikkes of asorth. Like one another, a pair.

— l. 16. The coronacion of oure lady. This was a very favourite subject in mediæval sculpture and art. The Virgin is usually represented seated, by the Saviour's side, on a throne or seat of similar elevation as his, and the Saviour places a crown on her head. A specimen, from Ely Cathedral, is engraved in Carter's Painting and Sculpture, sculp. pl. iii.

— l. 18. Banker. A covering, generally of tapestry, for a chair, form, or bench, so explained in p. 101; Fr. banquier. Bankers for cupboards occur in p. 25.

— l. 25. Chargeour. The dishes in which joints of meat were served, sometimes called "flat peces." See Way's Prompt. Parv. v. Charyowre, p. 70.

— l. 27. Chetill. A kettle. Ang. Sax. cetil.

— Ibid. A titell chafour with a beyl. A handle; Fr. bailler. Handles are still called bails in East Anglia.

— l. 28. A trewd, a gredyle. The "gredyle" was an iron plate upon which bread was baked. "Trewd," a trivet?

— l. 29. Boord clothes. Table cloths. Way's Prompt. Parv. p. 44.

P. 24, l. 8. Daffous. Dovehouse.

P. 24, l. 10. xijs. of white rente. Quit rent. In the "Anturs [Adventures] of Arther" white is spelled "Quyte."

— 1. 15. Mekilhornyngiserd, Litilhornyngiserd. The now consolidated parishes of Great and Little Horningsherth, commonly called Horringer.

— 1. 24. And though William revele hym to have it. See also p. 30, l. 28, and p. 33, l. 27. A very rare use of the word rule, as of a convention or order appointed. The order of a judge is still called a rule.

P. 25, l. 9. Barnagge. Alexander Neccham, who died in 1227, gives in his treatise de naturis rerum a curious account, "de ave que vulgo dicitur bernekke," which grew, as he asserts, from wood steeped in the sea, or trees growing on the shore. Vide Prompt. Parv. p. 32, note.

— 1. 24. Cofferys. Chests, trunks, or boxes of all forms and uses, were called coffers, from Fr. coffre. Still used in East Anglia.

P. 26, l. 2. Thriftly man. A curious use of this word. It is synonymous with "man of wourshepe" in l. 15; a "wurshipfulman" in p. 27; "most notable and wurshipfull men" in p. 40; and "probiolibus et magis sufficientibus hominibus" in p. 70. It means well-to-do, "thryfty, vigens." Prompt. Parv.

— 1. 16. Howsyng. Housen, old Eng. plural of house.

P. 27, l. 3. Comown all the dowtyss and pereilyss. Commune. Way's Prompt. Parv.

— 1. 4. A wys. Advice; written also avys, avyse, avyce. In the same page occurs awysement, from avisamentum; and in p. 39, "be wyse of good masonys."

— 1. 31. The Aldirman, dye of Candilmesse gild. In p. 77 the "Aldyrman, dye, and auditours," of the gild are enumerated; and in p. 80, "the aldyrman and dye of the seyd gylde for the tyme being" are to have, under the will of Margaret Odiham, dated 1492, "yereley wythoutende for ther labor ijs." In the accounts of the Guildhall Feoffees, Bury St. Edmund's, for the year 1570, the Alderman "prayeth allowance for iiij li. paid to the Dee for bringinge forthe of the dynner; xls. for his owne fee, and xls. for the Dee's fee." Similar entries occur in each succeeding year till 1583; the fee, differing in amount in different years, being always the same for the Alderman and the Dee. In the Registr. Pynchbeck, f. 228, (Pub. Lib. Camb.) is a copy in old French of "the charter extorted by force of arms and fear of death from the Abbot and Convent by John de Barton, tailor, who conducted himself as alderman of the town of Bury. This charter, which was annulled by the justices of the king in the 2d of Edward III. (1328), after granting to the alderman and commonalty the wardship of children and orphans, "with sufficient surety to render account to the alderman," authorises "the alderman and commonalty, by their dyes and officers, to distrain the surety to render account of the said things, and to make execution thereof," &c. Mr. Way suggests that "the term dye, as used in Baret's will, may be the Angl. Sax. dugeth, or duguth, honorable, probus; ealder-duguthe, the chief magistrate; the probi homines, or prudhommes of the Normans, being much the same as our aldermen."

P. 28, l. 6. Grave of resurrection gylde. The holy sepulchre, which was under the care of a gild that derived its name from assisting at the ceremonies observable there at Easter tide.

— 1. 15. Vas. Octaves.

— Ibid. Al lenton requiem. The short requiem. Shakspeare makes Maria exclaim, in reply to the Clown in "Twelfth Night," "a good lenten answer;" one that comes short of what might have been expected.

— 1. 22. Wynde vp the peys and the plummys. The greater and lesser weights, the latter being probably formed of lead; from Fr. poids and plombs.

P. 29, l. 17. The bereve of the pazbrede. The osculatorium, or piece of wood or metal, with the Crucifixion thereon, which the priest presented to the people at the conclusion of the mass, to be kissed by them "in token of the peace, unity, and amity of all the faithful, who in that manner, and by its medium, kissed one another with the kiss of charity." The instrument was therefore called a pax, and, being commonly of wood, the word pazbrede, or pax-board, became applied to the pax, of whatever material it was made. Nares's Glossary, voce Pax. Archæological Journal, vol. ii. 144—151.

— 1. 30. They to make attorne. Appoint a substitute; whence the word attorney.

— 1. 31. Vys dove. The door of the newel staircase leading to the rood gallery. Prompt. Parv. has "Vyce, rownde grece or steyer, coclea." Thomas Bereve, of Bury, clothmaker, in the year 1525 bequeathed "to the byldyng and fynysshynge of the vise of Seynt James's Chirche xv tonne of ston, and my lord abbot, prior, and the convent, to pay for the caryage of it, vpon this condicion that the vice go forward vpon the said chyrche accordyngly to the covenant mad on the behalf of my said lord and the convent, or ellys not." [Lib. Hood. f. 137.]

— 1. 33. Almarge. A small cupboard in the wall. A. S. Almerige, repositorium, scrinium.

P. 31, l. 10. The high weye toward the grendyll. A place near the spot indicated is still so called; and one or two other places in the town fields are so denominated. Forby has "Grindle, a corruption of drindle, a small and narrow drain for water;" and Ray has "Grindlet" in the same sense. But it might have reference to the site of a mill, which was called a "grindyn" in the 15th century; and grindstones, according to Nares, were called "Grindle-stones."

— 1. 30. The Hert of the Hop. An inn with the sign of a hart upon a hoop, situated in Mustowe Street, Bury St. Edmund's. It is "Hert of Hoop" in p. 40. In the will of the testator's father, Geoffrey Baret, of Bury, 1416 [Lib. Osbern, f. 142], this house is bequeathed to his son as his tenement "in le Mustowe vocatus le inne atte herte." Many an old sign consisted of a carved figure set in a hoop. The "Mitre upon the Hoop," "Angel upon the Hoop," &c. occur in old documents; and the common phrase "Cock-a-hoop" has its origin in this practice.

P. 32, l. 5. The soler above in the ende of the hall. See Prompt. Parv. 192; Arch.

Journal, i. 218, 370; Notes on the Memoir on the Icknild Way, by Mr. Taylor, Trans. Archaeol. Inst. Norwich; and Fosbroke's Encyc. Antiq. 124*. The enumeration of racks and hutches on the sollar, in pp. 130, 153, would indicate that the landing, lighted by an oriel window, was the soler. William Coker, of Nayland, "cordiner," in his will, 1570 [Lib. Aldrich, f. 39], enumerates "one chist stondynge at my bed's head vpon the soler."

P. 33, l. 19. Aldirbest. The Promptorium Parvulorum has Aldyrbeste, optimus; aldyrleste, minimus; aldyrmeste, maximus, &c. Shakspeare uses "alder-liefest," dearest of all.

— 1. 20. I tendyr herg the more. In p. 37 the testator directs that his debts "in especial be tendryd" before all things. "The shepherd tends his flock;" cares for them, waits on them. Waiters were called tenders in East Anglia till recently (Forby); and the word is now used to designate the truck that waits on the railway engine with coals.

— 1. 22. A long grene coorse of silke. The coorse or body girdle (the latter word being frequently omitted) was that which went round the body immediately above the hips. It was frequently very costly.

— 1. 23. Steynyd cloth with vij. agys. One of those paintings which were used for hangings of rooms; the design representing the Seven Ages of Man, which is supposed to have suggested Shakspeare's memorable passage in As You Like it, act ii. scene 7. The Promptorium gives the following account of "The vij. agys. Prima infancia, quæ continet vij. annos; secunda, puericia, usque ad quartumdecimum annum; tercia, adolescentia, usque ad xxix^m annum; quarta juvenus, usque ad quinquagesimum annum; quinta gravitas, usque ad lxx^m annum; sexta senectus, que nullo terminatur termino (non terminatur certo numero. P.); senium est ultima pars senectutis. Septima erit in resurrectione finali." See a dissertation by Lady Calcott in "The Seven Ages," published by Van Voorst, 1840.

— 1. 29. Kerchys. Fr. couvre chief, or creveché, a covering for the head, but afterwards applied to the same material whether worn on the head, neck, &c. "Night kerchers" occur in p. 146.

P. 34, l. 23. Alle the best harneys for oon hors. In 1513 John Fodryngey, of Bury, cook, bequeathed to his son his "hooll harneys called almoos revett, with the codde pece therto and the salett, a bowe of ewe oon of the best, and j. sheff arows." [Lib. Mason, f. 29.] Almaine, or German, rivets were a sort of light armour having sleeves of mail, or iron plates, riveted, with braces for the defence of the arms. [Hist. Hengrave, p. 29.]

— 1. 20. Array. Articles of dress; raiment. In the will of John Plandon, of Bury, 1491, occurs "myn arraye to my body perteynyng." [Lib. Pye, f. 16.]

— 1. 22. John Aleyn my child. Probably a page.

— 1. 27. Palyd of bukram blew and better blew. Striped, heraldically termed, paly, (Fr. pal, a pale or palisade), light and dark blue.

— 1. 28. That I used to trusse with me. To trusse, to pack. Beds used in travelling were called "Trussing Beds."

P. 34, l. 34. My household to be kept hool togedyr with alle my meyne. Dependents; from mesnie, old Fr. which Roquefort defines "famille, maison, tous ceux qui la composent." Nares's Gloss. and Prompt. Parv. In the "Anturs of Arther," the word is spelt mennè, in Shakspeare meiny. "Menyal men" occurs in p. 16.

P. 35, l. 18. Baselard. A long dagger or sheathed knife, worn by all classes. In armed figures of the 14th and 15th centuries it is sometimes attached to the sword belt; in those of civilians it is suspended to the girdle in front. A baselard in "a sangweyn schede," or sheath of blood colour, occurs in p. 40. See also Prompt. Parv.

— l. 19. Maseer with a beend and a foot. The maser, macer, or mazer (Dutch maeser) was a drinking bowl originally made of the maple wood, whence its name, which was afterwards applied to all bowls of the same form, or for the same purpose, of whatever material made. Those mentioned in the Bury Wills are all of wood, with bands or bonds round the edge, of silver gilt. In the will of Johan Brette, of Bury, widow, 1496, occurs a maser "called the maser with the grette bonde." [Lib. Pye, f. 106.] The value of a "beste maser" is stated in the will of Water Rowte of Bury, 1510, to be 20s. [Lib. Mason, f. 4.] Two masers, one with a cover, are engraved in Archæological Journal, ii. 262.

— l. 21. My book with the sege of Thebes in Englysh. The work of his versatile contemporary Dan John Lidgate, a monk in the same monastery in which the testator held some lay office, and was probably presented to him by the poet, whose death took place two years before the date of Baret's will. "ij. Inglyshe bocks, called Bochas, of Lydgat's makyng," occurs in the will of Roger Drury, Esq. of Hawsted, 1493. [Hist. Hawsted, 119.]

— l. 23. A knoppe of gold with perle. Any protuberance, as a button or bud; from Angl. Sax. cnap, a top. In p. 36, l. 24, it occurs as "a knoppe, othir wyse callyd a tuft, of blak sylke."

— l. 24. A rowund ryng of the kyng's silver. A ring blessed by the king? Cf. p. 41.

— l. 25. My heavy peys noble wick weyeth xxs. My heavy weighing noble, Fr. poids. At the date of this will the noble was current for 6s. 8d. (see p. 17), and its weight by the Mint indenture 108 grains; but Henry IV. coined a noble before his 13th year which weighed 120 gr. as did Richard II.'s noble, and that struck in Edward III.'s 27th year. The latter king in his 18th year struck a noble weighing $138\frac{4}{13}$ th gr. and in his 20th year another weighing $128\frac{4}{7}$ ths gr. The first of these two, known to numismatists as the heavy noble, is doubtless the one referred to. "An old noble which is worth ixs." was bequeathed to the same shryne of St. Edmund by Walter Rowte of Bury, in 1510. [Lib. Mason, f. 4.] "A red nobyll" occurs in the will of Elizabeth Howe, of Preston, 1537. [Lib. Poope, f. 28.]

— l. 29. Fertrerys. The keeper of the shrine was called a feretrarius, and the shrine itself a feretrum. See also Prompt. Parv. v. Feertyr, p. 157.

P. 36, l. 1. A ryng of gold with bolyouys. In p. 116 we have "a pewter basen with bolyouys," and in p. 82 "ij. flat basyns of laton, wherof one is with bolyouys." Ornamented with semi-round knopps. Ang. Sax. Belig, a bulge. The ring probably resembled the decade rings figured in Arch. Journal, vol. iii. p. 198, vol. v. pp. 63, 64.

P. 36, l. 8. A spoon of berell. The beryl is a precious stone of a sea-green colour; but a finer description of green crystal glass was so called in the 14th and 15th centuries. Speght's Glossary to Chaucer, and Prompt. Parv.

— 1. 25. A litil nowche of gold with smal perle and stoonys. The nowche or ouche was a stud or setting for jewels of any form or material, derived, says Tyrwhitt, from nocchia, a boss, clasp, or buckle. The nowche of the text might have been in the form of a buckle, the testator bearing for his arms three buckles.

P. 37, l. 4. A byl. A kind of halberd.

— 1. 16. My best gypcer with iij. bagges, &c. Fr. "gibbecière, a pouch, bag, poake, budget" (Cotgrave), properly such as was used in hawking, &c. but commonly worn by the merchant, or with any secular attire. Chaucer says of the frankelein, or country gentleman,

"An anelace [dagger] and gipsere all of silke

Hing at his girdle, white as morow [morning] milke."

In the inventory of valuables the property of Hen. V. A. D. 1423, is enumerated "j. gipcer de noier velvet, garniz d'or, pris 66s. 8d." [Rot. Parl. iv. 215.] See Promptorium Parvulorum, edit. Way, and Archæological Journal, i. 251. From the mention of the testator's "whistel of silver," in p. 41, l. 18, and the separate bequest (ib. l. 20) of his merchant's pouch, it was most probably his hawking gypcer: the whistle was used to send off and recall the hawk.

— 1. 32. Avers. A worse.

— 1. 34. Calyon and moorter. The ordinary flint and boulder walls of the Suffolk churches. Fr. caillou. See Prompt. Parv. v. Calyon.

P. 38, l. 10. Whoos bodyes I have causyd to lese sylvir. The word lese is used in the "Anturs of Arther" for lose. "To lose silver" meant to sustain any loss; the expression worth but "little silver" is still, says Forby, occasionally used in East Anglia to denote anything of little value; but in the case of the testator it may perhaps have a literal sense. See p. 41.

P. 39, l. 4. Sette here ageyn the bowtell. An old English term for a round moulding or bead; also for the small shafts of clustered pillars, window and door jambs, mullions, &c. probably from its resemblance to the shaft of an arrow or bolt. [Oxf. Gloss.] The bowtell in the text is the single shaft or column rising between two windows and supporting a corbel of the timber roof. See Professor Willis' Architectural Nomenclature, Trans. Camb. Antiqu. Soc.

— 1. 8. Foorme of stoon that longith vnto the wyndowe. The window sill.

— 1. 16. Avoyldid. To be removed so that the place be a void or clear space.

— 1. 23. The bem there the iij. kynges be. Figures of the three kings who went to Bethlehem to offer gifts to the infant Jesus.

P. 39, l. 23. The Jesse. A genealogical tree, proceeding from a reclining figure of an old man (Jesse), our Lord's genealogy being represented by figures in the branches, and terminating with the figure of the Virgin with the infant Jesus in her arms. The most remarkable example remaining in England is one of the chancel windows at Dorchester, Oxfordshire.

— Ibid. Our lady with the virgineys afore her. Apparently some conventional subject of ancient art: perhaps one in which a group of virgins with several musical instruments were represented worshipping the Virgin.

P. 40, l. 10. My owne seal of silvir, therin a egle with scripture. His secretum, or private seal, with, perhaps, the emblem of St. John. His "signet of gold with a pellican and his armys grave therein," is noticed in p. 38.

— l. 29. My silver forke for grene gingor. Pots of green ginger were frequently sent as presents. [Fosbroke's Encyc. Antiq. i. 397.] Coryat, in his "Crudities," would make it appear that the use of forks at table dated from a much later period than the times of the testator. An earlier instance of the use of this implement may be cited, from the Wardrobe Book of 25 Edw. I. 1297. See further in Archæological Journal, iii. 179.

P. 41, l. 11. My crampe ring. Cramp rings were used as preservatives against fits, having been first consecrated on Good Friday with peculiar ceremonies by the king or queen regnant. Miss Strickland (iv. 206) claims it as the peculiar privilege of the queens. In Burnet (vol. ii. p. 266 of Records) is to be found the whole Latin formula of this office as written for the use of Queen Mary I. It is said to owe its origin to the virtues of the ring given by Edward the Confessor to the pilgrim, and which ring always appears as the symbol of the royal saint. The superstitious use of these rings is not entirely abandoned in Suffolk. A recent instance occurred at Hengrave, where nine young men of the parish each subscribed a crooked sixpence to be moulded into a ring for a young woman afflicted with fits. [Hist. Thingoe, xxvi.] See Nares and Brand's Popular Antiquities.

— l. 16. My girdyl of tawny silk with poyntes of nedilwerk. Opus punctatum, worked with the needle, a variety of which was counterpoint.

— l. 19. My botorecle set in gold with nedil werk. Probably a buckle; the testator's arms being a bend between 3 buckles.

— l. 21. My best gay cup of erthe kevvryd, or ellys oon of the frerys, to chese of bothe. This, Mr. Way informs me, is an early instance of the use of any ficile vessel as an object of luxury or estimation in domestic use. Was the "gay cup" of oriental ware, or the gay painted crockery of Italian manufacture? "Oon of the frerys" was probably a vessel made in the similitude of a friar. There is one earlier instance of pottery mentioned as an object of estimation prior to the 16th century. In the inventory of valuables of Edw. III. and Ric. II. taken at the accession of Henry IV. occurs "un cruskyn (or small cruse) de terre blank, hernoise; d'argent endorrée, ove un covercle enbatelle, enaymelle; dedein; ove j. babeuyn, pois' ij lb." This was probably the old pure white porcelain, for it occurs with cups of oriental origin, the "gripesei," or ostrich egg, attributed to the griff or griphon, and the "nutte" or cocoa nut. [Kalendars of the Exchequer.]

P. 41, l. 25. Both my colers of silvir, the kyngs lyfre. The livery collar of Edward the Fourth, the reigning sovereign when John Baret made his will, was composed of roses and suns with the lion of March as a pendant. John Baret's collars, however, which are displayed in his chantry chapel, are those of the house of Lancaster, composed of esses, with no other pendant but a trefoil ring. On collars of the royal livery see some interesting papers in the Gentleman's Magazine for 1842, by Mr. J. G. Nichols.

P. 44, l. 32. Unam vaccam sufficient' pro ijbz cereis ardent' coram imagine beate Marie. A very frequent bequest, often accompanied with express directions as to the letting and renewing. John Cleris, of Ampton, in 1530, bequeathed "to the sepulchre light in Ampton Church, to continew for evyr, too melche nete to be leten by y^e churchwardens for the tyme beyng, and halfe part of the mony comyng yeerly of the letage of the sayd nete to go to the fyndyng of the seyd light, and the other half to bye another melche neete, so that the stoke may evyr be renewyd and encresyd, and the mony comyng of the letage of every and all thes seme nete to go to mayntenance of the sayd light to contynew perpetuall." [Lib. Brett, f. 54.] In 1537 Elyzabeth Howe, widow, of Preston, gave "to the hole townsell of y^e town of the parysshe of Preston, iij. neat for to kepe an obytt perpetually, and the same neat to be let by the townsell of the hole townshype of Preston aforsayde for xvjd. a yere a pese of them." [Lib. Poope, f. 28.] In 1542 Water Howlet, of Woodditton, bequeathed "two bullocks euer quicke and neuer deade," for an obit for ever. [Lib. Leme, f. 66.] These were most probably milch cows, for "melche bullocks" occur in one will, and "my blacke bullocke y^e is with calfe," in that of William Rought the elder, of Rickinghall, 1 Eliz. [Lib. Paynter, f. 122.]

P. 51, l. 1. To every housold keper in the town iiijd. Margaret Veere, of Eye, widow, 1540, in directing a similar distribution of iiijd. to each of 40 householders of Eye, adds this condition, "that dothe not gether abrode in the cuntrey." [Lib. Poope, f. 276.]

P. 53, l. 16. A brasse potte. The will of Philip Cowper, of Bury, weaver, 1512, disposes of a "bras potte called a scrayfote potte. [Lib. Mason, f. 15.]

P. 55. John Smyth. Alderman of Bury St. Edmund's 3 Edw. IV. 1464. His bequest of lands to the use of the inhabitants of that town originated the extensive charity known as the Guildhall Feoffment. A portrait of this benefactor is preserved in the guildhall; and a gravestone in St. Mary's church, with the effigies in brass of a man and his wife, are believed to be his memorial. A gravestone by its side records the death, in 1650, of his last descendant, John Smyth, of the Middle Temple, gent.

P. 57, l. 26. Euery article to take pleyne effecte. Fully carried out, plene; "playne" occurs in p. 60 in the same sense.

P. 75, l. 12. My grene worsted coverlyght. In the will of Margarete Cowbregge, widow, 1480, occurs "j couerlighte of Bukkeshorne grene."

P. 78, l. 23. Meve and store. Move and stir. Forby has stoor, to stir, from Teut. stooren, movere.

P. 79, l. 17. Markett stede. Stede, Angl. Sax. a place. "In the stede of an alderman," occurs p. 78, l. 5. Homestead and Fairstead are still generally used in Suffolk.

— 1. 23. Placebo and Dirige. The anthem "Placebo Domino in regione vivorum," with which the vespers for the dead open; and the anthem to the first nocturne in the matins of the office for the dead, "Dirige, Domine Deus meus, in conspectu tuo viam meam." The term dirge is an abbreviation from the Latin dirige. [Gage's Hist. Hengrave, 112.]

P. 82, l. 4. Cophor standing at the North gate with a cheyr therby. Probably provided for a hermit. There were hermits at all the Bury gates.

— 1. 11. A sars of laton. A sieve or cullender. "j sarche of tre," a wooden sieve, occurs in the Pastolfe Inventory. [Arch. xxi. p. 27.]

— 1. 16. A peyre bedys of jete, gaudied with corall. "Gauded gold" occurs in p. 144. A pair of beads was the term for a string of beads, used as a mechanical help to ascertain the number of their prayers, from Ang. Sax. bede, a prayer. Every tenth bead was succeeded by one larger and more embellished than the rest, and called a gaude. The gauds were for Paternosters, the beads for Ave Marias.

P. 84, l. 6. My feffoors to delyuer strengthe jn as moche londe. A curious use of the word in the sense of power and authority. Another instance occurs in the will of John Bewehyr, of Ixworth, 1530. "I gyve all my strength that my mother gaue me, Margarete Bewcher by name, I gyve nowe all my strength to John Wallgore for to gyve or to sell all the goods, houses, and londes, &c." [Lib. Longe, f. 42].

P. 86, l. 5. Lady Cecyle, late Duches of Yorke. Daughter of Ralph Neville first Earl of Westmerland, wife of Richard Duke of York, slain at the battle of Wakefield in 1460; and mother of King Edward IV. and King Richard III.

— 1. 12. To pray for all tho that I am dette bornde to do. Peter Frere, of Wickhamskeith, gentleman, a century later, thinking prayers for the living preferable to those for the dead, directed that the poor to whom the burial dole should be delivered were to be desired to pray "to God for his blessing upon his posterity." [Lib. Stevens, f. 296.]

P. 87. My lord William of Suffolk. This person, who is not mentioned by Dugdale, in his Baronage, was the younger son of William de la Pole, first duke of Suffolk. His wife the lady Katharine was the third daughter of William second Lord Stourton. See the pedigree of De la Pole in Frost's Notices of the Early History of Hull, 4to. 1827, p. 31.

P. 88, l. 19. My syde tawney gowne. Ang. Sax. sid, ample, broad, spacious; in which sense Shakspeare uses "side-sleeves" in Much Ado about Nothing, act iii. sc. 3. Modern East Anglians, according to Forby, strangely depart from the ancient meaning; saying, "This sleeve is too side, it must be let out."

— l. 31. A seynt Antony crosse. A tau cross. In the will of Thomas Clerk, of Bury, gent. 1506, [Lib. Pye, f. 190] "a tau crosse of gold weyng iij li." is bequeathed to his wife; and in that of Katryn Smere, of Bury, widow, 1527, occurs "my best towelly w^t y^e crosse of Seynt Antony." The tau cross was borne in the armorial coat of the Drurys of Hawsted, near Bury; having been assumed, says Sir John Cullum, by Nicholas Drury, as an augmentation, in consequence of having been in the expedition to Spain with the Duke of Lancaster in 1386. [Hist. Hawsted, p. 131.]

P. 89, l. 3. Lady Elisabeth the Duches of Suffolk. Daughter of Cicely, Duchess of York, before-mentioned; sister of King Edward IV. and King Richard III.; and wife of John de la Pole, created Duke of Suffolk in 1463.

P. 91, l. 25. A sperver of sylke. In p. 135 "spurver curtans" occur; and in the will of Elizabeth Drury, 1475, is "a white bedde made sparverwyse." [Hist. Thingoe Hund, 283.] The etymon of sparver is uncertain. Can it be from Ang. Sax. sparran, abdere, to shut or close? The tents in the arms of the Company of Upholsterers are called in their patent, 5 Edw. IV. Spervers. Horman, in his valuable Vulgaria, says, "Some haue curteynes, some sparuers aboute the bedde to kepe away gnattes—conopeum lectum circumspergunt." Thomas's Italian Dictionary, 1548, has "Padiglione (Italian), the pauilion or the sparuiour of a bedde." In an account of the expenses of the King of Scotland, 1474, is this item: "For 4 elne & ane halue of tartane for a sparwort abouin my lord princes cradill, price elne 10s." [Maitland's Scotland, i. 327.] In Nichols's Leicestershire, iii. 265, note 1: "Then every of them [4 yeomen] stuck up the aungells about the bedde and lette down the corteynes of the bed, or sparver."

— l. 26. A cowntyrrpointe. A coverlet composed of counter points or panes of various colours, contrasting with each other. Counterpane is the same thing.

P. 92, l. 18. At my buryng day there be delte xls. in brede at my door. The door of the house of mourning was crowded by beggars. Laurence Smyth, 1481, directs "j d. and a ferdyng lof," to be given to "every poure and nedly coming to the dore syng." [Lib. Hawlee, f. 325.]

P. 93, l. 29. A graveston of marbull. John Gallaunt, of Bury, tailor, 1526, directed to "be bought a marbull ston to ley on my grave to the value of xls." [Lib. Hood, f. 132.]; and Robert Heynes, the elder, of Sudbury, one to the price of "xxvjs. viij d." [Lib. Brydone, f. 160.]

P. 94, l. 16. Aygen. Against. In p. 54 occurs "discharyng ther concyens ayeus God."

P. 96, l. 26. A part be gevyn to poor maydyns at ther maryage. Marriage gifts of pewter vessels are bequeathed in p. 97; and William Walker, of Bury, fletcher, 1539, directed all his "peyntyd clothys to be gevyn vnto pore yong copylls y^t be newly maryed." [Lib. Hollond, f. 54.]

— 1. 27. A parte to be spent in hy weyys. The following item in the will of John Cowpere, late of Hawsted, 1522, will give some idea of the way in which even the principal streets of a town were dependent on private benevolence for being at all in order: "I will that myn executors shall gader and carye, or do gadyr or cary, sex score lods of smale stones w^t tho & suche as I have gadyrid all redy, and those I will shalbe leyd in the highwayes betwix the Southgate and Seynt Mary chyrche where most nede shalbe. And that to be don xx lods yerly til it be don." [Lib. Hood, f. 110.]

P. 98, l. 10. My coffyr of syprys. Cyprus chests used for keeping linen clothes in, mentioned in the will of the Countess of Bath, 1561 [Hist. Hengrave, 136]; and in the will of John of Gaunt, Duke of Lancaster, "a little box of Cypress wood" is the depository of "rings, diamonds, rubies," &c. [Test. Vet. 141.] Shakspeare makes Gremio, in "Taming of the Shrew," act ii. sc. 1, keep his arras in cypress chests.

— 1. 18. My corall bedys of thrys fyfty. The Abbé Prevost (Manuel Lexique) says the rosary consists of fifteen tens (or 150 Ave Marias and 15 Paternosters) in honour of the fifteen mysteries in which the Virgin Mary bore a part.

— Ibid. My maryeng ryng with all things hangyng thereon. Mr. Whincopp, of Woodbridge, who has a large and curious collection of rings, has one, silver gilt, with ten smaller rings thereto, which he says was a decade ring, used instead of beads for numbering prayers. The passage in the text suggests a different use. The will of Marion Chamber, of Bury, 1505, describes her "maryeng ryng" as having "a dyamond & the rubie therin." [Lib. Pye, f. 171.] Inscriptions and posies on wedding rings were common. One found a few years since in the neighbourhood of Bury had this inscription on the inside, "Mulier viro subiecta esto."

— 1. 21. A tabyll callyd a counto^r. See Way's Prompt. Parv. p. 98.

P. 100, l. 3. A sangred to be prayed for in the bedroule. The particular service known by this name is not ascertainable. Thome Pakenham, of Ixworth Thorpe, 1504, bequeathed "to the sepulkyr lyght vj hyves of beene to pray ffor me and my wyffe in y^e comon sangered." [Lib. Fuller, f. 70]. The bead roll was a catalogue of those who were to be mentioned by name in the prayers for deceased benefactors. It was always read on All Saints' Day.

— 1. 17. Cobernys, aundernys. Cobirons were those which supported the spit. In the inventory of "certeyne parcels" at the Guildhall, Bury St. Edmund's, 1584, is this item: "ij cobyrans weighing together el pounds." Phillips has "Cob-iron, an iron on which a spit turns;" and Forby says the irons hung on bars of the kitchen range to support the spit are called cob-irons. Aundirons consisted of two upright standards with a bar between for resting the burning wood upon. The standards were frequently much ornamented; and in the time of James I. were sometimes made of silver. "A pair of handerns" occurs in p. 115. They were frequently in two parts, supported by feet in the middle.

P. 101, l. 16. ij. buffett stolys. An oval wooden stool, without a back, but with a hole in the seat for the convenience of taking it up. [Cullum's Hawsted, p. 25.] The Prompt. Parv. has "Bofet, thre foty d stole;" but Forby describes the buffet stool in Norfolk as "a four-legged stool set on a frame like a table, and used as the poor man's sideboard, table, or stool." "Buffett formes" as well as stools occur in the inventory of Katharine Lady Hedworth, 1568, in Wills, &c. of Surtees Society, i. 282. As the buffet was a cupboard or sideboard, in France termed also the credence, Forby is perhaps correct.

P. 105, l. 26. Cloth to be set vpon my hers. The term is derived from the frame for supporting the lights (called hercia or herpica, from its resemblance in form to a harrow) customarily placed around the coffin on the day of burial. At the date of this will the bier on which the coffin rested was called the herse. In p. 109 "holdyng torches about my herse" occurs.

— I. 29. My book of the dowtes of Holy Scryptur to ly and remayn in the cloyster. R. G. in "Notes and Queries," i. p. 154, considers this to have been a copy of the "Liber Quæstionum Veteris et Novi Testamenti," formerly ascribed to St. Augustin. In 1519, Robert Same, of Bury, chaplain, bequeathed to the church of Wetheringsett "a book called Fasciculus Mors, to lye in the chauncell, for priests to occupye ther tyme when it shall please them, praying them to haue my soule in remembraunce as it shall please them of their charite." [Lib. Hood, f. 62.] In 1509, John Hoore, of Bury, priest, directed his "book called Speculum Sacerdotum to lye vpon the deske before the ferterers at the hygh aughter in the monastery of Seynt Edmund." [Lib. Pye, f. 203.] A "portos to be cheynynd in the chapel" occurs p. 229.

P. 106. Maister Henry Rudde, doctor. Mr. C. H. Cooper obligingly communicates the following note on this learned person:—Dr. Henry Rudde appears to have been employed by the University of Cambridge in a negociation between that body and the town. In the roll of accounts of the treasurers of the town of Cambridge, from Michaelmas, 16 Hen. VII., to Michaelmas, 17 Hen. VII., is this item: "Paid for a breakfast in the inn called the Dolphin, at the time of the meeting had for the matter between the University and the town of Cambridge, there being assembled for the same Mr. Doctors Rudde and Sokebone, Mr. Burgoyne and Wood, 19*d*." There was a hostel in Cambridge called Rudd's hostel, but it did not derive its name from this Dr. Henry Rudde, being mentioned as early as temp. Edw. I.

P. 107, l. 1. ij. blynde wyndowes. The triforium or series of arches between the nave and clerestory are called "le blyndstors" in the life of Bp. Cardme. [Oxf. Gloss. p. 57.]

— I. 14. Toward the peyntynng of ix ordrys of Aungelis. According to S. Dionysius the nine orders of celestial spirits were—seraphim, cherubim, thrones, dominions, principalities, powers, virtues, angels, and archangels.

P. 110, l. 15. My tawny gown furred with shankys. The skin of the leg of a kind of kid, which bears the fur called budge. Phillips.

P. 112, l. 6. Toward y^e ryngers charge off the corfew belle. The origin of this bequest is thus related by Mr. Gage Rokewode [Hist. Hengrave, p. 11]: “John Perfey, a tenant of the manor of Fornham All Saints, is said to have lost his way in returning from the court to Bury, and to have recovered himself from a perilous situation by accidentally hearing the striking of the clock or bell at St. Mary’s Bury. This circumstance, if we are to believe a tale not uncommon, led to his devising certain pieces of land which took the name of the Bell Meadow, parcel of the manor of Fornham All Saints, to the churchwardens of St. Mary’s, in order that the bell might be tolled in summer regularly at four o’clock in the morning and nine in the evening; and in winter at six in the morning and eight at night. And upon condition that the churchwardens should furnish annually at the lord’s court six bottles of French and two of Spanish wine. It is not to be doubted that this endowment for ringing the morning and evening bell of the parish church was to excite the people to repeat the Angelus, according to the general custom in Catholic countries. It may be observed that the Italians call the Angelus bell, Ave Maria dell’ Aurora and Ave Maria della Sera.” Mr. Gage Rokewode had not seen the will, which annexes no condition to the bequest. The payment of so much wine was the customary tenure of the land, which formed part of the Babwell lands, appropriated by Abbot Hugh, “ad mensam et ad cameram abbatis.” [Hist. Thingoe Hund. 245.] The land is still held in trust for the purposes of the will, and the customary payment is annually made.

— l. 28. Euery poor man and woman in my almese horsyn . . . a ffrysed rosat gown. An inferior kind of woollen cloth, first made by the Frisons. Phillips. In 1599 the Bury St. Edmund’s Guildhall Feoffees paid “vs. for fryse to make the bedell a coate.”

— l. 7. Chirche revis. Churchwardens, Ang. Sax. gerefa, a steward; still retained in sheriff (shire-reve), dike-reve, &c.

— l. 31. In the orfwes. Orphreys, orfray, aufrigium, fringe, facing, or border, of gold tambour work. See Archæological Journal, i. 319.

P. 113, l. 19. John ALEN, on off the barons off the Exchequer. He was constituted fourth Baron of the Exchequer, 18 Feb. 1503-4, [Pat. 19 Hen. VII. p. 1, m. 29,] and his appointment was renewed on the accession of Henry VIII. 25 April, 1510. [Pat. 1 Hen. VIII. p. 2, m. 31.]

P. 114, l. 3. Richard Pynson, of London, prenter, and Frensheman. He acquired his knowledge of the art of printing from Caxton, and succeeded Wynkyn de Worde as the third royal printer. He printed several editions of the English translation of Boccaccio, by Lydgate the monke of Bury; and in 1499 an edition of the Promptorium Parvulorum, an East Anglian dictionary.

P. 114, l. 5. Nicholas Colyn, Frensheman, in Cambraygge. Query, a relative and agent of Colinaeus the Paris printer of Greek and Latin authors.

P. 115, l. 24. A Seynt Joh's hede of alabaster with Seynt Peter and Seynt Thomas and the figure of Cryst. This describes one of those alabaster carvings of the head of Saint John surrounded by figures of other saints, of which one specimen has been engraved in Stukeley's Palæographia Britannica, another in Schnebbelie's Antiquaries' Museum (also given in the History of Leicestershire, vol. iv. pl. lxx. and in Fosbroke's Encyclopedia of Antiquities), and two more in the Gentleman's Magazine for September, 1824. One of these last, which formerly belonged to Mr. John Carter, is in the possession of John Bowyer Nichols, esq. F.S.A. together with a second which has not been engraved, and which Mr. Nichols received from the late Sir S. R. Meyrick, in exchange for another carving which had belonged to Mr. Carter—it is thought also of the same character, but this is not certain. However, still another carving of this design is described in the Gentleman's Magazine for Oct. 1824, by T. A(dderley) of Great Surrey-street, which had belonged about 50 years before to the Rev. Mr. Wickham, of Horrington, in Somersetshire. In all of them the head of Saint John of a large proportionate size occupies the centre; it has been mistaken for the image of Edessa, for that of Saint Veronica, and for the first person of the Holy Trinity. The figure placed beneath appears to have been generally Christ rising from his tomb; who in the first example above mentioned (which belonged to Samuel Gale, esq.) is a naked figure seated, the hands tied with cords, and Stukeley thought it represented Saint John bound in prison. In the fourth example (now in the possession of Mr. Nichols,) and in that which belonged to Mr. Adderley, it is the Holy Lamb instead of the human figure of Christ. The saints on either side, figured at whole length, are, in every instance but one, the same as those described in the will here quoted, viz. Saint Peter and Saint Thomas of Canterbury: in Stukeley's specimen, the second is represented as Saint Paul (probably the draughtsman's misapprehension, from the crosier of Saint Thomas having been broken in the original,) and in the rear are placed Saint Katharine and Saint Helen. In the Rev. Edward Duke's specimen (Gent. Mag. ubi supra) the same figures in the rear also occur: Saint Katharine with her wheel, and Saint Helen bearing three nails of the cross. In Mr. Wells's carving (that engraved by Schnebbelie) is also Saint Katharine, and a fourth figure has been broken away. At the summit of the whole design was represented a soul conveyed to heaven by angels. Such is doubtless the true explanation of the constituent parts of these carvings, which have been much discussed and greatly misinterpreted: but the reason or meaning of their being put together in this particular way still remains to be discovered.—

— l. 25. A choche of red sarsenet and grene ffrennyd. The Glossary to "Wickliffe's Apology for the Lollards," has "chouche, a couch." (?)

— l. 30. A gret joynyd cheyre at the deyse in the halle. The raised platform at the upper end of the hall, whereon sat the host and his principal guests at festivals, was termed the dese; Fr. deis or daix. See Way's Prompt. Parv. p. 119.

P. 116, l. 1. Pelow beres. Cloths for laying over the pillow, sometimes of very rich material and work. In Chaucer's "Dreme" we have,

" And many a pillow, and every bere
Of cloth of Raynes, to slepe on softe."

In the Fastolfe Inventory, Arch. xxi. p. 27, "ix. berys for fetherbeddys" are erroneously explained to mean bedsteads.

— 1. 2. ij. kushshons, ij. with harts, and on of other worke. Cushions "of forest work" are mentioned in the will of Agnes Gippes, of Bury, widow, 1560 [Lib. Sunday, f. 357]; "with redde bucks," in that of Jane Holt, 1555 [Ib. f. 286]; "with the pyghtur of y^e unicorn," Thos. Mosse, 1531 [Lib. Holland, f. 3]; and "of tapessery werk with braunches," Eliz. Drury, 1475 [Lib. Hawlee, f. 219].

— 1. 15. A golde corse with beletts. The ornaments of the girdle were frequently of the richest description. Margaret Newhawe, of Bury, widow, in 1519, bequeathed "j. corse gyrdill of Venyse gold, herneysid with silver and parcell gilt. [Lib. Hood, f. 71.]

— 1. 23. A grett chest corvyn on the oute syde. Corvun or kutte, corvone, scissus, sculptus. Way's Prompt. Parv. 94.

P. 119, l. 15. A quern, iij. s. iiij. d. Quern, a handmill; Angl. Sax. cwyrn. Mustard querns occur in p. 220; and malt querns in the will of Thomas Astye, of Weston, 1557. [Lib. Dove, f. 305.] Alice Pehye, of Soham, 1525, directed his quern to be "common to euerie poore man when he hath neede and helpinge to the reparacyon of the same." [Lib. Brydone, f. 310.] The will of William Toly, "quernepykker," 1441, is in Lib. Osbern, f. 247.

P. 122, l. 7. For the dome peynted. A representation of the Doom, or Day of Judgment, a frequent subject on fresco in parish churches.

P. 126, l. 7. One new thrombyed hate. Probably a hat with very long nap resembling a hat of shaggy fur. They appear often in illuminations: "Thrumm of a clothe, filamen, villus, fractillus." [Prompt. Parv.] "Irto (Italian), thrommed, rough, heavie." [Thomas's Ital. Dict. 1548.] A "sylke thrommed hatt" occurs in the will of Elizabeth Bacon, of Hessett, 1570. [Lib. Aldrich, f. 40.]

— 1. 6. My valentyne Agnes Illyon, x s. John Aldham, of North Cove, in 1626 bequeathed "to my valentine old Mrs. Beere one ringe of goulde of xs." [Lib. Corner, f. 158.] It was customary to draw lots on St. Valentine's Eve for valentines. According to Bourne and Brand [Pop. Antiq. i. 31] "the names of a select number of one sex are, by an equal number of the other, put in some vessel; and after that, every one draws a name, which for the present is called their valentine, and is looked upon as a good omen of their being man and wife afterwards." The custom is alluded to by several of the early dramatists; and in the Autobiog. of Sir Simonds D'Ewes, ii. 162, is a letter from Mr. Wm. Boswell to Sir Wm. Waldegrave vindicating his pupil, Mr. Clopton, and himself, from a report arising from the custom that the former was married or contracted to one of

Dr. Duport's daughters. "About a quarter of a yeare since (he writes), Mr. Clopton was amongst other fellows and gentlemen of our [Jesus] collidge drawne by paper lotts to be valentine to one of Dr. Duport's daughters: which being tould unto Mr. Clopton he came presently and asked mee what he should doe. I resolved him as the other company did; which afterward giving gloves unto their valentine, wee also bought a paire costing 2s. 6d. and bestowed them upon her, which (God is my witness) was done without any such intent as the report falsely carrieth. Neyther did the gent^eleman or myself ever speake twice unto those daughters in our lives." It appears to have been a fruitful cause of slander. The Diary of Walter Yonge [p. 51] relates in 1621-22, that "it was reported that the King was married to Sir John Croste's daughter: which speech grew upon crossing of valentines as is reported."

P. 127, l. 22. My portygewe of gold. A gold coin worth three pounds ten shillings.

— 1. 25. My Kendall cote. Made of cloth for which Kendal in Westmerland was famous, usually of a green colour. Falstaff's "three misbegotten knaves in Kendal green" [Hen. IV. act ii. sc. iv.] will readily occur to the reader.

P. 128, l. 24. lyte brynning before the sacrement. The sacrament or consecrated wafer was reserved in a ciborium or pyx, suspended over the altar, before which was a lamp continually burning.

P. 129, l. 8. All my boks, excepte the play boks. Copies of some of the Moralities, or dramatic allegories, which hold the intermediate place between the Mysteries and the regular drama, at this time much used by the Romanists to satirise the Reformers. Three or four of these Moralities, written before 1550, are printed in Hawkins's Ancient Drama and Dodsley's Old Plays. See also Hallam's Literature of Europe, i. chap. viii.

P. 130, l. 3. The tramely yn the chemney. A moveable iron bar over the fire to hang pots on.

— 1. 11. My bowe and my shaftes. The will of John Fodryngey, of Bury, cook, 1513, mentions "a bowe of Ewe, oon of the best, and j. sheff arowys." [Lib. Mason, f. 27.]

P. 133. Barbara Mason, Prioress of Marham. Blomefield [Norfolk, vii. 392] says that Barbara Mason occurs as Abbess of Marham in 1511, and was the last abbess. At the Dissolution the following crime was laid to her charge: "Barbara Mason peperit semel et fatetur se cognitam a priore de Pentney."

P. 134, l. 9. The twylyt couerlyt. A quilted coverlet. A quilt is called a twilt in East Anglia, as well as in the North. Forby. Or it may be twilted, from a peculiarity in the number of threads either in warp or woof, bilix, double in one or other direction.

— 1. 21. A dyeper towell of vij yards longe. In 1512 John Brymley bequeathed to the church of Gazeley, in Suffolk, his "large dyaper towayle to hosyll the pepull w'all at Estern tyme" [Lib. Mason, f. 18.]; that is, to be used at the administration of the Sacrament. In a petition to King Edward the Sixth from the parishioners of Leominster, it is stated that there are in that town 2,000 husselling people—persons who received the Communion. The "holy housel called Christ's body and blood" occurs in Strype's Life of Abp. Parker, 238.

P. 135, l. 22. Curtanys of dornyks. A kind of stuff used for curtains, carpets, and hangings, so called from Doornyk, or Tournay, in Flanders, where it was first made. There was a celebrated manufactory of dornecks, hats, and coverlets at Pulham, in Norfolk. Agnes Herryes, widow, of Bury, 1560, bequeathed, "j couerlyght of Pulhamworke" to the church of St James, in that town, "to serue at the mynstratyon of the cōmunyon." [Lib. Sunday, f. 31.]

— 1. 26. The bowche of the letter in the botom. Boss, or projection, caused by stamping a letter on the outside of the bottom. Palsgrave has: "To booce or boce out, as workemen do a holowe thyng to make it seem more apparent to the eye, endocer. This broderer has boced this pece of worke very well."

— 1. 31. New pounced pece. In p. 116, l. 17, occurs "a powsyd basyn with a rose;" and in the will of John Helpston the elder, of Bury, grocer, 1502, "my best pownsyd peece." [Lib. Pye. f. 139.] Pounsonnez, indented or pricked with sharp pointed instruments, a method of ornamenting plate used by the Morescoes, or Moors in Spain, in patterns or shapes of flowers, but principally for letters. [Test. Vet. vol. I. xxxii.] See in Archæologia, xxix. p. 55, Mr. J. G. Nichols's detailed remarks on this term.

P. 136, l. 12. vj sylver sponys wyth knoppys on thende. An ornament of any kind at the end. "Knopped with the ymage of our Lady," occurs in the will of Anne Woode, of Bury, 1525. [Lib. Hood, f. 125.] A very favourite ornament on spoons of the age was the bud of a tree or flower, a bunch of leaves about to expand.

— 1. 19. Gyrdyll of golde callyd a dymysent. Demi-ceinte, probably a girdle ornamented only in front.

P. 142, l. 19. Gown of pewke. The same as puce, a sober brown colour.

— 1. 21. The Bybyll and the New Testament. Probably Coverdale's Bible, printed abroad in 1532, and the first English Bible which contained the New Testament.

P. 144, l. 7. My best coveringe of the Passion. The weaving of coverlids was a distinct trade. They were frequently bequeathed by ladies, to be used as altar carpets. Joan Drawswerd, of Bury, widow, in 1533, directed her "rede couerlyght to lye afore the high auter, at good tymes, and to do other thyngs necessary to be don therwith." [Lib. Holland, f. 11.] And in 1560, Agnes Herryes, widow, bequeathed to the church of St. James, in Bury, "j couerlyght of Pulhamworke and iij cuschines to serue at the mynstratyon of the cōmunyon." [Lib. Sunday, f. 31.]

— 1. 34. My thre great bolles with the cover. Ang. Sax. bolla, any round vessel, cup, pot, or bowl, whether with or without cover or foot.

P. 145, l. 3. My pomander of gold. Pomme d'aumbre, originally an apple of amber, but afterwards applied to balls of any perfume, and to the utensil in which perfumes were carried about the person. The "muske bal of gold" in p. 35 was a pomander. Cardinal Wolsey's pomander was an orange, with the substance taken out, and filled up with sponge and aromatic vinegar [see his Life by Cavendish]; and the balls resembling oranges which in old portraits and monumental effigies appear in the hands, attached to the wrists, or suspended from the girdle, are pomanders. A silver vessel, like an apple, filled with warm water, for the priest to warm his fingers during excessive cold, to prevent accidents in handling the chalice, was called a pomander. [Pugin's Eccl. Arch. 146.]

— 1. 34. Flat silver pece, with a collumbyne in the bottome. In the Fastolfe inventory [Archæologia, xxi. p. 27] are "iiij cuppes gilt, like founteyns, with j columbyne floure enameled in the myddes." The columbine was one of the badges of the House of Lancaster and Margaret of Anjou. Like the willow, it was a token of unfortunate love.

P. 146, l. 5. Mr. John Eyer, of Bury, esquier. At the dissolution of the Monastery of St. Edmund he became occupier of the abbatial palace; and, in 1560, in consideration of the sum of 412*l.* 19*s.* 4*d.*, obtained a grant under the great seal of all the site of the monastery, churchyard, &c [Yates's Bury, 245.]

— 1. 9. My good neighbour Thomas Cage. He was one of the churchwardens authorised by the parishioners of the two parishes in Bury St. Edmund's to dispose of the "superstitious church plate," 1 Edw. VI. The produce, says the "Description of Bury," edit. 1771, amounted to 480*l.*, "a great part of which one Mr. Cay sacrilegiously perverted to his own use—the fatal effects of which spoil his family and descendants are said to have had the sad experience of."

— 1. 11. My best velvet partlet. The loose collar of a doublet, to be set on or taken off by itself.

— 1. 18. Oon of my night railes. A gathered piece of cloth worn by women about the neck in their bed rooms. Angl. Sax. Nihtes-brægel, a night-gown.

P. 147, l. 11. A lockerom kercher. A "lockrome smoeke" occurs in the will of Rachell Aggas, of Melford, widow, 1644. [Lib. Meadows, f. 325.] In Beaumont and Fletcher's "Spanish Curate," "two hundred ells of lockram" are mentioned as being given annually "to poor maiden's marriages;" and in Shakspeare's "Coriolanus,"

———— "The kitchen malkin pins
Her richest lockram bout her reechy neck."

It was probably a coarser kind of linen.

P. 150, l. 17. Syxe hanginge basons of latton. The use of the hanging bason is shewn in the annexed representation of the interior of a German barber's shop, by Jost Amman; the use of which has been permitted by the Committee of the Bury and West Suffolk Archæological Institute; where a man, whose head has been shaved, appears kneeling on the second step of a piece of furniture resembling modern bed-steps, and holding his head over a large basin let in the top of it, while water trickles down upon it from a bason hanging by a hook to a peg projecting from the wall, and the barber rubs it with a cloth.

— 1. 27. ij. molver-stones with the runners. The stone which is held in the hand in grinding colours, &c. is called the muller; Fr. molleur.

P. 153, l. 6. A skillet panne. “Skillet, a small pot of iron or copper with a long handle.” Forby. Gage Rokewode explains the word by “vessels usually made of bell metal.” Hengrave, p. 36. Phillips has “Sceletta, a little bell for a church steeple, whence our vessels called skillets, usually made of bell metal.” New World of Words. The modern stewpan is called a skillet in East Anglia.

— 1. 12. xx. old shepe and x. hoggs. Sheep a year old, after the first shearing, are still called hogs and hoggets; N. Fr. hogetz. Forby.

P. 154, l. 1. My bodye to be brought to the erthe wythe out pomp or pryde. Particular requests touching the manner of burial are frequent. (See Index.) In 1425 William Calf, capellanus, directed his body to be buried "in linthiamino et non in cista." [Lib. Osborn, f. 177.] Thomas Brown, of Bury, shoemaker, 1535, directed his "body to be carryed vpwards in the strett, and not downwards, as my predecessors bathe ben born towards the churche befor me." [Lib. Hollond, f. 31.] Thomas Medowe, of Bury, scrivener, 1498, required his body to be "fette to chirche with v. preysts and with the iij. parysshe clerks." [Lib. Pye, f. 65.] In 1527 Thomas Chirche, of Bury, bell founder, directed 12*d.* to be given "to euary of the iij. priests that shall bere my body to chirche." [Lib. Hood, f. 154.] William Clovyer, of Chelsworth, 1541, charged his wife, "to brynge me vnto the herthe honestly accordyng to my value." [Lib. Poope, f. 236.] And Alice Cosyn, of Fornham, 1524, directed her "great hutche, a potte, and a panne, to be sold to bringe her to the yearthe." [Lib. Brydone, f. 202.]

P. 155, l. 4. Pack sadell withe a newe wante and wantyrop withe the best girt. Phillips has "wantey (country word), a sursingle, or large girth for a pack horse," and "sursingle, a long upper girth to come over a pad or saddle, especially such as are used by carriers to fasten their packs." Tusser, in his "Husbandry Furniture," enumerates "a pannell and wanty, packsaddle and ped." Raynbird [Agriculture of Suffolk] explains wanty by "womb tye."

— l. 5. A malyn lyne withe my woadfat coveryngs. A small line composed of two strands a little twisted, used for winding round rope cables, to prevent their being fretted by the blocks, is called a marline by our sailors; and a merlin in Spanish and merlini in Portuguese. Query woadfat coverings?

— l. 15. The skryne. Screen.

— l. 17. The shine and tyle in the howse or yarde. Shingle, or wood tiles, made of cleft oak, were formerly extensively used, but are now seldom seen except on timber spires of churches.

P. 156, l. 10. One black stered heckforde of the age of two yeres. A "black hewed hecfurth" occurs in the will of Thomas Hovell, of Burwell, husbandman, dated 1540. [Lib. Poope, f. 263.] And Forby mentions "heckforthes" as occurring in a Norfolk will of 1579. The Prompt. Parv. has hefkere, which is the modern pronunciation in Norfolk.

— l. 12. One payer of harden shetes. Made of coarse flax. The coarser parts separated in the dressing of flax or hemp from the tare or fine stuff, is called hards or hurds of flax. Ang. Sax. heordan, the refuse of tow.

— l. 22. One owlde kave stondyng in the buttrye. A large tub or vessel used in brewing is called a keeve in the West of England. [Jennings's Gloss.]

P. 166. Lady Anne Drury. Anne, daughter of Sir Nicholas Bacon, of Redgrave, eldest son of the Lord Keeper Bacon, and the first person advanced to the dignity of Baronet, was married to Sir Robert Drury, of Hawsted, knighted at the Siege of Rouen in 1591, M.P. for Suffolk, patron of the learned Dr. Donne, and the last male representative of the Hawsted branch of that ancient family. She was the mother of two daughters, who both died in her lifetime. Dorothy, who died an infant, and Elizabeth, traditionally said to have died from a box on the ear given to her by her father. Surviving her husband, she erected a monument, the work of Nicholas Stone, to his and his father's memory, in Hawsted church; and dying at Hardwick House, 5 June 1524, "was buried in Hawsted chancel the next evening, the register alone recording her death, though she had left a void space after her husband's epitaph for the insertion of her own." [Cullum's Hawsted, p. 147]. Sir John Cullum, who prints several wills of the Drury's from the Bury Registry, appears not to have seen this interesting will.

P. 166, l. 27. My nephew Robert Bacon. Eldest son of Sir Robert third baronet, in whose lifetime he died, 25 Aug. 1652.

— 1. 29. Sister Gawdie. Dorothy, second daughter of Sir Nicholas Bacon, first baronet, and wife of Sir Bassingbourn Gawdy, Knight. She afterwards married Philip Colby, esq.

— 1. 30. Sister Waldegrave. Jemima, third daughter of Sir Nicholas Bacon, first baronet, and wife of Sir William Waldegrave, Knight. She afterwards became wife to Henry Killigrew, esq.

P. 167, l. 10. Honorable Lord Burley. William Cecil, Lord Burghley, who succeeded as second Earl of Exeter in 1622, the year following the date of this will, and died in 1640. His "noble ladie" (l. 11) was Elizabeth sister of the last Sir Robert Drury of Hawsted.

— 1. 12. My dere sister Cecill, the furniture and plate of my chapel. Lady Anne Drury resided at Hardwick House, now the seat of the Cullums, during her widowhood, and in 1616 procured a renewal of the licence for a chapel there. "The place chosen for that purpose by this lady of fortune and rank was an absolute cellar; and puts one in mind of those caverns in which the primitive Christians are said to have sometimes performed their religious services for the sake of privacy." Two of her husband's sisters, married into the Cecill family: one, Elizabeth, wife of William, second Earl of Exeter; and Diana, her "dere sister," who was married to his younger brother, Sir Edward Cecill, afterwards Viscount Wimbleton. [Hist. Hawsted, 147.]

— 1. 14. To my sister Wraye . . . towards the fymishinge of Hawsted. This mansion, which had been begun to be rebuilt by the father of the husband of the testatrix, and was still unfinished, descended to his sister, wife of Sir William Wray, of Glentworth, co. Lincoln, Bart. whose son's widow, in 1656, sold the estate to Thomas Cullum, Esq, in whose representative, the Rev. Sir Thomas Gery Cullum, Bart., it is still vested. The little that remained of the house in 1827 was then pulled down. Interesting notices of the old mansion may be seen in Cullum's Hawsted and Gage's Hundred of Thingoe.

— 1. 21. Mr. Brabon. Richard Brabon was presented to the rectory of Whepstead, Suffolk, by Sir William Drury, knight, 10 Aug. 1589. [Hist. Thingoe, 401.]

P. 168, l. 3. Bowzer Giles. The testatrix's request that her brother Sir Edmond Bacon should take this person into his care and provide for him, appears to have been complied with. In the will of Sir Edmond, dated 1648 (p. 218), occurs "To Bowser Gyles one hundred pounds."

P. 170. Francis Pynner. One of the chief burgesses of Bury St. Edmund's and receiver of the Guildhall Feoffment Charity.

P. 172, l. 22. The late heavy visitacion. Two years before the date of this will, in 1637, the town of Bury St. Edmund's had suffered very severely from the plague. By a brief, dated Nov. 27, 1638, it appears that "almost all the chiefest inhabitants and tradesmen of Bury St. Edmund's being withdrawn into the country for fear of infection of the plague, yet they were 4,000 persons remaining unvisited, and 103 families shut up, 117 sick of sores and under cure at that time, besides 439 persons that had been cured, above 605 dead, and 263 families then infected, all of them to be maintained at y^e common charge of the said town, at the expense of above 200*l.* per week, and they had already disbursed above 2,000*l.* So they desired relief."

P. 179, l. 10. The feoffment is drawne to soe fewe a number. A new deed of feoffment was executed in the very year in which Pynner's will is dated.

— l. 23. The great loss and calamity of fire. In the year 1608 there was a great fire in the town of Bury St. Edmund's, thus recorded by Stow: "April 11, being Monday, the quarter sessions were held at St. Edmund's Bury, and by negligence an out malt-house was set on fire, from whence, in a most strange and sudden manner, through winds, the fire came to the farthest side of the town, and as it went left some streets and houses safe and untouched. The flame flew clean over many houses and did great spoil to many fair buildings farthest off, and ceased not till it had consumed in and near St. Andrew's Street one hundred and sixty dwelling houses, besides others; and in damage of wares and household stuff to the full value of 60,000*l.*" A rare black-letter tract published in the same year entitled, "The Woefull and Lamentable Wast and Spoile done by a suddaine fire in S. Edmonds-bury in Suffolke, on Monday, the tenth of Aprill, 1608," has been recently reprinted from a copy in the possession of Mr. W. S. Fitch, of Ipswich.

P. 180, l. 20. My inlaid playeing tables. In the will of Joan Stevens, of Bury, widow, 1459, occurs "vnum par de tablis cum chesemen & tabilmenys." [Lib. Hawlee, f. 65]; and in that of Margaret Cowbregge, widow, 1480, "j. tabyll with iij. levys of chekers werk." [Ib. f. 298.]

P. 183, l. 1. Mr. Edmund Calamy. The celebrated presbyterian divine. He resigned his lectureship at St. Mary's Church, Bury St. Edmund's, on the publication of Bp. Wren's Articles and the Book of Sports.

P. 185, l. 31. Table napkins, tare, of the best sort. Fine linen, the reverse of harden, explained in p. 260.

P. 186, l. 4. My beareing cloath. The fine mantle or cloth with which a child is usually covered when it is carried to the church to be baptised. Percy.

P. 189. Two cottages for the habitation of two poor widows. The almshouse consists of a cottage in two tenements, which are occupied by four poor widows, placed therein by the trustees; and the sum of 10s. a year, which is paid by the Rev. W. W. Poley, as proprietor of the tenement Penns, is employed in repairs of the cottage. It is not found practicable to select such poor widows as do not receive parochial relief. [Charity Comm. Report.]

P. 194. James Bacon, of Burygate, clerk. Son of Sir James Bacon, of Friston, knt. He died in 1649, and was interred in the chancel of the church of Burygate, of which he was rector.

P. 199, l. 25. My bookes of Mr. Perkins workes in three volumes. Mr. Perkins, preacher at St. Andrew's church, Cambridge, was a rigid Calvinist, suspended by Archbishop Whitgift for having declared his approbation of the Book of Discipline. He died in 1602, aged 44, and his works, collected and published in 1606, in three volumes folio, were in high repute among churchmen and dissenters. They have been printed in French, Dutch, Italian, and Spanish.

P. 200. Jasper Despotin, M.D. An Italian physician, converted from Romanism through intimacy with Bp. Bedell, then chaplain of the embassy at Venice. He accompanied Mr. Bedell to England, on his return, and was introduced by him into practice at Bury St. Edmund's. Of his professional skill, see Autobiography of Sir Simonds D'Ewes, ii. 123, 143.

P. 201, l. 34. Mr. Clegatt, minister of St. Maries parish in Bury St. Edmund's. Ejected for non-conformity, after holding the preachiership for eighteen years; and, dying Sept. 12, 1663, was buried in the chancel of that church.

P. 202, l. 9. Mr. William Bedle, of Rattlesden. Eldest son of Dr. William Bedell, the celebrated Bishop of Kilmore. He made his escape from Ireland during the persecutions under which his father sunk.

P. 208, l. 34. A silver beeker. Becher in German signifies a cup or goblet, as does beker in Dutch and Teutonic. Possibly we derived the vessel to which the name was originally given from Flanders or Germany. The word biker occurs as early as 1348. [Prompt. Parv. note, by Way.] Forby derives the word from Ang. Sax. bece, fagus, the ordinary drinking vessels being made of beech-wood.

P. 209, l. 4. Bandeileers. Little wooden cases covered with leather, containing the charge for a musket; of which every musketeer wore twelve hanging on his shoulder-belt.

P. 209, l. 7. "Synopsis Papismi: that is, a generall viewe of papistry: wherein the whole mysterie of iniquitie, and summe of anti-Christian doctrine, is set downe, which is maintained this day by the synagogue of Rome, against the Church of Christ, together with an antithesis of the true Christian faith, and an antidotum or counterpoysion out of the Scriptures, against the whore of Babylon's filthy cupp of abominations: deuided into three books or centuries; that is, so many hundreds of Popish heresies and errors. Collected by Andrew Willet, Bachelor of Divinity. London, 1592."

P. 210, l. 18. Sett out by dooles. Forby gives this word as still used in East Anglia for a boundary mark in an uninclosed field. It is very often a low post, thence called a dool-post. Ang. Sax. dœlan, dividere. See also Prompt. Parv.

P. 211. Sir Edmund Bacon, Bart. Second Baronet; grandson of the Lord Keeper Bacon; and brother of Lady Anne Drury, whose will is printed in p. 166. He married the Hon. Philippa Wotton, daughter and co-heir of Edward Lord Wotton of Marley; but, dying without issue on 10th April, 1649, was succeeded in the title by his brother Robert.

P. 213, l. 5. The tomb of my neece Elizabeth. The beautiful and accomplished daughter of the Lady Anne Drury, whose will is printed in p. 166. She died in 1610, at the early age of 15; and her monument in Hawsted church represents her, all in white, leaning on her elbow, an attitude which is believed to have originated the tradition of her death being caused by grief for a box on the ear by her father. Her epitaph is said by Sir John Culhum to have been written by Dr. Donne, who has also celebrated her memory in an elegy, in which these remarkable lines occur [Hist. Thingoe, p. 438]:

" Her pure and eloquent blood
Spoke in her cheeks, and so distinctly wrought,
That one might almost say her body thought."

P. 216, l. 7. Lady Wootton. Hesther, daughter and sole heir of Sir William Pucker-ing, of Oswald Kirk, co. York, and widow of Sir Edward Wotton, created Baron Wotton, of Marley, in 1603, and died 1628.

— 1. 13. Lady Howell, daughter to the Lord Thomas Wotton. Thomas Lord Wotton, son and heir of Edward 1st Baron, died in 1630. Dugdale does not give the name of Howell among the alliances of his daughters; but says that Anne married Sir Edward Hales, of Tunstall, Kent

— 1. 15. Lady Mentice. This is a misprint for Meutice. The lady was Anne, daughter of Sir Nathaniel Bacon, K.B. of Culford, co. Suff. by Jane, daughter of Hercules Meautys, and widow of Sir William Cornwallis. She was married first to her cousin Thomas Meautys, Clerk of the Privy Council (great-nephew to Hercules), and secondly to Sir Harbottle Grimston, 2nd Baronet, and died in 1680. [Clutterbuck's Hertfordshire, i. 93, 96.]

P. 216, l. 28. My brother Sir Butts Bacon, Bart. Of Mildenhall, co. Suff., third son of Sir Nicholas Bacon, first baronet; was himself created a baronet, 20 July, 1627. In 1755 his descendant Sir Richard, eighth baronet of Mildenhall, became seventh baronet of Redgrave, and united the honours of both branches of the family.

P. 217, l. 1. Mr. Henry Bacon. Only surviving son of Sir Butts Bacon, Bart. of Mildenhall, whom he succeeded in the title in 1661.

— l. 3. Mr. Payton Bacon. Third son of Sir Robert Bacon, third baronet, of Redgrave.

— l. 5. Mr. Butts Bacon. Elder brother of Mr. Payton Bacon, and father of Robert fifth baronet, who sold the Redgrave estate to Lord Chief Justice Holt.

— l. 6. Mr. Robert Bacon, of Riborowe. Afterwards third baronet of Redgrave.

— l. 7. My great limbacke. Alembic, a still.

— l. 8. Mr. Nicholas Bacon, of Gisingham. Afterwards created a baronet, being the third baronetcy in the family. This title became extinct at the death of his second son, Richard third baronet, of Gisingham, in 1685.

— l. 10. My Iseland cornelian with the antike figure in it. Antique cornelian intaglios were commonly used as private seals. One found a few years since near to the collegiate church of Stoke by Clare, has a device representing a genius about to present a head or mask to a little fawn, who is dancing before him. It bears on the silver setting the legend, "Jesvs: est: amor: mevs." It is conjectured to have been chosen by some members of the church of Stoke, which was dedicated to St. John the Baptist, from a supposed assimilation to the scriptural history of the delivery of the head of St. John to the daughter of Herodias. This curious seal is engraved in the Archæological Journal, iii. 76, and in the "Proceedings of the Bury Archæol. Institute," i. p. 53. Another remarkable instance is the conversion by the monks of Durham of a head of Jupiter Tonans into a "Caput Sancti Oswaldi Regis."

— l. 21. Mrs. Anne Butts, my grandmother. Wife of Edmund Butts, Esq. and mother of Anne lady of the first baronet. The effigy of this lady remains on brass in Redgrave church, Suffolk, with the following inscription around and at the foot of the figure:—

"Anne Bvttis, widdowe, changed this mortall life for an Imortall the 21 of December 1609. She was the daughter and coheyre of Henrye Bvres Esq^r, wife to Edmond Bvttis Esq^r, and mother to the Lady Anne Bacon wife of Sr Nicholas Bacon Knight, who was her only child.

"The weaker sexes strongest precedent

Lyes here belowe, seaven fayre yeares she spent

In wedlock sage; and since that merry age

Sixty-one yeares she lived a widdowe sage;

Hvmbly as great, as fyll of grace as elde,

A second Anna had she bvt beheld

Christ in his flesh, whom now she glorious sees,

Belowe that first in time not in degrees."

P. 217, l. 25. My damaske sword. Of Damascus steel, a very fine kind of steel, made more particularly at Damascus, remarkable for its excellent temper.

— 1. 26. Mr. John Craddocke, Minister of Barrow. He is called Ric. in the list of Rectors of Barrow in Gage's Hist. Thingoe, p. 17. He was rector from 26 Jun. 1608 to 1651.

P. 220, l. 11. Trundle bedstead. The trundle or truckle bedstead was that in which the attendant slept in the same chamber; and which was run under the "standing bed" when not used.

— 1. 19. My watered grogerin gowne, &c. A coarse thick taffety was called grogram.

— 1. 28. Musket rest. A staff the height of a man's shoulder, with a kind of fork of iron at the top to receive the musket, and a ferule at bottom to steady it in the ground.

P. 221, l. 1. A livery cupboard A store cupboard, whence things were livé or given out as wanted for use; or probably for the liveries, or meal served in the bedchamber temp. Eliz. after supper, which consisted of bread, beer, and spiced wine. A "carpet for the livery cubberd" occurs in the will of Elisabeth Coddington, of Ixworth, 1571. [Proceedings of Bury Arch. Instit. i. p. 120.]

— 1. 2. A keepe. A safe in which to keep meat from the flies in the summer season. Minshew.

P. 222. Robert Bacon, of Redgrave, Esq. Eldest son of Sir Robert Bacon, third baronet of Redgrave. He married Catharine, daughter of Grave Violet, Esq. of Pynkney House, co. Norfolk, and died in the lifetime of his father, 25 Aug. 1652, leaving issue Edmund, afterwards fourth baronet, and four daughters. In the will of his uncle Sir Edmund (p. 219) he is described as of Thornage.

P. 223, l. 8. My son-in-law George Reve, Esq. Of Thwaite, co. Suffolk. created a baronet in 1662-3. He married Philippa, one of the daughters of the testator. The lady erroneously assigned to him in Burke's Extinct Baronetage, Elizabeth, daughter and coheir of Sir Robert Crane, Bart. of Chilton, was married to Sir Edmund Bacon, Lady Reeve's brother.

P. 225. Two daughters Jemima and Frances. Jemima Bacon was married first to Thomas Gardiner, esq. and secondly to Sir John Brattel, knight; and Frances to Paul Bockenham, esq.

P. 227. Sir John Tracy, of Stifkey. Father of Catharine wife of Butts Bacon, esq. brother of the testator.

ERRATUM.—The history of Robert King of Sicily, referred to in p. 12, l. 8, and in notes p. 233, was the story of "Robert the Devil," a favorite morality of the Middle Ages. The play of "Robert kyng of Cicyle or Robert le Diable" was performed at Chester in 1529.

FOR THE PUBLICATION OF

EARLY HISTORICAL AND LITERARY REMAINS.

AT a General Meeting of the Camden Society held at the Freemasons' Tavern, Great Queen Street, Lincoln's Inn Fields, on Thursday, the 2nd of May, 1850,

THE LORD BRAYBROOKE, THE PRESIDENT, IN THE CHAIR,

THE President having opened the business of the Meeting,

The Secretary read the Report of the Council agreed upon at their meeting of the 17th of April, whereupon it was Resolved, That the Report of the Council be received and adopted, and that the Thanks of the Society be given to the Council for their services.

Resolved, That the Thanks of the Meeting be given to the Editors of the Society's publications for the past year, and to the Local Secretaries.

Resolved, That the Thanks of the Meeting be given to the Rev. Edward Ryder, for his kindness in permitting the Society to publish the Original Letters of Queen Elizabeth and King James; and that this expression of their thanks be accompanied by the wish, that he will add to the obligation he has conferred upon the Society, and the service he has already rendered to Historical Literature, by permitting the Council to make a further selection from the valuable historical documents in his possession.

The Secretary then read the Report of the Auditors, agreed upon at their Meeting of the 27th of April, whereupon it was Resolved, That the said Report be received and adopted, and that the Thanks of the Society be given to the Auditors for their services.

Thanks having been voted to the Treasurer, the Meeting proceeded to the election of a President and Council for the year next ensuing; when,

was elected PRESIDENT; and JOHN YONGE AKERMAN, Esq. Sec. S.A.

THOMAS AMYOT, Esq. F.R.S., F.S.A.

WILLIAM DURRANT COOPER, Esq. F.S.A.

BOLTON CORNEY, Esq. M.R.S.L.

Sir HENRY ELLIS, K.H., F.R.S., Sec. S.A.

The Rev. JOSEPH HUNTER, F.S.A.

PETER LEVESQUE, Esq. F.S.A.

Sir FREDERICK MADDEN, K.H.

FREDERIC OUVRY, Esq. F.S.A.

WILLIAM JOHN THOMS, Esq. F.S.A. and

were elected as the COUNCIL; and EDWARD FOSS, Esq. F.S.A.

WILLIAM RICHARD DRAKE, Esq. F.S.A. and

were elected Auditors of the Society for the ensuing year.

Thanks were then voted to the Secretary, and to the President, for the warm interest always taken by him in the proceedings of the Society, and for his kind and able conduct in the Chair.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS, 1850.

At a Meeting of the COUNCIL of the Camden Society held at No. 25, Parliament Street, Westminster, on Wednesday the 8th May, 1850, the Council having proceeded to the Election of Officers,—

THOMAS AMYOT, Esq. was elected Director; JOHN PAYNE COLLIER, Esq. Treasurer; and WILLIAM J. THOMS, Esq. Secretary, for the Year next ensuing.

REPORT OF THE COUNCIL
THE CAMDEN SOCIETY,
ELECTED 2nd MAY, 1849.

THE COUNCIL of the Camden Society, elected on the 2nd of May, 1849, while obliged to repeat the admission of their predecessors, that, in common with every other literary society of a similar nature, the Camden has suffered a diminution in its ranks from the operation of public causes, are happy to announce that the same feeling which led to the successful establishment of the Society still exists, and that, although the causes to which allusion has been made have led to a reduction of the Society's annual income, there remains every prospect of its continuing its course of usefulness for many years to come.

Acting upon this conviction, the Treasurer has invested a composition paid during the past year in lieu of future annual payments, by which means the sum standing in the name of the Trustees has been increased from £911 11s. to £921 18s.

The Council have added to the List of Local Secretaries the name of MAJOR PARKINSON, who has consented to undertake that office for Ystrad and South Wales; and, when they remember the number of gentlemen spread over the country who are now interested in historical and archæological studies, they cannot but believe that if Members resident in districts for which Local Secretaries have not yet been appointed could be induced to take upon themselves an office entailing little trouble, but capable of being rendered most serviceable to the Society, no difficulty would be experienced in supplying those vacancies in our ranks which have been produced by the progress of years and the operation of public causes.

The Council have to regret the deaths, during the past year, of—

ARTHUR BIGGS, Esq.

Rev. WILLIAM BLUNT, B.A.

Rev. THOMAS BYRTH, M.A., F.S.A.

The Very Reverend the DEAN OF HEREFORD, F.S.A.

The Rev. JOHN WILLIAM HUGHES, M.A.

The LORD BISHOP OF LLANDAFF, F.S.A.

EDWARD RALEIGH MORAN, Esq.

JOHN NOBLE, Esq. F.S.A.

ARTHUR PALMER, Esq.

LOUIS HAYES PETIT, Esq. F.R.S. and F.S.A.

T. POWELL POWELL, Esq.

Sir CUTHBERT SHARP, V.P.S.A. Newc.

JOHN STIRLING, Esq.

WILLIAM WORDSWORTH, Esq.

To this list must be added the names of Mr. J. STOCKDALE HARDY, F.S.A. for some years the active and efficient Local Secretary for Leicester, and Mr. THOMAS STAPLETON, late Vice-President of the Society of Antiquaries.

The interest which Mr. Stapleton always displayed in the welfare of the Camden Society, in the formation of which he took an early part, was manifested not only by the punctuality with which he attended the Meetings of the Council, of which he continued a Member until the close of the past year, but by the readiness with which he employed his stores of genealogical knowledge in editing for the Society the Plumpton Correspondence, the Liber de Antiquis Legibus, and the Peterborough Chronicle. He was busily engaged upon the last-mentioned work when seized with the fatal illness which eventually deprived the Society of an accomplished and zealous labourer, and the Council of a most respected and efficient colleague.

The Council have, during the past year, added the following works to the List of those proposed to be published by the Society :—

I. The Trevelyan Papers. A Selection of Family Papers illustrative of Irish History, from A.D. 1595 to the Restoration. To be edited by Sir W. C. TREVELYAN, Bart.

II. Privy Purse Expenses of Charles II. and James II. To be edited by J. Y. AKERMAN, Esq. Sec. S.A.

The books issued during the past year have been—

I. Chronicon Petroburgense. Nunc primum typis mandatum, curante THOMAS STAPLETON.

This work, commenced and nearly completed by the late Mr. Stapleton—for the editing of the Chronicle and the Appendix had been fully superintended by him—was rendered available by the exertions of Mr. Bruce, who, when Mr. Stapleton's labours were interrupted, kindly undertook, out of his personal respect to Mr. Stapleton, and his willingness on this as on many other occasions to do anything in his power for the service of the Camden Society, to complete the Introduction and Index.

To the same Gentleman the Society is indebted for editing the second book issued during the past year: viz.—

II. Inedited Letters of Queen Elizabeth, addressed to King James VI. of Scotland between the years 1581 and 1594. From the originals in the possession of the Rev. Edward Ryder of Oaksey, Wilts. Edited by JOHN BRUCE, Esq. Treas. S.A.

A work which has already been recognised as well calculated to throw great light on an eventful period in our national history, and, being chiefly founded upon documents preserved in private hands, it would probably have remained unpublished and unknown but for the existence of the Society, furnishing another instance of the benefit which this Institution has been the means of conferring upon our National Literature. The Meeting will probably think it right to testify their obligations to the Rev. Edward Ryder by a vote of thanks.

III. The Chronicle of Queen Jane, and of Two Years of Queen Mary, and especially of the rebellion of Sir Thomas Wyatt, written by a resident in the Tower of London. Edited, with Illustrative Documents and Notes, by JOHN GOUGH NICHOLS, Esq. F.S.A.

This work has been so recently completed that it is at present in the hands of but few of the Members. The Council believe that it will be found a work of great historical interest, and an interesting companion to the volume of Machyn's Diary; and that it has been edited with the same scrupulous care and fidelity for which that work is distinguished.

In closing this Report the Council would remind the Members that the Camden Society was the first to apply the great principle that "union is strength" to the production of works which although of great historical value do not possess sufficient popular interest to justify their publication in a merely commercial point of view. Its object is the dissemination of sound historical knowledge; and the Council feel that while this object is kept steadily in view and the funds of the Society are carefully administered in the manner best calculated to promote it, the Camden Society will never want the support of all who delight to investigate the social, political, or literary history of our fatherland.

By Order of the Council,

THOMAS AMYOT, Director.

WILLIAM J. THOMS, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE AUDITORS,

DATED APRIL 27, 1850.

WE, the Auditors appointed to audit the Accounts of the Camden Society, report to the Society, that the Treasurer has exhibited to us an account of the Receipts and Expenditure of the Society, from the 28th of April, 1849, to the 27th of April, 1850, and that we have examined the said accounts, with the vouchers relating thereto, and find the same to be correct and satisfactory.

REPORT OF THE AUDITORS, 1850.

And we, the Auditors, further state, that the Treasurer has reported to us, that and above the present balance of £127 2s. 1*d.* there are outstanding various subscriptions of Foreign Members, of Members resident at a distance from London, &c. which the Treasurer sees no reason to doubt will shortly be received.

On consideration of the great inconvenience attached to the present system of closing the annual Account at an indefinite day previous to the General Meeting, and the palpable advantage of adopting the termination of the year as the termination of the annual Account, we beg to recommend that for the future the annual Account shall be closed on the 31st of December in each year, and that a note of the fact shall be added to the Account of 1850, explaining the reason for the apparent diminution of receipts in that year.
